TRUMAN'S ANTI-INFLATION PLAN DRAWS FIRE OF KEY REPUBLICANS

Step Toward Dictatorship, Taft Declares

"Reaction," Cries Senator From Ohio

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) tonight denounced, as "a step toward a completely totalitarian nation," President Truman's proposal for a revival of partial wage, price and rationing controls.

Taft, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, took to the radio after Mr. Truman offered his proposals to Congress at an extraordinary session.

"Reaction," cried Taft of the President's price and wage suggestions. He said the President wants to "turn the clock backwards" and is advocating a return to the days of war, of the OPA, the War Labor Board and the War Production Board.

Of Mr. Truman's price-wage proposals, the Senator said:

"He wants price control against the producer, wage control against the working man, rationing against the housewife and the restaurant, every kind of control over the businessman.

Proposal "Not Progress"

"It means the setting up of a federal bureau with literally hundreds of thousands of employes, and agents prying into the daily lives of millions of people.

"We know this is what it would mean because we saw it happen here. Such a proposal is not progress, nor is it liberalism. It is reaction and a step to a completely totalitarian nation."

Noting that Mr. Truman had asked authority to institute a selective form of controls over items entering directly into the cost of living, Taft asked:

"Who is to determine what are vital commodities and whether they affect the cost of living? That definition alone includes 90 per cent of all commodities. No—the President is only trying to sugarcoat the pill. This is the OPA.

"This is the police state condemned by the President himself only a month ago.

"This is the end of economic freedom.

(Responding to questions at his news conference October 16, Mr. Truman said controls, including those over rents, represent police state methods even in wartime.

(He went on to say that such methods sometimes must be used in an emergency and that they are used in this country through the will of the people rather than that of one man.)

Offers Own Formula

Taft said that "police state" methods choke production "and what we want is more production to give people what they need at reasonable prices."

He said that under OPA, important items—he cited butter, meat, soap, canned goods, lumber, white shirts—disappeared from the market and that the same thing could happen all over again.

Taft held up England as an example of what could happen here and said:

"Surely with that example before us, we don't want to socialize and

Austerity Program Adopted By Canada

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 17 (AP) — Canada, fast running out of United States dollars, tonight adopted an austerity program under which it will restrict or prohibit imports ranging from fruit to motor cars, curtail pleasure travel and tax heavily a wide range of durable consumer goods made from United States materials.

The austerity program dating from midnight will seek to bridge part of the gap between approximately $2,000,000,000 worth of imports from United States and sales to that country of about $1,000,000,000.

U. S. Tariffs Are Dropped To Lowest Point In Years Under Geneva Agreement

Price Of Scotch, Canadian Whisky To Drop 30 Cents

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—The retail price of Scotch and Canadian whisky will drop about 30 cents a bottle after the new tariff rates go into effect January 1, an importers' spokesman reported tonight.

"You may be sure the whole saving will be passed on to the public," said Harry T. Lourie, executive vice president of the National Association of Beverage Importers, Inc.

The $1-a-gallon cut in the $2.50 tariff will mean about 20 cents a bottle, Lourie reported, and the rollback of distributors' and retailers' margins will add about 10 cents to the saving.

22 Other Nations Make Concessions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP) — Sweeping concessions in United States tariffs were announced tonight, affecting three-fourths of all imports and dropping the nation's tariff barrier to the lowest point in decades.

They take effect January 1, under the general trade and tariff agreement signed at Geneva, Switzerland, on October 30. Cuts and trade concessions by the 22 other Geneva nations are effective simultaneously or soon thereafter.

Tariffs on more than 3,500 American products were affected. The Trade Agreements Act of 1934 gives the administration authority to sign tariff-cutting pacts in return for concessions from other nations. Such pacts are not subject to congressional approval.

Slashes of 50 per cent — the limit allowed by Congress—were granted by the United States on the duties of a long list of important commodities including:

Copper, Lumber Tariffs Slashed

Copper, all softwood lumber, gasoline, Portland cement, wheat and wheat flour, beef, bauxite, quicklime, high quality furs, brandy, jute burlap, manganese ore, textile machinery, photo film and many steel products and electrical items.

The wool tariff, now at a protective 34-cents a pound rate, is cut by one-fourth to 25½ cents. Woolen and worsted fabrics, mainly from England, are reduced 25 per cent, but this country can boost rates again if the inflow exceeds five per cent of United States production.

Makers of Scotch and Canadian whiskey will benefit by a cut from $2.50 to $1.50 a gallon. Cuts of one-third to one-half apply on French, Italian and other wines.

The duty on Cuban sugar is cut from three-fourths cent to one-half cent a pound, while the higher rate on sugar from other countries is reduced almost in proportion.

Lie Releases Agreement

The agreement was released by Trygve Lie, Secretary General of the United Nations, and made public here in a State Department analysis.

The department called it an "unprecedented" document and the longest step in history toward mutual reduction of trade obstacles, both as to "the scope of its provisions and to the volume of trade which they affect."

Tariff concessions were granted by other countries on United States export commodities having an annual value of nearly $1,400,000,000, with England and Canada the chief contributors.

British "empire preferences" have been reduced "substantially," the State Department said, and foreign nations committed themselves to the removal of lowering of numerous other trade barriers—such as import quotas, internal taxes, state trading and difficult customs machinery.

Gen. Meyers Hid Firm Ownership, Probers Are Told

Ordered Airplane Part Price Raised

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. — (AP) — Bleriot H. Lamarre, who headed an aircraft parts plant he said was set up by Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers, testified today that Meyers ordered him to raise from $11 to $44.58 the price of fuse boxes it made under a military subcontract.

Lamarre, 35-year old president of Aviation Electric Company of Ohio, testified that as a result of this 1941 subcontract business, the company was able to pay—and did pay —$58,000 to Meyers.

He testified further, in the Senate War Investigating Committee's inquiries into the activities of Meyers as wartime deputy chief of Air Force purchasing:

1. That Meyers brought him and Mrs. Lamarre from California, where he was making $35 a week, and "elected" him president of Aviation Electric by writing minutes of a meeting that was never held.

2. That he was installed as president with a $31,000 salary, of which $28,000 was "kicked back" to Meyers.

Took Name Off Records

3. That Meyers put up all the money to organize that firm in 1939 but that in 1943 directed that his name be stricken from company records. "I had gained the impression from him that in his position in the Army he could not afford to be connected with any company," Lamarre said.

It has been brought out in the hearings that federal laws provide penalties of up to two years imprisonment for government purchasing officials convicted of dealing with firms in which they are financially interested.

Meyers, not on the witness stand today, told reporters that he never got anything from the company beyond what he had invested in it and had advanced to meet early expenses. He also said Lamarre had borrowed money from him and paid it back.

Meyers said further that he had "initially organized the company for the Lamarres." Mrs. Lamarre had been Meyers' secretary at Wright Field, Ohio.

Estimate "Upset" Meyers

William Rogers, counsel for the investigating committee, developed that all but a few thousands of dollars of the $164,327 business done by Aviation Electric in 1941 came from a subcontract arrangement with Bell Aircraft.

The committee heard testimony last week from Lawrence D. Bell of Bell Aircraft that he sent $1,035,000 worth of business to Aviation Electric after Meyers had sug-

Youth Is Accused Of Girl's Slaying

MASON CITY, Ia., Nov. 17—(AP)—Two days after their intended wedding day, Charles Ver Helst, 18-year-old high school senior, was accused today of his pregnant young sweetheart's slaying.

Pretty Arlene Mott, 16, daughter of a cement plant worker, was found dead Thursday night in an alley behind her house. The body lay alongside Ver Helst's car in which she and the farm youth dated and ate their school lunches while listening to the car radio.

At the same time that Ver Helst was arraigned on a murder charge and released in $10,000 bail pending a preliminary hearing next Monday, Coroner R. E. Smiley released an autopsy report saying Arlene was in the fourth month of pregnancy. It said further that death was caused by strangulation.

Ver Helst told authorities he was not responsible for her condition.

The husky six foot one inch youth was not required to enter a plea to the county attorney's information presented to Police Judge R. B. Dunn. When County Attorney James R. Brown offered no evidence at the hearing, Judge Dunn declined to hold Ver Helst without bail, saying Iowa law requires the fixing of bond unless a strong presumption of guilt is established by evidence.

When Ver Helst staggered into the Mott home Thursday night and told Arlene's brother Le Roy to go to the alley and "see Arlene," he said he had been hit on the head by an unknown assailant. Since then he had been held in custody for questioning.

ATHENS, Nov. 17—(AP)—Foreign Minister Constantin Tsaldaris told the Greek Parliament tonight the United States had agreed to send officers to co-operate with Greek military forces in their fight against leftist guerrillas.

Martin Hints Program Has Little Chance

President Asking For "Colossal OPA"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) said tonight President Truman apparently is "asking for a more colossal OPA," and indicated the proposed economic control program has little chance for enactment at the special session.

Martin made the statement to reporters after conferring with a group of leading House Republicans on the President's personal appeal for authority to apply "selective" rationing and other controls to curb inflation .

Martin said:

"The President, having had service in the Senate, certainly should know he couldn't get enacted in both houses measures of this magnitude, and as controversial, in the space of time of the special session."

No Disposition To Hurry

"There will be no disposition to hurry anything," the Speaker added. "These are grave questions, and there will be no disposition on my part to curb debate."

Those who conferred with Martin in his office included Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich), of the House Banking Committee, which has jurisdiction over legislation affecting the nation's economy.

Also attending were House Republican Leader Halleck, of Indiana; Rep. Herter (R-Mass), who headed the committee that made a special study of foreign aid; Rep. Jenkins (R-Ohio), and Rep. Kunkel (R-Penna).

Many Senate and House Republicans raised the cry of "regimentation" tonight against Mr. Truman's bid for new controls.

Congressional Democrats reacted variously to the Presiden's address. Sen. McGrath (D-RI), chairman of the Democratic National Committee, described it as a clear cut expression of the majority will while Sen. Thomas (D-Okla) declared:

"It will be very difficult to get his recommendations on domestic economy through Congress because people fear if they go back to regimentation in time of peace a permanent program might develop."

Say Truman Reverses Position

Several Republican legislators said the President, in calling for extension of controls, had abruptly reversed his own position.

"Only two weeks ago," said Sen. Jenner (D-Ind), "the President asserted that the return to price control would be the act of a police state. Today he asks for that police state X X X X"

(Mr. Truman, questioned by reporters at a news conference October 16, said controls, including those over rents, represent police state methods even in wartime.

(He added that such methods must sometimes be used in an emergency and said they are used in this country through the will of the people rather than that of one man.)

Congressional reaction to the President's foreign aid proposals was considered more favorable.

Spaatz Reports Russia Has Reproduced B-29

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP) — Gen. Carl Spaatz said today the Russians apparently have succeeded in building reproductions of the B-29 bomber.

Spaatz, chief of the Army Air Force, suggested designs had been obtained from the wreckage of American Superfortresses which crash-landed in Eastern Siberia during the war.

Rape-Slaying Suspects Heed Appeal, Surrender

Three Arrested After "Milking" Friendship Train

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 17 (INS) — The Friendship Train was robbed in Utica this afternoon when it made a brief stop in the western section of the city.

Three men accused of boarding it and taking six cases of evaported milk were held by police.

They are James Carroll, 42, Utica; Leonard McGill, 38, Red Bank, N. J., and James McManiman, 47, Chicago.

Kept Armed Posse At Bay 12 Hours

NEILLSVILLE, Wis., Nov. 17—(AP) —Two young ex-convicts, who for 12 hours had kept at bay an armed posse seeking them in the rape of a coed and the cold-blooded slaying of her brother-in-law, surrendered meekly late today. Their hostages, a farmer, his wife and two sons, were unharmed.

With their hands in the air, the pair walked out of a barn in the heavily-wooded area of North-Central Wisconsin and surrendered.

Sheriff Ray Kutsche said the youths had "freely admitted' in oral statements both the rape and the slaying.

The youths are Robert Winslow, 23, Owen, and Buford Sennett, 22, Richland Center, both former state reformatory inmates who served additional time for escapes. They had threatened to "shoot it out".

They were identified from photographs by Miss Janet Ann Rosenblatt, 19, Cleveland Heights, O., a University of Michigan coed, as the men who had killed her brother-in-law, Carl L. Carlson, 25, then raped her during a wild automobile ride Friday night.

Federal Warrants Filed

Federal warrants, charging transportation of a stolen car across a state line, have been filed against the two.

Credit for the surrender went to Dist. Atty. L. P. Lownik, of Richland County, Sennett's home.

Howard Meier, a reporter for the Chippewa Falls Herald-Telegram, said Lownik appealed to Sennett over a loud-speaker equipped truck, telling him his mother wanted him to give up.

A few minutes later, Meier said, Sennett appeared in the doorway of a barn in the small clearing sheltering the farm:

He was followed at about 100 paces by Winslow. Both men were haggard. They were unarmed.

Meier said the Pomputis family, their only weapon was a .32 caliber revolver they had tossed into the haymow after deciding to come out.

Permitted To Run Errand

Meier said the two Pomputis sons had been freed by the pair, who did not know the clearing was surrounded, "to go into Neillsville to get some paint." They were passed through the posse lines, Meier added, and permitted to run the errand.

Tony Pomputis said authorities permitted him and his brother free access to the premises in an attempt to lull the two wanted men into a false sense of security.

Information as to the men's presence was given Lorris Dusso, county traffic officer, and Conservation Warden Al Clumpner, who had stopped at the farm on a routine check. The officers drove away to summon the sheriff and Tony returned to the bunkhouse and told the men nothing had happened.

U.N. Group Okays Palestine Plan

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 17—(AP)—A United Nations subcommittee tonight approved major points of a plan for enforcement of the proposed partition of the Holy Land into independent Jewish and Arab nations.

Poland, Iceland, Norway, Uruguay and Guatemala were named to a special United Nations commission to administer Palestine during a transition period between the end of the British mandate and the independence date.

The decision still is subject to approval by the 57-nation Palestine Committee and the full Assembly and also hinges on acceptance of the principle of partition.

The enforcement plan, worked out by the United States, Russia, Canada and Guatemala, would provide independence for the two new countries by not later than October 1, 1948.

The speedup in the subcommittee opened the possibility of a final decision on the Holy Land within a week.

Storms Delay Liner

LONDON, Nov. 17—(AP)—The liner Queen Mary, homeward bound with 1,525 passengers from New York, is due to dock at Southhampton tomorrow 12 hours late because of Atlantic storms.

Md. Senatorial Election Probers To Have Report Ready Before January 1

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP) — A Senate subcommittee reviewing Maryland's contested 1946 senatorial election will finish its work and have a final report ready for action by the Senate next January, Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) said today.

Jenner, chairman of the Senate Rules Subcommittee on Elections, told reporters after a subcommittee meeting today that his group tomorrow would begin a final review of 20,000 to 25,000 ballots still in dispute.

D. John Markey, a Republican, is contesting the election of Sen. O'Conor, a Democrat, who won by an official state margin of 2,232 votes out of a total of 472,000. Markey charged errors and irregularities.

Jenner said he and other members of the subcommittee—Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) and Myers (D-Pa)—would "go over each ballot" in the final review and estimated this would take a "solid week" of work.

The recheck actually will take longer than a week, he said, because members will not be able to devote all their time to this task.

Once the disputed ballots are ruled on, he said, the committee will check into charges of election "irregularities" and make its report to the full Rules Committee, which, in turn, sends its recommendations to the Senate.

Jenner said it was "not likely" that the contest would be considered by the Senate during the special session. "We don't know what the tempo will be," he said.

"But," he added, "our final report will be in before the regular session starts" next January.

The 20,000 to 25,000 ballots still in dispute are the residue of a total of 190,000 votes cast in 17 counties in which a recount was conducted. Attorneys for O'Conor and Markey were able to agree on all but these.

This is in addition to 6,500 disputed ballots from five other counties which Jenner's subcommittee previously has ruled on.

Necklace Of Pea-Sized Diamonds Is Among Gifts To Princess Elizabeth

LONDON, Nov. 17 (AP)—Kings, queens and nobles danced tonight in Buckingham Palace after Princess Elizabeth received guests at a showing of her wedding gifts—a collection court circles said was unsurpassed in the history of modern royal romances in Britain.

And still more presents are arriving. From rare jewels to linen handkerchiefs, people of high and humble station have sent Britain's heiress-apparent enough gifts to stock a small department store. No responsible authority would even venture to place a value on them.

Included was a necklace of pea-sized diamonds and rubies, a gift o King George VI and Queen Elizabeth to their daughter for her marriage Thursday to Lt. Philip Mountbatten. The King and Queen also gave her two strings of pearls the size of small grapes. The jewels were from the personal collection of the royal family.

Tonight the bride's parents threw as much of a feast as their realm's tight rationing laws permit to entertain foreign royalty here for the ceremony in Westminister Abbey.

The select dinner-dance, attended by only 150 guests, climaxed an exciting day for the bride-to-be. Earlier she received visiting dignitaries and went to one of the largest indoor royal parties since the war. That was held in St. Jams's Palace where the Princess, flushed and smiling, thanked some 2,000 persons whose gifts had heaped five rooms of the ancient structure. "They're very lovely," she said again and again.

FIVE PERISH IN ARKANSAS PLANE CRASH

HAVANA, Ark., Nov. 17 (AP)—A B-29 Superfortress crashed into Mt. Magazine about five miles northwest of this small Yell County community during a driving downpour tonight, killing all five crew members.

Papers in a billfold on one of the bodies found near the wreckage indicated that the plane's personnel included two officers and three enlisted men enroute to Michigan on transfer from Barksdale Field, La.

The bodies were mangled and three of them were badly charred making immedate identification impossible.

Barksdale Field headquarters said it had an "unconfirmed report" that the plane was from that field and was checking.

De Gaulle's RPF Assumes Control Of Paris Council

Communists Assail U. S., Leave Chamber

PARIS, Nov. 17 (AP) — Gen Charles De Gaulle's Rally of the French People (RPF) assumed control of the Paris municipal government tonight during a stormy City Council session punctuated by Communist denunciations of the United States.

Meanwhile, Paul Reynaud worked to establish a new French national regime strong enough to resist opposition from both the Communists and the DeGaullists. Both developments came as spreading unrest gripped large sections of France.

General's Brother Wins

Pierre De Gaulle, the General's brother, was elected president of the Paris City Council—a post corresponding to the office of mayor—shortly before 25 Communist members walked out of the chamber amid catcalls and boos.

Interrupted by crys of "back to Moscow," Communist Leader Raymond Bousses said members of his party would not sit in the same council with "Vichyites, collaborators" and "apprentice dictators."

He declared that the Socialists as well as the De Gaullists represented the United States in a campaign to "enslave the world" and claimed:

"American automobiles, American furniture, American literature and American clothes are corrupting the French people."

Communists Walk Out

(Only the Communists among France's political parties are opposing the nation's participation in United States Secretary of State Marshall's plan for European reconstruction).

Bousses finished his statement and led his cohorts from the room. After a brief suspension the council meeting was resumed without the Communists and other officers were elected.

In voting for the presidency, Pierre De Gaulle received 51 votes, Bousses 25 and Socialist Candidate R. Gevauden 8. The five Popular Republican Movement (MRP) members abstained.

Hollywood Contempt Citations Are Upheld

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP) — The House Un-American Activities Committee unanimously upheld today a subcommittee recommendation for contempt citations against 10 witnesses in the recent investigation of Communism in Hollywood.

The citations will be called up in the House next Monday.

Seven of the eight committee members were present, the absentee being Rep. Wood (D-Ga.).

Th 10 men cited, all writers, directors or producers, are Alvah Bessie, Herbert Biberman, Lester Cole, Edward Dmytryk, Ring Lardner, Jr., John Howard Lawson, Albert Maltz, Dalton Trumbo, Samuel Ornitz and Adrian Scott.

Negro Versus University Case To Be Argued Friday

BALTIMORE, Nov. 18—(AP)—The right of the University of South Carolina to deny a negro admission to its law school despite his contention that no comparable legal training is available to him elsewhere in the state will be argued Friday before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

The university, through Attorney General John M. Daniel, of South Carolina, is appealing a decision that 25-year-old John W. Wrighten, Charleston, must either be accepted by the university or given equal opportunity in his law study elsewhere.

President Asks Pay, Rationing, Price Controls

Would Use Powers Only If Necessary

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP) — President Truman called on Congress today for authority to revive partial wage, price and rationing controls as "insurance" against the "catastrophe" of ruinous inflation.

And tonight he had a battle on his hands.

Key Republicans and at least one Democrat, Sen. Elmer Thomas, of Oklahoma, said Mr. Truman's 10-point program means "regimentation."

Also among the "drastic measures" Mr. Truman asked for the war against climbing living costs were tighter rent controls and power to curb installment buying again.

These and half a dozen others should get by without too much trouble, Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) predicted to newsmen. But he shook his head over price, rationing and wage controls as highly controversial.

But Mr. Truman made it plain he wants his whole program enacted. The people, he said, want protection against inflation, they are entitled to it, and should not be "misled with half measures."

"If we fail to prepare and disaster results," he said, "x x x we shall have gambled with our national safety—and lost."

Mr. Truman said the powers he wants would be used only if voluntary action fails to meet the menace of inflation, and the government will intensify efforts to obtain voluntary action.

"Selective" Rationing

In case controls like those in wartime had to be restored, the President proposed consumer rationing of scarce products which basically affect living costs. He said rationing should operate on a "highly selective" rather than a blanket basis.

He said price ceilings should be applied—if they have to be used—to scarce goods important to living costs and industrial output. He said wage ceilings should be imposed wherever necessary to protect price ceilings.

While the President did not mention specifically the possibility of putting price lids on things consumers buy, a White House official said he had that in mind as one of his "last resort" measures.

With his plan for combatting inflation at home, the President coupled another administration bid for $597,000,000 to aid France, Italy and Austria this winter.

In an obvious jab at Russia, he said this country will not let "criticisms so loudly expressed" halt its foreign program.

He laid all his proposals in person before the full Senate and House 90 minutes after Congress assembled in special sesion to tackle the inter-twined isues of foreign aid and domestic inflation.

Among Republicans and Democrats alike there appeared to be general agreement that aid to Europe is necessary and that speed is in order.

The varying reactions made one

Rumor Is Denied; No Ration Books Being Prepared

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—The government is not printing ration books, A. E. Giegengack, the public printer, said again tonight.

He was denying a rumor that pops up from time to time. Giegengack added that there is no authority or appropriation existing to print them, or to the job out.

He estimated that it would take three months to get started, if authority were granted.

Sex-Crazed Talented Musician, 28, Is Shot To Death By His Mother

AURORA, Ill., Nov. 17 (AP)—A sex-crazed talented musician was shot to death today by his mother because, she said, she feared he would try to force upon some other woman the improper advances he made upon her.

Growing hysterical by the tragedy that struck her home while her elderly mother slept, Mrs. Velma Reid, 50, an accountant, was taken to the county jail in Geneva where she was held without charge. An inquest was arranged for Wednesday.

Police Capt. Anthony Wegmann said the woman, a widow, had made three statements giving this account of the killing:

Her son, Louis 28, showed unusual musical talent as a boy and was considered a child prodigy of the piano by his teachers. As he grew to manhood he became victim to strong physical urges that prompted his commitment to the Elgin State Hospital in 1939 as a sufferer of dementia praecox.

Most of the intervening years Louis spent in mental institutions. Yesterday Mrs. Reid went to the Chicago State Hospital and obtained his release so that he could be home with her mother, Mrs. Sally Nedlow, 79, for the Thanksgiving holiday.

During the night the son stole into his mother's bedroom. She was aghast at his proposals, arose and turned to quiet him. They quarreled. Finally he announced he was "going downtown to find someone else."

The mother seibzed a .38 caliber

Step Toward Dictatorship, Taft Declares

"Reaction," Cries Senator From Ohio

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) tonight denounced, as "a step toward a completely totalitarian nation," President Truman's proposal for a revival of partial wage, price and rationing controls.

Taft, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, took to the radio after Mr. Truman offered his proposals to Congress at an extraordinary session.

"Reaction," cried Taft of the President's price and wage suggestions. He said the President wants to "turn the clock backwards" and is advocating a return to the days of war, of the OPA, the War Labor Board and the War Production Board.

Of Mr. Truman's price-wage proposals, the Senator said:

"He wants price control against the producer, wage control against the working man, rationing against the housewife and the restaurant, every kind of control over the businessman.

Proposal "Not Progress"

"It means the setting up of a federal bureau with literally hundreds of thousands of employes, and agents prying into the daily lives of millions of people.

"We know this is what it would mean because we saw it happen here. Such a proposal is not progress, nor is it liberalism. It is reaction and a step to a completely totalitarian nation."

Noting that Mr. Truman had asked authority to institute a selective form of controls over items entering directly into the cost of living, Taft asked:

"Who is to determine what are vital commodities and whether they affect the cost of living? That definition alone includes 90 per cent of all commodities. No—the President is only trying to sugarcoat the pill. This is the OPA.

Taft said that "police state" methods choke production "and what we want is more production to give people what they need at reasonable prices."

He said that under OPA, important items—he cited butter, meat, soap, canned goods, lumber, white shirts—disappeared from the market and that the same thing could happen all over again.

Austerity Program Adopted By Canada

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 17 (AP) — Canada, fast running out of United States dollars, tonight adopted an austerity program under which it will restrict or prohibit imports ranging from fruit to motor cars, curtail pleasure travel and tax heavily a wide range of durable consumer goods made from United States materials.

The austerity program dating from midnight will seek to bridge part of the gap between approximately $2,000,000,000 worth of imports from United States and sales to that country of about $1,000,000,000.

U. S. Tariffs Are Dropped To Lowest Point In Years Under Geneva Agreement

Price Of Scotch, Canadian Whisky To Drop 30 Cents

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—The retail price of Scotch and Canadian whisky will drop about 30 cents a bottle after the new tariff rates go into effect January 1, an importers' spokesman reported tonight.

"You may be sure the whole saving will be passed on to the public," said Harry T. Lourie, executive vice president of the National Association of Beverage Importers, Inc.

The $1-a-gallon cut in the $2.50 tariff will mean about 20 cents a bottle, Lourie reported, and the rollback of distributors' and retailers' margins will add about 10 cents to the saving.

22 Other Nations Make Concessions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP) — Sweeping concessions in United States tariffs were announced tonight, affecting three-fourths of all imports and dropping the nation's tariff barrier to the lowest point in decades.

They take effect January 1, under the general trade and tariff agreement signed at Geneva, Switzerland, on October 30. Cuts and trade concessions by the 22 other Geneva nations are effective simultaneously or soon thereafter.

Tariffs on more than 3,500 American products were affected. The Trade Agreements Act of 1934 gives the administration authority to sign tariff-cutting pacts in return for concessions from other nations. Such pacts are not subject to congressional approval.

Slashes of 50 per cent — the limit allowed by Congress—were granted by the United States on the duties of a long list of important commodities including:

Copper, Lumber Tariffs Slashed

Copper, all softwood lumber, gasoline, Portland cement, wheat and wheat flour, beef, bauxite, quicklime, high quality furs, brandy, jute burlap, manganese ore, textile machinery, photo film and many steel products and electrical items.

The wool tariff, now at a protective 34-cents a pound rate, is cut by one-fourth to 25½ cents. Woolen and worsted fabrics, mainly from England, are reduced 25 per cent, but this country can boost rates again if the inflow exceeds five per cent of United States production.

Makers of Scotch and Canadian whiskey will benefit by a cut from $2.50 to $1.50 a gallon. Cuts of one-third to one-half apply on French, Italian and other wines.

The duty on Cuban sugar is cut from three-fourths cent to one-half cent a pound, while the higher rate on sugar from other countries is reduced almost in proportion.

Lie Releases Agreement

The agreement was released by Trygve Lie, Secretary General of the United Nations, and made public here in a State Department analysis.

The department called it an "unprecedented" document and the longest step in history toward mutual reduction of trade obstacles, both as to "the scope of its provisions and to the volume of trade which they affect."

Tariff concessions were granted by other countries on United States export commodities having an annual value of nearly $1,400,000,000, with England and Canada the chief contributors.

British "empire preferences" have been reduced "substantially," the State Department said, and foreign nations committed themselves to the removal of lowering of numerous other trade barriers—such as import quotas, internal taxes, state trading and difficult customs machinery.

Gen. Meyers Hid Firm Ownership, Probers Are Told

Ordered Airplane Part Price Raised

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Bleriot H. Lamarre, who headed an aircraft parts plant he said was set up by Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers, testified today that Meyers ordered him to raise from $11 to $44.58 the price of fuse boxes it made under a military subcontract.

Lamarre, 35-year old president of Aviation Electric Company of Ohio, testified that as a result of this 1941 subcontract business, the company was able to pay—and did pay—$58,000 to Meyers.

He testified further, in the Senate War Investigating Committee's inquiries into the activities of Meyers as wartime deputy chief of Air Force purchasing:

1. That Meyers brought him and Mrs. Lamarre from California, where he was making $35 a week, and "elected" him president of Aviation Electric by writing minutes of a meeting that was never held.

2. That he was installed as president with a $31,000 salary, of which $28,000 was "kicked back" to Meyers.

Took Name Off Records

3. That Meyers put up all the money to organize that firm in 1939 but that in 1943 directed that his name be stricken from company records. "I had gained the impression from him that in his position in the Army he could not afford to be connected with any company," Lamarre said.

It has been brought out in the hearings that federal laws provide penalties of up to two years imprisonment for government purchasing officials convicted of dealing with firms in which they are financially interested.

Meyers, not on the witness stand today, told reporters that he never got anything from the company beyond what he had invested in it and had advanced to meet early expenses. He also said Lamarre had borrowed money from him and paid it back.

Meyers said further that he had "initially organized the company for the Lamarres." Mrs. Lamarre had been Meyers' secretary at Wright Field, Ohio.

Estimate "Upset" Meyers

William Rogers, counsel for the investigating committee, developed that all but a few thousands of dollars of the $164,327 business done by Aviation Electric in 1941 came from a subcontract arrangement with Bell Aircraft.

The committee heard testimony last week from Lawrence D. Bell of Bell Aircraft that he sent $1,035,000 worth of business to Aviation Electric after Meyers had sug-

Youth Is Accused Of Girl's Slaying

MASON CITY, Ia., Nov. 17—(AP)—Two days after their intended wedding day, Charles Ver Helst, 18-year-old high school senior, was accused today of his pregnant young sweetheart's slaying.

Pretty Arlene Mott, 16, daughter of a cement plant worker, was found dead Thursday night in an alley behind her house. The body lay alongside Ver Helst's car in which she and the farm youth dated and ate their school lunches while listening to the car radio.

At the same time that Ver Helst was arraigned on a murder charge and released in $10,000 bail pending a preliminary hearing next Monday, Coroner R. E. Smiley released an autopsy report saying Arlene was in the fourth month of pregnancy. It said further that death was caused by strangulation.

Ver Helst told authorities he was not responsible for her condition.

The husky six foot one inch youth was not required to enter a plea to the county attorney's information presented to Police Judge R. B. Dunn. When County Attorney James R. Brown offered no evidence at the hearing, Judge Dunn declined to hold Ver Helst without bail, saying Iowa law requires the fixing of bond unless a strong presumption of guilt is established by evidence.

When Ver Helst staggered into the Mott home Thursday night and told Arlene's brother Le Roy to go to the alley and "see Arlene," he said he had been hit on the head by an unknown assailant. Since then he had been held in custody for questioning.

Martin Hints Program Has Little Chance

President Asking For "Colossal OPA"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) said tonight President Truman apparently is "asking for a more colossal OPA," and indicated the proposed economic control program has little chance for enactment at the special session.

Martin made the statement to reporters after conferring with a group of leading House Republicans on the President's personal appeal for authority to apply "selective" rationing and other controls to curb inflation.

Martin said:

"The President, having had service in the Senate, certainly should know he couldn't get enacted in both houses measures of this magnitude, and as controversial, in the space of time of the special session."

No Disposition To Hurry

"There will be no disposition to hurry anything," the Speaker added. "These are grave questions, and there will be no disposition on my part to curb debate."

Those who conferred with Martin in his office included Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich), of the House Banking Committee, which has jurisdiction over legislation affecting the nation's economy.

Also attending were House Republican Leader Halleck, of Indiana; Rep. Herter (R-Mass), who headed the committee that made a special study of foreign aid; Rep. Jenkins (R-Ohio), and Rep. Kunkel (R-Penna).

Many Senate and House Republicans raised the cry of "regimentation" tonight against Mr. Truman's bid for new controls.

Congressional Democrats reacted variously to the Presiden's address. Sen. McGrath (D-RI), chairman of the Democratic National Committee, described it as a clear cut expression of the majority will while Sen. Thomas (D-Okla) declared:

"It will be very difficult to get his recommendations on domestic economy through Congress because people fear if they go back to regimentation in time of peace a permanent program might develop."

Say Truman Reverses Position

Several Republican legislators said the President, in calling for extension of controls, had abruptly reversed his own position.

"Only two weeks ago," said Sen. Jenner (D-Ind), "the President asserted that the return to price control would be the act of a police state. Today he asks for that police state XXXX"

(Mr. Truman, questioned by reporters at a news conference October 16, said controls, including those over rents, represent police state methods even in wartime.

(He added that such methods must sometimes be used in an emergency and said they are used in this country through the will of the people rather than that of one man.)

Congressional reaction to the President's foreign aid proposals was considered more favorable.

Spaatz Reports Russia Has Reproduced B-29

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—Gen. Carl Spaatz said today the Russians apparently have succeeded in building reproductions of the B-29 bomber.

Spaatz, chief of the Army Air Force, suggested designs had been obtained from the wreckage of American Superfortresses which crash-landed in Eastern Siberia during the war.

Rape-Slaying Suspects Heed Appeal, Surrender

Kept Armed Posse At Bay 12 Hours

NEILLSVILLE, Wis., Nov. 17—(AP)—Two young ex-convicts, who for 12 hours had kept at bay an armed posse seeking them in the rape of a coed and the cold-blooded slaying of her brother-in-law, surrendered meekly late today. Their hostages, a farmer, his wife and two sons, were unharmed.

With their hands in the air, the pair walked out of a barn in the heavily-wooded area of North-Central Wisconsin and surrendered.

Sheriff Ray Kutsche said the youths had "freely admitted' in oral statements both the rape and the slaying.

The youths are Robert Winslow, 23, Owen, and Buford Sennett, 22, Richland Center, both former state reformatory inmates who served additional time for escapes. They had threatened to "shoot it out".

They were identified from photographs by Miss Janet Ann Rosenblatt, 19, Cleveland Heights, O., a University of Michigan coed, as the men who had killed her brother-in-law, Carl L. Carlson, 25, then raped her during a wild automobile ride Friday night.

Federal Warrants Filed

Federal warrants, charging transportation of a stolen car across a state line, have been filed against the two.

Credit for the surrender went to Dist. Atty. L. P. Lownik, of Richland County, Sennett's home.

Howard Meier, a reporter for the Chippewa Falls Herald-Telegram, said Lownik appealed to Sennett over a loud-speaker equipped truck, telling him his mother wanted him to give up.

A few minutes later, Meier said, Sennett appeared in the doorway of a barn in the small clearing sheltering the farm:

He was followed at about 100 paces by Winslow. Both men were haggard. They were unarmed.

Meier said the Pomputis family, their only weapon was a .32 caliber revolver they had tossed into the haymow after deciding to come out.

Permitted To Run Errand

Meier said the two Pomputis sons had been freed by the pair, who did not know the clearing was surrounded, "to go into Neillsville to get some paint." They were passed through the posse lines, Meier added, and permitted to run the errand.

Tony Pomputis said authorities permitted him and his brother free access to the premises in an attempt to lull the two wanted men into a false sense of security.

Information as to the men's presence was given Lorris Dusso, county traffic officer, and Conservation Warden Al Clumpner, who had stopped at the farm on a routine check. The officers drove away to summon the sheriff and Tony returned to the bunkhouse and told the men nothing had happened.

Three Arrested After "Milking" Friendship Train

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 17 (INS) — The Friendship Train was robbed in Utica this afternoon when it made a brief stop in the western section of the city.

Three men accused of boarding it and taking six cases of evaported milk were held by police.

They are James Carroll, 42, Utica; Leonard McGill, 38, Red Bank, N. J., and James McManiman, 47, Chicago.

Police Patrolmen William Lachut and Charles Berkowitz, cruising in a police car, noticed three men removing milk from the train and placed them under arrest.

U.N. Group Okays Palestine Plan

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 17—(AP)—A United Nations subcommittee tonight approved major points of a plan for enforcement of the proposed partition of the Holy Land into independent Jewish and Arab nations.

Poland, Iceland, Norway, Uruguay and Guatemala were named to a special United Nations commission to administer Palestine during a transition period between the end of the British mandate and the independence date.

The decision still is subject to approval by the 57-nation Palestine Committee and the full Assembly and also hinges on acceptance of the principle of partition.

The enforcement plan, worked out by the United States, Russia, Canada and Guatemala, would provide independence for the two new countries by not later than October 1, 1948.

The speedup in the subcommittee opened the possibility of a final decision on the Holy Land within a week.

Storms Delay Liner

Md. Senatorial Election Probers To Have Report Ready Before January 1

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP) — A Senate subcommittee reviewing Maryland's contested 1946 senatorial election will finish its work and have a final report ready for action by the Senate next January, Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) said today.

Jenner, chairman of the Senate Rules Subcommittee on Elections, told reporters after a subcommittee meeting today that his group tomorrow would begin a final review of 20,000 to 25,000 ballots still in dispute.

D. John Markey, a Republican, is contesting the election of Sen. O'Conor, a Democrat, who won by an official state margin of 2,232 votes out of a total of 472,000. Markey charged errors and irregularities.

Jenner said he and other members of the subcommittee—Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) and Myers (D-Pa)—would "go over each ballot" in the final review and estimated this would take a "solid week" of work.

The recheck actually will take longer than a week, he said, because members will not be able to devote all their time to this task.

Once the disputed ballots are ruled on, he said, the committee will check into charges of election "irregularities" and make its report to the full Rules Committee, which, in turn, sends its recommendations to the Senate.

Jenner said it was "not likely" that the contest would be considered by the Senate during the special session. "We don't know what the tempo will be," he said.

"But," he added, "our final report will be in before the regular session starts" next January.

The 20,000 to 25,000 ballots still in dispute are the residue of a total of 190,000 votes cast in 17 counties in which a recount was conducted. Attorneys for O'Conor and Markey were able to agree on all but these.

This is in addition to 6,500 disputed ballots from five other counties which Jenner's subcommittee previously has ruled on.

Negro Versus University Case To Be Argued Friday

BALTIMORE, Nov. 18—(AP)—The right of the University of South Carolina to deny a negro admission to its law school despite his contention that no comparable legal training is available to him elsewhere in the state will be argued Friday before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

The university, through Attorney General John M. Daniel, of South Carolina, is appealing a decision that 25-year-old John W. Wrighten, Charleston, must either be accepted by the university or given equal opportunity in his law study elsewhere.

FIVE PERISH IN ARKANSAS PLANE CRASH

HAVANA, Ark., Nov. 17 (AP)—A B-29 Superfortress crashed into Mt. Magazine about five miles northwest of this small Yell County community during a driving downpour tonight, killing all five crew members.

Papers in a billfold on one of the bodies found near the wreckage indicated that the plane's personnel included two officers and three enlisted men enroute to Michigan on transfer from Barksdale Field, La.

The bodies were mangled and three of them were badly charred making immedate identification impossible.

Barksdale Field headquarters said it had an "unconfirmed report" that the plane was from that field and was checking.

De Gaulle's RPF Assumes Control Of Paris Council

Communists Assail U. S., Leave Chamber

PARIS, Nov. 17 (AP) — Gen Charles De Gaulle's Rally of the French People (RPF) assumed control of the Paris municipal government tonight during a stormy City Council session punctuated by Communist denunciations of the United States.

Meanwhile, Paul Reynaud worked to establish a new French national regime strong enough to resist opposition from both the Communists and the DeGaullists. Both developments came as spreading unrest gripped large sections of France.

General's Brother Wins

Pierre De Gaulle, the General's brother, was elected president of the Paris City Council—a post corresponding to the office of mayor—shortly before 25 Communist members walked out of the chamber amid catcalls and boos.

Interrupted by crys of "back to Moscow," Communist Leader Raymond Bousses said members of his party would not sit in the same council with "Vichyites, collaborators" and "apprentice dictators."

He declared that the Socialists as well as the De Gaullists represented the United States in a campaign to "enslave the world" and claimed:

"American automobiles, American furniture, American literature and American clothes are corrupting the French people."

Communists Walk Out

(Only the Communists among France's political parties are opposing the nation's participation in United States Secretary of State Marshall's plan for European reconstruction).

Bousses finished his statement and led his cohorts from the room. After a brief suspension the council meeting was resumed without the Communists and other officers were elected.

In voting for the presidency, Pierre De Gaulle received 51 votes, Bousses 25 and Socialist Candidate R. Gevauden 8. The five Popular Republican Movement (MRP) members abstained.

President Asks Pay, Rationing, Price Controls

Would Use Powers Only If Necessary

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP) — President Truman called on Congress today for authority to revive partial wage, price and rationing controls as "insurance" against the "catastrophe" of ruinous inflation.

And tonight he had a battle on his hands.

Key Republicans and at least one Democrat, Sen. Elmer Thomas, of Oklahoma, said Mr. Truman's 10-point program means "regimentation."

Also among the "drastic measures" Mr. Truman asked for the war against climbing living costs were tighter rent controls and power to curb installment buying again.

These and half a dozen others should get by without too much trouble, Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) predicted to newsmen. But he shook his head over price, rationing and wage controls as highly controversial.

But Mr. Truman made it plain he wants his whole program enacted. The people, he said, want protection against inflation, they are entitled to it, and should not be "misled with half measures."

"If we fail to prepare and disaster results," he said, "x x x we shall have gambled with our national safety—and lost."

Mr. Truman said the powers he wants would be used only if voluntary action fails to meet the menace of inflation, and the government will intensify efforts to obtain voluntary action.

"Selective" Rationing

In case controls like those in wartime had to be restored, the President proposed consumer rationing of scarce products which basically affect living costs. He said rationing should operate on a "highly selective" rather than a blanket basis.

He said price ceilings should be applied—if they have to be used—to scarce goods important to living costs and industrial output. He said wage ceilings should be imposed wherever necessary to protect price ceilings.

While the President did not mention specifically the possibility of putting price lids on things consumers buy, a White House official said he had that in mind as one of his "last resort" measures.

With his plan for combatting inflation at home, the President coupled another administration bid for $597,000,000 to aid France, Italy and Austria this winter.

In an obvious jab at Russia, he said this country will not let "criticisms so loudly expressed" halt its foreign program.

He laid all his proposals in person before the full Senate and House 90 minutes after Congress assembled in special sesion to tackle the inter-twined isues of foreign aid and domestic inflation.

Among Republicans and Democrats alike there appeared to be general agreement that aid to Europe is necessary and that speed is in order.

The varying reactions made one

Rumor Is Denied; No Ration Books Being Prepared

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—The government is not printing ration books, A. E. Giegengack, the public printer, said again tonight.

He was denying a rumor that pops up from time to time. Giegengack added that there is no authority or appropriation existing to print them, or to the job out.

He estimated that it would take three months to get started, if authority were granted.

Necklace Of Pea-Sized Diamonds Is Among Gifts To Princess Elizabeth

LONDON, Nov. 17 (AP)—Kings, queens and nobles danced tonight in Buckingham Palace after Princess Elizabeth received guests at a showing of her wedding gifts—a collection court circles said was unsurpassed in the history of modern royal romances in Britain.

And still more presents are arriving. From rare jewels to linen handkerchiefs, people of high and humble station have sent Britain's heiress-apparent enough gifts to stock a small department store. No responsible authority would even venture to place a value on them.

Included was a necklace of pea-sized diamonds and rubies, a gift of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth to their daughter for her marriage Thursday to Lt. Philip Mountbatten. The King and Queen also gave her two strings of pearls the size of small grapes. The jewels were from the personal collection of the royal family.

Tonight the bride's parents threw as much of a feast as their realm's tight rationing laws permit to entertain foreign royalty here for the ceremony in Westminister Abbey.

The select dinner-dance, attended by only 150 guests, climaxed an exciting day for the bride-to-be. Earlier she received visiting dignitaries and went to one of the largest indoor royal parties since the war. That was held in St. Jams's Palace where the Princess, flushed and smiling, thanked some 2,000 persons whose gifts had heaped five rooms of the ancient structure. "They're very lovely," she said again and again.

Sex-Crazed Talented Musician, 28, Is Shot To Death By His Mother

AURORA, Ill., Nov. 17 (AP)—A sex-crazed talented musician was shot to death today by his mother because, she said, she feared he would try to force upon some other woman the improper advances he made upon her.

Growing hysterical by the tragedy that struck her home while her elderly mother slept, Mrs. Velma Reid, 50, an accountant, was taken to the county jail in Geneva where she was held without charge. An inquest was arranged for Wednesday.

Police Capt. Anthony Wegmann said the woman, a widow, had made three statements giving this account of the killing:

Her son, Louis 28, showed unusual musical talent as a boy and was considered a child prodigy of the piano by his teachers. As he grew to manhood he became victim to strong physical urges that prompted his commitment to the Elgin State Hospital in 1939 as a sufferer of dementia praecox.

Most of the intervening years Louis spent in mental institutions. Yesterday Mrs. Reid went to the Chicago State Hospital and obtained his release so that he could be home with her mother, Mrs. Sally Nedlow, 79, for the Thanksgiving holiday.

During the night the son stole into his mother's bedroom. She was aghast at his proposals, arose and turned to quiet him. They quarreled. Finally he announced he was "going downtown to find someone else."

The mother seized a .38 caliber

Relief Provided For Indigent Most Inadequate

Failure of the special session of the Maryland General Assembly to appropriate sufficient additional funds to meet the ever-increasing relief burden must have been a keen disappointment to the county's indigent population, and no less to those who interceded in their behalf and to those who must administer the aid. It means that those depending on relief must console themselves to the stark reality that they cannot hope for any appreciate increase to provide for their daily needs.

Charles N. Wilkinson, as president of the county's governing board of commissioners, with the support of the other members, took the initiative in an effort to improve conditions of these unfortunates, by appealing to Governor Lane to make a survey of welfare needs throughout the state and to recommend a substantial increase in the amount of money appropriated for relief.

The result was that only $500,000 was forthcoming although the Maryland State Welfare Board, through J. Milton Patterson, director, after studying the situation, requested Mr. Lane and, in turn, the Legislature to provide an additional $3,000,000 for the remaining 18 months in the fiscal year. It is pointed out that that amount would have permitted increasing relief checks $7 to $8 monthly.

The amount granted will, it is estimated by the Allegany County Welfare Board, permit an increase of less than a dollar or two. That falls far short of even restoring the 10 per cent reduction in assistance, made effective several months ago to conserve funds to meet an increasing relief load. It means that less than 7 cents a day, at the most, can be added to each relief check.

Those receiving general public assistance are allowed little more than $9 weekly; those on old age pension little more than $7.50 weekly, while dependent children are given approximately $6.50 in each like period. Such sums can provide only a bare existence in the face of mounting living costs.

It is a well known fact that relief cases are closely screened by those directing such work in Allegany county, and only those who are incapable of providing their own livelihood are approved for grants, thus eliminating, almost entirely, drones.

Why the State agreed to recommend such a niggeredly amount, which can provide but little more than a starvation living for these people, cannot immediately be understood.

The taxpayer cannot be blamed if he is suspicious that plans to revamp the entire tax system will result in higher taxes.

Responsibility For High Prices On Truman's Hands

A few days ago, Democratic National Chairman McGrath announced that the Administration foreign aid program and high prices will be the principal issues in the 1948 political campaign. He believes that the two parties will declare a truce on the issues during the special session of Congress, but thinks the differences are "fundamental." In typical Democratic style, he presents the two issues as distinct and separate.

The overall reason for high prices today is a shortage of goods and increased demand, aggravated by relief shipments abroad. Not only economists but observant laymen know this to be true. But it is the Democratic Party policy to deny—most of the time—that foreign relief has anything to do with prices. They blame our high prices on the Republican majority in Congress, which is accused of having "destroyed price control."

Now, it is a matter of record that price control was actually terminated by President Truman about a year ago. At that time, the President ditched the OPA renewal bill which Congress had passed in July, 1946, after a previous renewal bill had been vetoed by the White House. The original OPA law collapsed because, after the war, the President had opened the door to higher wages. The attempt to maintain OPA price ceilings, with costs constantly rising, simply led to black markets.

Hence, in July, 1946, Congress passed a temporary price-control law to ease the transition from wartime OPA controls to free prices. It set up a decontrol board, independent of OPA, which could remove price ceilings whenever supply and demand came into balance. But the same board could reimpose price ceilings on a variety of vital commodities. The Secretary of Agriculture could name farm products on which ceilings should be kept because of inadequate supply. On manufactured goods, price ceilings would reflect average prices of 1940, plus later increases in costs. These maximum prices could be lowered by OPA whenever producers were found to be earning production costs, plus a "reasonable" profit.

In November, 1946, the President abolished that whole price-control machinery on the grounds that it was "unworkable."

Most Republicans—and most Democrats—in Congress today oppose any renewal of price controls because they think it would make a bad situation worse. But the charge that "the Republicans killed price control" belies the fact. Harry Truman made the original OPA law unworkable after the war, and he discarded its successor a year ago.

Dedication Day Being Observed Over Country

By act of Congress passed in 1946, in which November 19 is designated in the nation's calendar of special days as Dedication Day, the people are requested to see that Lincoln's Gettysburg address is read in the schools and to other assemblages tomorrow, the eighthy-fourth anniversary of the dedication of the Gettysburg cemetery.

The campaign to create more interest in the great address, and in the political philosophy which it reflects, was carried through to success by the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States, an organization of officers of the Union Army and their male descendants.

During the eighty-four years since Lincoln delivered the speech it has steadily grown in the esteem of free peoples until today it stands among the great creations of all time. It should be graven in the heart of every American, and this occasion for honoring the speech and its author should command the attention of all patriots.

MENSTRUAL IRREGULARITIES

GYNECOLOGY is one of the many specialties of medicine and deals with disturbances encountered only in women. Twenty to 30 per cent of the patients who consult these physicians have menstrual irregularities severe enough to demand attention. The causes are numerous and, in the majority, the outcome is satisfactory.

Many women complain of an excessive flow. This is moderate in some and extreme in others. The cycle may or may not be regular or it may be shortened or extended. Occasionally there is a showing between the usual periods coming at unexpected times and in unpredictable amounts; sometimes this occurs at the time of ovulation, two weeks before or after. Pain is rarely encountered but sterility is often a problem.

Difficulties of this nature may arise at any time during the entire menstrual life and even beyond. Statistics reveal that approximately 10 per cent are in the adolescent group, 30 to 40 in the reproductive era, and 50 to 55 per cent in the fifth decade.

In one-third, no cause can be found and for this reason such cases are known as "functional uterine bleeding." Dysfunction of the glandular mechanism is generally responsible. Bleeding from the uterus is governed by certain hormones manufactured by the ovaries. The type of secretion given off depends upon whether the organs are working properly and the tiny ova produced are reaching maturity. If derangements of this character are present, eccentricities in the flow are likely to follow. But such aberrations cannot be discovered on physical examination altho now and then they are revealed by special chemical tests.

In treating cases of this nature, the necessary hormones are administered. In addition, thyroid extract may be required. If "flooding" is experienced, bed rest and a sedative should prove helpful. To improve the general condition liver extract, calcium, and iron are advised.

But in most women, the origin of irregular bleeding can be discovered. Sometimes it is due to fibroids or large tumors or cysts of the ovaries. Occasionally an early pregnancy terminated in an incomplete miscarriage. Cancer must also be considered. The gynecologist will decide whether surgery, X-ray, radium, or other procedure is needed. Once in a while poor health is responsible particularly if anemia, nephritis, or liver trouble are exhibited. The heart too may be at fault as well as high blood pressure. Bleeding during the menopausal decade is not necessarily due to malignancy but this possibility must never be overlooked. Consequently, a more thoro study must be done, including laboratory examination of scrapings. Should the result be negative, radium is usually beneficial. The alternative is to remove the uterus.

Recent figures show that the mortality rate from cancer of the uterus in all age groups is dropping. The periodic checkup, especially in the presence of uterine bleeding, can be given part of the credit for this good news.

When a blood vessel in the brain goes into severe spasm, the circulation may be shut off temporarily to some parts of the gray matter. This produces a variety of symptoms, including headache, dizziness, fainting, or a temporary loss of the use of an arm or leg. It is nervous in origin.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

Believe it or not, the new torch song is, "Lover Turn Your Back On Me."

Yes sir, Doctor H. Willard Starrett, retiring president of the American College of Osteopathic Surgeons, says that kissing is as dangerous as looking a loaded gun in the face or stepping in front of a speeding auto.

I can hear a wolf saying to his girl, "If you don't marry me, I'll let you kiss me and end it all."

I'm still a little doubtful. Somehow, I'd rather come across with Jane Russell on the set than come across with the traffic on Hollywood and Vine.

If the doctor is right, a parked car is a lethal weapon and I have a hot tip for the police. Go to Griffith Park any night after ten . . . it's loaded with killers.

I can imagine a guy being picked up four times in a row on Lovers Lane. As the cops tap him on the shoulder, he pleads, "Aw—Have a heart . . . I'm a three-time loser now."

And a gang of hoodlums is plotting to rub out a stool pigeon. The boss turns to the moll and says, "This is a tough job, Maisie, better use strong stuff. Here's a new lipstick and a bottle of "Evening in Hoboken."

Of course, the doctor's fighting Cupid, but he may have a point when he says it's dangerous . . . kissing can lead to marriage.

Friendship Train Could Well Serve As Example To Congress; Small Towns Made Contributions To Prove Food Instrument Of Foreign Policy

Says DREW PEARSON

ABOARD THE FRIENDSHIP TRAIN, Nov. 17—This train, two sections strong, pulled into New York today, just as a reluctant Congress knuckles down to the problems of the emergency in Europe.

Just one month and a week after the idea of a Friendship Train was first mentioned—October 11—the American people have not only organized this train but hooked onto it around 150 boxcars as a token of how they feel about aid and friendship with Europe.

A couple of months ago, when the President started talking to congressional leaders about a special session of Congress, they contended that it would take a month or more to organize the reports of Europe from the various congressional committees studying abroad.

But, in the brief interim since, an important segment of the American people—a sample cross section of the continent from coast to coast—has gone out and shown what they thought about aid to Europe by doing something about it, not merely talking about it. The boxcars of food they loaded up should reach France and Italy by Christmas or New Year's even while some congressmen are still debating; also when the food pinch abroad is beginning to be felt hardest.

When the Friendship Train pulls into New York, most people won't be able to see it. New York is built that way. Passenger trains come in underground, while freight trains go around to New Jersey.

Generosity and Teamwork

Therefore the people at the Atlantic Coast end of the line may not realize the effort, generosity and teamwork that went into this symbol of American friendship. They may not know, for instance, that the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen on the New York Central lines east of Buffalo volunteered their services to operate the train; so also did the train crew on the Union Pacific; or that at Spencer, Iowa, a freight train on the Milwaukee road stopped opposite radio station KICD while the train crew trudged through the snow to the radio station to contribute to the Friendship Train.

Most people know the railroads carried this train free but they have no conception of the painstaking details worked out by the roads in collecting boxcars, getting them hooked on in time, and keeping this train moving across the continent in 11 days.

Most people know that an enthusiastic parade gave the train a rousing sendoff in Los Angeles. But they do not know that Musicians Local 47 contributed eight 40-piece bands for that parade—free. Nor do they know how the teamsters-union locals in many cities furnished men to load and pack boxcars; or how the Hershey Chocolate Company started a boxcar of sugar by boat from Cuba on the same day the Friendship Train left Los Angeles in order to meet the train in New York; or how the little town of Sidney, Nebraska, population 4,000, rolled up two full carloads of wheat—twice as many as Omaha, with a population of a quarter of a million.

It was the small towns of America which, without seeking credit, made some of the most amazing contributions—Julesburg, Colorado, one car of wheat, though not on the line of the train; Gering, Nebraska, 1,000 bags of dried beans; Beatrice, Nebraska, Tulare, South Dakota; Marshalltown, Iowa; Manitowac County, Wisconsin, far off the main line of the train, with one car of condensed milk; the Farmers' Union grain terminal at St. Paul with one car of special seminola flour, of which spaghetti is made.

Friendship Surmounts Isolationism

Some people thought that when the Friendship Train hit the so-called isolationist Middle West, its reception would be lukewarm, even frigid. But the opposite proved true. All through Nebraska—North Platte, Kearney, Grand Island, Fremont—enthusiastic crowds celebrated the loading of bulging boxcars as their token of friendship. They were interested in two things: one, that their aid went direct to the people of Europe; and two, that food builds for friendlier human relations with the rest of the world.

Then on across Iowa, and up through Illinois and Indiana—the score of boxcars kept mounting. Council Bluffs, Iowa, Boone, Ames, Cedar Rapids—with seven big boxcars of rolled oats—Clinton and Davenport, until Iowa had rolled up the biggest total of all. Then Sterling, Illinois, supposed to be in the heart of the Chicago Tribune's isolationist area, but which hooked two cars onto the Friendship Train.

Food Wins Friends

Farmers aren't supposed to be public speakers, but these two told a brief but eloquent story of food and the job it could do as a means of winning friends and keeping the peace.

In other words, a fairly representative cross section of the U.S.A. is fully aware of the fact that food can be an important instrument of American foreign policy, as important as guns and tanks, more constructive than atomic bombs. Food isn't the only thing that we need to help Europe, but it can probably do more than white spats and ambassadors, provided the people of Europe know where the food comes from. And that's the purpose of the Friendship Train—to dramatize the story of American generosity.

Note—Refusing to take a back seat when it come to generosity, the people of Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma are organizing a special wheat section of the Friendship Train, leaving Wichita November 20 and arriving in Philadelphia about November 26.

French Strike Seen As Aimed At Chilling U. S. Against Aid

By MARK SULLIVAN

At the moment when Congress was meeting to act on aid to Europe came news of accelerated stoppages of work in France and Italy. An arresting detail told of an 80 per cent suspension of work in one of France's largest cities, Marseilles. From Rome came news of a strike of street car and bus operators in protest against the arrest of Communist rioters.

To this information and much else of the same kind, spreading over America through press and radio a not unnatural reaction of our people is to say, "If they don't work, why should we feed them?" But that reaction does not characterize Congress. Members of that body are now well-informed about what lies behind strikes and riots in Europe. Never has any Congress had so much and so authorative information about a foreign problem. During the months since the regular session ended in July, more than half the members of Congress have been in Europe. A large number went officially, as members of committees appointed for the specific purpose of getting information upon which Congress as a whole could base judgments. The setting up of these committees reflected a conscious responsibility of Congress and its leaders. Never before also did the State Department go to such pains to keep Congress informed. Never in any Administration was a more thorough and candid report than the one given out a week ago by President Truman's Committee on Foreign Aid.

Aimed At Chilling U. S. About Aid

From these sources Congress is able to know that the acceleration of strikes and riots in Europe has the direct purpose of chilling America about aid to Europe at the moment when Congress is about to act on it. Only by minute information could the devious intricacies of Communist strategy be understood. Their purpose is to overthrow the governments of France and Italy. The purpose is served by strikes in two ways.

By industrial paralysis and consequent distress, it is about to weaken the governments of France and Italy. To the same end, the Communist strategy counts on preventing aid from America. They hope to be able to tell the French and Italian peoples that the Marshall Plan for European recovery will not work, that the help needed from America will not come.

All this is part of what military men conducting war speak of as an "overall strategic concept." The concept is made and put in effect from the Communist headquarters in Moscow. The overall purpose is Communist domination of the world. As respects us, the purpose is focused against us.

Of this our officials are well aware and they strive to make our people aware of how far the threat against us goes. In the sober report of President Truman's Committee on Foreign Aid is a paragraph which can be taken as a summation.

"Open ideological war has been declared already . . . It has been called a cold war . . . It is cold only in the sense that guns are not smoking and bombs not exploding. In every other respect the ideological war of the Communists is as ruthless and as determined a drive to achieve world domination as a hot war."

Communists Time Violence Period

In Congress there is convincing assent to granting the aid immediately needed, some half billion dollars to tide France and Italy over the winter. This is vital, for the Communists have timed the end of winter, about March, for a climax of violence aimed to overthrow the governments of these countries. Our policy looks towards strengthening these governments by providing food and fuel for their peoples. So far as their spirits go, the governments express resolutions. Premier Ramadier of France told the Communists last week: "You attack by violence in the streets; we shall go the limit of what the law requires, we shall defend the Republic against you." In a similar spirit, Italian Minister of the Interior Scelba told the Communists, "Let it be clear that the government is determined to use the force of the state against violence."

That France and Italy will be granted the aid to meet the immediate crisis is practically certain. About the long-term aid to enable Europe to recover industrially, as proposed in the Marshall plan, this will take time. It is contemplated that after the immediate aid is acted upon, Congress should turn to the domestic problem of high prices and inflation, letting the long-term Marshall Plan aid wait, probably until the regular session in January.

About the long-term aid there will be discussion both of amounts and methods. But Congress is likely to follow the admonitions of Administration heads and its own leaders that the Marshall Plan aid be granted.

Maximum Of Social Truth As Expounded By Catholic Bishops

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. — The words of President Truman's message to Congress should inspire hope in a distraught Europe. They may convey to an America reluctant to make unprecedented appropriations the imperative needs of a war-devastated continent overseas. But the area of receptivity would be much wider of the spiritual foundations of governments and peoples throughout the world were more secure.

To this end is dedicated a noteworthy statement just issued by the Catholic Bishops of the United States, after their annual meeting here, which with a minimum of sectarian doctrine presents a maximum of social truth.

If the words of such a statement could be taken to heart by individuals everywhere, irrespective of their theological beliefs or creeds, the whole world might be transformed into a truly fraternal community. Marshall plans and United Nations organizations would then have a better chance to carry out their ideals and objectives.

Avoid Taking Sides

What stands out in this remarkable document is the implicit style of expression which avoids taking sides on specific pieces of legislation, and emphasizes instead in simple, laymen's language the broad principles that can guide us in the life of the individual, the economic order, and the international community. There will be differences of opinion naturally as to how these principles can be applied but the Catholic bishops' declaration does not attempt to tell Congress or the Representatives of party or faction how they can best interpret their duties and obligations under God. Quotations and excerpts are an inadequate substitute for the text of the whole statement but some extracts may suffice to give the tone and spirit of the declaration:

"No man can disregard God—and play a man's part in God's world. Unfortunately, however, there are many men—and their number is daily increasing — who in practice live their lives without recognizng that this is God's world: For the most part they do not deny God. On formal occasions they may even mention His name. Not all of them would subscribe to the statement that all moral values derive from merely human conventions. But they fail to bring an awareness of God into their thought and action as individuals and members of society. This, in essence is what we mean by secularism. . .

"Secularism does away with accountability to God as a practical consideration in the life of man and thus takes from him the sense of personal guilt of sin before God. It takes account of no law above man-made law. Expediency, decency, and propriety are, in its code, the norms of human behavior. . .

The "moral regeneration which is recognized as absolutely essential for the building of a better world must begin by bringing the individual back to God and to awareness of his responsibility to God. . .

Responsibility To God

"When disregard of his responsibility to God makes the owner forget his stewardship and the social function of private property, there comes that irrational economic individualism which brings misery to millions. Helpless workers are exploited, cutthroat competition and antisocial marketing practices follow. When men in labor organizations lost the right social perspective, which a sense of responsibility to God gives, they are prone to seek merely the victory of their own group, in disregard of personal and property rights. . .

"Atheistic communism, for a time thrown into alliance with democratic nations through Nazi aggression against Russia, stands out plainly today as the force which, through violence and chicanery, is obstructing the establishment of a right juridical order in the international community. That is plain for all to see. But thoughtful men perceive as well that secularism, which over the years has sapped the divinely laid foundations of the moral law, bears a heavy burden of responsibility for the plight of the world today."

These Days

B. C. FORBES, who pursues the fish, the golf ball and the poker-chip, and tells fantastic stories of Scottish virtues, also publishes a business magazine. And recently, he broke his Scotch heart—and probably his purse—by inviting a multitude of good friends to a dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria to celebrate the thirtieth year of his publication.

Thirty years ago, Forbes made a survey, by various means, of the 50 foremost business leaders of the day. They were:

Simmons, James Speyer, James Stillman, Theodore N. Vail, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Frank A. Vanderlip, Paul M. Warburg, John N. Willys, Thomas E. Wilson, F. W. Woolworth.

He did the same this year and the following list was chosen by their colleagues:

Winthrop W. Aldrich, Stanley C. Allyn, John D. Biggers, Lewis H. Brown, Walter S. Carpenter, Jr., Martin W. Clement, John L. Collyer, C. Donald Dallas, Richard R. Deupree, Donald W. Douglas, Willard H. Dow, Benjamin F. Fairless, Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., Henry Ford II, Clarence Francis, L. M. Giannini, Walter S. Gifford, Bernard F. Gimbel, Samuel Goldwyn, Eugene G. Grace, Paul G. Hoffman, Eugene Holman, Charles R. Hook, Eric Johnston, W. Alton Jones, Henry J. Kaiser, K. T. Keller, James F. Lincoln, Leroy A. Lincoln, Henry R. Luce, Charles Luckman, Glenn L. Martin, Thomas W. Martin, Richard K. Mellon, Charles E. Merrill, Fowler McCormick, Ernest E. Norris, Edgar Monsanto Queeny, James H. Rand, Jr., Gordon S. Rentschler, Edward V. Rickenbacker, Nelson A. Rockefeller, David Sarnoff, Emil Schram, Thomas J. Watson, Charles E. Wilson (G. E.) Charles E. Wilson (G. M). General Robert E. Wood, Robert W. Woodruff, Robert R. Young.

There is a whale of a difference between the two lists which tells a good deal about this country. Most of the men, on the 1917 list, were still pioneers, rugged individualists, who had built the businesses they headed. Most of the men in the 1947 list are managerial bureaucrats who had been chosen to head established organizations.

In 1917, businesses were still run by families or close associates of the original founders; in 1947, even such companies as the DuPonts, J. P. Morgan, Eastman Kodak, Woolworth's, are run by hired management. The family business is disappearing.

In 1917, few of the top men had a college education; most of them seem to have started as store clerks of one kind or another. In the 1947 list, nearly everyone went to college or its equivalent. It is an interesting shift of emphasis.

In the 1917 list, fruit and meat packing are given representation; in tre 1947 list, packaged foods, breakfast cereals and coca-cola come to the top. In 1917, soap does not show. In 1947, it appears twice. Thirty years ago, automobiles are represented by Henry Ford and John N. Willys; this year there is Henry Ford II, Paul G. Hoffman, K. T. Keller, C. E. Wilson G.M.) and aviation produces Donald W. Douglas, Glenn L. Martin, and Eddie Rickenbacker.

Quite a fuss was made at this dinner of the three "rich men's sons" who made the list, Henry Ford II, Harvey Firestone, Jr., and Nelson Rockefeller. It seemed to me senseless. In the history of business, it used to be usual for the son to succeed the father for many generations. It was not startling that a competent father trained a competent son.

Maybe the astonishment that three out of 50 were sons of such fathers reflected the assumption of the passing generation that the one at its heels is not good for much. Maybe it is education that does it.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

If You Are A Fighter—With Spirit

For a dozen years or so I have been taking my car to the Cadillac service station in my town to be oiled and fixed up, from time to time. On my first visit I looked around and chose a medium-sixed chap with a smile upon his face to take my case—and I have stuck to him. I liked him, his courtesy and his fine spirit.

It was not until a short time ago, that I learned he had been a soldier in the First World War and that he had been a great Hand Ball player before he entered. I learned the story of Eddie Demarest through an acquaintance, and it ran something like this:

As a member of the 11th Engineers (New York), he faced the music, did his job from day to day, and took things in their stride—no matter what—until one day in the Argonne a seventy-seven millimeter messed him up, shattering both legs. They patched him up and sent him to a Base Hospital. It was a litter case and things looked bad. The M.D.'s shook their heads—but not Demarest! That chap had a fighter's heart. It takes more than a cannon ball to wipe out the spirit of a man—and it didn't faze the spirit of my friend.

He watched his old pals play his favorite game. Little by little he moved about, taking brief exercise at this or that. At first he suffered nothing but torture—but he kept drawing on that spirit of his. Progress was slow, but in six months after returning home he was playing singles, and giving tough competition at that. At the end of the year he was entered with his friend Andy O'Brien against two husky piano movers, Dan McGahan and Patty Ryan, for the Metropolitan Championship! It was a notable contest, with such folks as Bugs Baer, Bob Ripley, Charles Ruggles, and others as spectators.

The contest was on. The two piano movers took the first game, 21—14. Then the second went to Demarest and his pal, to the tune of 20—9. The third game was a hummer, they tell me, with Demarest and O'Brien losing in a close game—but the crowd figured otherwise. It was this chap Eddie Demarest who had won his game. He had demonstrated that when you have spirit and heart you have all. Here is encouragement for thousands of like soldier chaps, who also can take heart—and win their game!

Relief Provided For Indigent Most Inadequate

Failure of the special session of the Maryland General Assembly to appropriate sufficient additional funds to meet the ever-increasing relief burden must have been a keen disappointment to the county's indigent population, and no less to those who interceded in their behalf and to those who must administer the aid. It means that those depending on relief must console themselves to the stark reality that they cannot hope for any appreciate increase to provide for their daily needs.

Charles N. Wilkinson, as president of the county's governing board of commissioners, with the support of the other members, took the initiative in an effort to improve conditions of these unfortunates, by appealing to Governor Lane to make a survey of welfare needs throughout the state and to recommend a substantial increase in the amount of money appropriated for relief.

The result was that only $500,000 was forthcoming although the Maryland State Welfare Board, through J. Milton Patterson, director, after studying the situation, requested Mr. Lane and, in turn, the Legislature to provide an additional $3,000,000 for the remaining 18 months in the fiscal year. It is pointed out that that amount would have permitted increasing relief checks $7 to $8 monthly.

The amount granted will, it is estimated by the Allegany County Welfare Board, permit an increase of less than a dollar or two. That falls far short of even restoring the 10 per cent reduction in assistance, made effective several months ago to conserve funds to meet an increasing relief load. It means that less than 7 cents a day, at the most, can be added to each relief check.

Those receiving general public assistance are allowed little more than $9 weekly; those on old age pension little more than $7.50 weekly, while dependent children are given approximately $6.50 in each like period. Such sums can provide only a bare existence in the face of mounting living costs.

It is a well known fact that relief cases are closely screened by those directing such work in Allegany county, and only those who are incapable of providing their own livelihood are approved for grants, thus eliminating, almost entirely, drones.

Why the State agreed to recommend such a niggeredly amount, which can provide but little more than a starvation living for these people, cannot immediately be understood.

The taxpayer cannot be blamed if he is suspicious that plans to revamp the entire tax system will result in higher taxes.

Responsibility For High Prices On Truman's Hands

A few days ago, Democratic National Chairman McGrath announced that the Administration foreign aid program and high prices will be the principal issues in the 1948 political campaign. He believes that the two parties will declare a truce on the issues during the special session of Congress, but thinks the differences are "fundamental." In typical Democratic style, he presents the two issues as distinct and separate.

The overall reason for high prices today is a shortage of goods and increased demand, aggravated by relief shipments abroad. Not only economists but observant laymen know this to be true. But it is the Democratic Party policy to deny—most of the time—that foreign relief has anything to do with prices. They blame our high prices on the Republican majority in Congress, which is accused of having "destroyed price control."

Now, it is a matter of record that price control was actually terminated by President Truman about a year ago. At that time, the President ditched the OPA renewal bill which Congress had passed in July, 1946, after a previous renewal bill had been vetoed by the White House. The original OPA law collapsed because, after the war, the President had opened the door to higher wages. The attempt to maintain OPA price ceilings, with costs constantly rising, simply led to black markets.

Hence, in July, 1946, Congress passed a temporary price-control law to ease the transition from wartime OPA controls to free prices. It set up a decontrol board, independent of OPA, which could remove price ceilings whenever supply and demand came into balance. But the same board could reimpose price ceilings on a variety of vital commodities. The Secretary of Agriculture could name farm products on which ceilings should be kept because of inadequate supply. On manufactured goods, price ceilings would reflect average prices of 1940, plus later increases in costs. These maximum prices could be lowered by OPA whenever producers were found to be earning production costs, plus a "reasonable" profit.

In November, 1946, the President abolished that whole price-control machinery on the grounds that it was "unworkable."

Most Republicans—and most Democrats—in Congress today oppose any renewal of price controls because they think it would make a bad situation worse. But the charge that "the Republicans killed price control" belies the fact. Harry Truman made the original OPA law unworkable after the war, and he discarded its successor a year ago.

Dedication Day Being Observed Over Country

By act of Congress passed in 1946, in which November 19 is designated in the nation's calendar of special days as Dedication Day, the people are requested to see that Lincoln's Gettysburg address is read in the schools and to other assemblages tomorrow, the eighthy-fourth anniversary of the dedication of the Gettysburg cemetery.

The campaign to create more interest in the great address, and in the political philosophy which it reflects, was carried through to success by the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States, an organization of officers of the Union Army and their male descendants.

During the eighty-four years since Lincoln delivered the speech it has steadily grown in the esteem of free peoples until today it stands among the great creations of all time. It should be graven in the heart of every American, and this occasion for honoring the speech and its author should command the attention of all patriots.

MENSTRUAL IRREGULARITIES

GYNECOLOGY is one of the many specialties of medicine and deals with disturbances encountered only in women. Twenty to 30 per cent of the patients who consult these physicians have menstrual irregularities severe enough to demand attention. The causes are numerous and, in the majority, the outcome is satisfactory.

Many women complain of an excessive flow. This is moderate in some and extreme in others. The cycle may or may not be regular or it may be shortened or extended. Occasionally there is a showing between the usual periods coming at unexpected times and in unpredictable amounts; sometimes this occurs at the time of ovulation, two weeks before or after. Pain is rarely encountered but sterility is often a problem.

Difficulties of this nature may arise at any time during the entire menstrual life and even beyond. Statistics reveal that approximately 10 per cent are in the adolescent group, 30 to 40 in the reproductive era, and 50 to 55 per cent in the fifth decade.

In one-third, no cause can be found and for this reason such cases are known as "functional uterine bleeding." Dysfunction of the glandular mechanism is generally responsible. Bleeding from the uterus is governed by certain hormones manufactured by the ovaries. The type of secretion given off depends upon whether the organs are working properly and the tiny ova produced are reaching maturity. If derangements of this character are present, eccentricities in the flow are likely to follow. But such aberrations cannot be discovered on physical examination altho now and then they are revealed by special chemical tests.

In treating cases of this nature, the necessary hormones are administered. In addition, thyroid extract may be required. If "flooding" is experienced, bed rest and a sedative should prove helpful. To improve the general condition liver extract, calcium, and iron are advised.

But in most women, the origin of irregular bleeding can be discovered. Sometimes it is due to fibroids or large tumors or cysts of the ovaries. Occasionally an early pregnancy terminated in an incomplete miscarriage. Cancer must also be considered. The gynecologist will decide whether surgery, X-ray, radium, or other procedure is needed. Once in a while poor health is responsible particularly if anemia, nephritis, or liver trouble are exhibited. The heart too may be at fault as well as high blood pressure. Bleeding during the menopausal decade is not necessarily due to malignancy but this possibility must never be overlooked. Consequently, a more thoro study must be done, including laboratory examination of scrapings. Should the result be negative, radium is usually beneficial. The alternative is to remove the uterus.

Recent figures show that the mortality rate from cancer of the uterus in all age groups is dropping. The periodic checkup, especially in the presence of uterine bleeding, can be given part of the credit for this good news.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

Believe it or not, the new torch song is, "Lover Turn Your Back On Me."

Yes sir, Doctor H. Willard Starrett, retiring president of the American College of Osteopathic Surgeons, says that kissing is as dangerous as looking a loaded gun in the face or stepping in front of a speeding auto.

I can hear a wolf saying to his girl, "If you don't marry me, I'll let you kiss me and end it all."

I'm still a little doubtful. Somehow, I'd rather come across with Jane Russell on the set than come across with the traffic on Hollywood and Vine.

If the doctor is right, a parked car is a lethal weapon and I have a hot tip for the police. Go to Griffith Park any night after ten . . . it's loaded with killers.

I can imagine a guy being picked up four times in a row on Lovers Lane. As the cops tap him on the shoulder, he pleads, "Aw—Have a heart . . . I'm a three-time loser now."

And a gang of hoodlums is plotting to rub out a stool pigeon. The boss turns to the moll and says, "This is a tough job, Maisie, better use strong stuff. Here's a new lipstick and a bottle of "Evening in Hoboken."

Of course, the doctor's fighting Cupid, but he may have a point when he says it's dangerous . . . kissing can lead to marriage.

Friendship Train Could Well Serve As Example To Congress; Small Towns Made Contributions To Prove Food Instrument Of Foreign Policy

Says DREW PEARSON

ABOARD THE FRIENDSHIP TRAIN, Nov. 17—This train, two sections strong, pulled into New York today, just as a reluctant Congress knuckles down to the problems of the emergency in Europe.

Just one month and a week after the idea of a Friendship Train was first mentioned—October 11—the American people have not only organized this train but hooked onto it around 150 boxcars as a token of how they feel about aid and friendship with Europe.

A couple of months ago, when the President started talking to congressional leaders about a special session of Congress, they contended that it would take a month or more to organize the reports of Europe from the various congressional committees studying abroad.

But, in the brief interim since, an important segment of the American people—a sample cross section of the continent from coast to coast—has gone out and shown what they thought about aid to Europe by doing something about it, not merely talking about it. The boxcars of food they loaded up should reach France and Italy by Christmas or New Year's even while some congressmen are still debating; also when the food pinch abroad is beginning to be felt hardest.

When the Friendship Train pulls into New York, most people won't be able to see it. New York is built that way. Passenger trains come in underground, while freight trains go around to New Jersey.

Generosity and Teamwork

Therefore the people at the Atlantic Coast end of the line may not realize the effort, generosity and teamwork that went into this symbol of American friendship. They may not know, for instance, that the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen on the New York Central lines east of Buffalo volunteered their services to operate the train; so also did the train crew on the Union Pacific; or that at Spencer, Iowa, a freight train on the Milwaukee road stopped opposite radio station KICD while the train crew trudged through the snow to the radio station to contribute to the Friendship Train.

Most people know the railroads carried this train free but they have no conception of the painstaking details worked out by the roads in collecting boxcars, getting them hooked on in time, and keeping this train moving across the continent in 11 days.

Most people know that an enthusiastic parade gave the train a rousing sendoff in Los Angeles. But they do not know that Musicians Local 47 contributed eight 40-piece bands for that parade—free. Nor do they know how the teamsters-union locals in many cities furnished men to load and pack boxcars; or how the Hershey Chocolate Company started a boxcar of sugar by boat from Cuba on the same day the Friendship Train left Los Angeles in order to meet the train in New York; or how the little town of Sidney, Nebraska, population 4,000, rolled up two full carloads of wheat—twice as many as Omaha, with a population of a quarter of a million.

It was the small towns of America which, without seeking credit, made some of the most amazing contributions—Julesburg, Colorado, one car of wheat, though not on the line of the train; Gering, Nebraska, 1,000 bags of dried beans; Beatrice, Nebraska, Tulare, South Dakota; Marshalltown, Iowa; Manitowac County, Wisconsin, far off the main line of the train, with one car of condensed milk; the Farmers' Union grain terminal at St. Paul with one car of special seminola flour, of which spaghetti is made.

Friendship Surmounts Isolationism

Some people thought that when the Friendship Train hit the so-called isolationist Middle West, its reception would be lukewarm, even frigid. But the opposite proved true. All through Nebraska—North Platte, Kearney, Grand Island, Fremont—enthusiastic crowds celebrated the loading of bulging boxcars as their token of friendship. They were interested in two things: one, that their aid went direct to the people of Europe; and two, that food builds for friendlier human relations with the rest of the world.

Then on across Iowa, and up through Illinois and Indiana—the score of boxcars kept mounting. Council Bluffs, Iowa, Boone, Ames, Cedar Rapids—with seven big boxcars of rolled oats—Clinton and Davenport, until Iowa had rolled up the biggest total of all. Then Sterling, Illinois, supposed to be in the heart of the Chicago Tribune's isolationist area, but which hooked two cars onto the Friendship Train.

Food Wins Friends

Farmers aren't supposed to be public speakers, but these two told a brief but eloquent story of food and the job it could do as a means of winning friends and keeping the peace.

In other words, a fairly representative cross section of the U.S.A. is fully aware of the fact that food can be an important instrument of American foreign policy, as important as guns and tanks, more constructive than atomic bombs. Food isn't the only thing that we need to help Europe, but it can probably do more than white spats and ambassadors, provided the people of Europe know where the food comes from. And that's the purpose of the Friendship Train—to dramatize the story of American generosity.

Note—Refusing to take a back seat when it come to generosity, the people of Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma are organizing a special wheat section of the Friendship Train, leaving Wichita November 20 and arriving in Philadelphia about November 26.

French Strike Seen As Aimed At Chilling U. S. Against Aid

By MARK SULLIVAN

At the moment when Congress was meeting to act on aid to Europe came news of accelerated stoppages of work in France and Italy. An arresting detail told of an 80 per cent suspension of work in one of France's largest cities, Marseilles. From Rome came news of a strike of street car and bus operators in protest against the arrest of Communist rioters.

To this information and much else of the same kind, spreading over America through press and radio a not unnatural reaction of our people is to say, "If they don't work, why should we feed them?" But that reaction does not characterize Congress. Members of that body are now well-informed about what lies behind strikes and riots in Europe. Never has any Congress had so much and so authorative information about a foreign problem. During the months since the regular session ended in July, more than half the members of Congress have been in Europe. A large number went officially, as members of committees appointed for the specific purpose of getting information upon which Congress as a whole could base judgments. The setting up of these committees reflected a conscious responsibility of Congress and its leaders. Never before also did the State Department go to such pains to keep Congress informed. Never in any Administration was a more thorough and candid report than the one given out a week ago by President Truman's Committee on Foreign Aid.

Aimed At Chilling U. S. About Aid

From these sources Congress is able to know that the acceleration of strikes and riots in Europe has the direct purpose of chilling America about aid to Europe at the moment when Congress is about to act on it. Only by minute information could the devious intricacies of Communist strategy be understood. Their purpose is to overthrow the governments of France and Italy. The purpose is served by strikes in two ways.

By industrial paralysis and consequent distress, it is about to weaken the governments of France and Italy. To the same end, the Communist strategy counts on preventing aid from America. They hope to be able to tell the French and Italian peoples that the Marshall Plan for European recovery will not work, that the help needed from America will not come.

All this is part of what military men conducting war speak of as an "overall strategic concept." The concept is made and put in effect from the Communist headquarters in Moscow. The overall purpose is Communist domination of the world. As respects us, the purpose is focused against us.

Of this our officials are well aware and they strive to make our people aware of how far the threat against us goes. In the sober report of President Truman's Committee on Foreign Aid is a paragraph which can be taken as a summation.

"Open ideological war has been declared already . . . It has been called a cold war . . . It is cold only in the sense that guns are not smoking and bombs not exploding. In every other respect the ideological war of the Communists is as ruthless and as determined a drive to achieve world domination as a hot war."

Communists Time Violence Period

In Congress there is convincing assent to granting the aid immediately needed, some half billion dollars to tide France and Italy over the winter. This is vital, for the Communists have timed the end of winter, about March, for a climax of violence aimed to overthrow the governments of these countries. Our policy looks towards strengthening these governments by providing food and fuel for their peoples. So far as their spirits go, the governments express resolutions. Premier Ramadier of France told the Communists last week: "You attack by violence in the streets; we shall go the limit of what the law requires, we shall defend the Republic against you." In a similar spirit, Italian Minister of the Interior Scelba told the Communists, "Let it be clear that the government is determined to use the force of the state against violence."

That France and Italy will be granted the aid to meet the immediate crisis is practically certain. About the long-term aid to enable Europe to recover industrially, as proposed in the Marshall plan, this will take time. It is contemplated that after the immediate aid is acted upon, Congress should turn to the domestic problem of high prices and inflation, letting the long-term Marshall Plan aid wait, probably until the regular session in January.

About the long-term aid there will be discussion both of amounts and methods. But Congress is likely to follow the admonitions of Administration heads and its own leaders that the Marshall Plan aid be granted.

Maximum Of Social Truth As Expounded By Catholic Bishops

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. — The words of President Truman's message to Congress should inspire hope in a distraught Europe. They may convey to an America reluctant to make unprecedented appropriations the imperative needs of a war-devastated continent overseas. But the area of receptivity would be much wider of the spiritual foundations of governments and peoples throughout the world were more secure.

To this end is dedicated a noteworthy statement just issued by the Catholic Bishops of the United States, after their annual meeting here, which with a minimum of sectarian doctrine presents a maximum of social truth.

If the words of such a statement could be taken to heart by individuals everywhere, irrespective of their theological beliefs or creeds, the whole world might be transformed into a truly fraternal community. Marshall plans and United Nations organizations would then have a better chance to carry out their ideals and objectives.

Avoid Taking Sides

What stands out in this remarkable document is the implicit style of expression which avoids taking sides on specific pieces of legislation, and emphasizes instead in simple, laymen's language the broad principles that can guide us in the life of the individual, the economic order, and the international community. There will be differences of opinion naturally as to how these principles can be applied but the Catholic bishops' declaration does not attempt to tell Congress or the Representatives of party or faction how they can best interpret their duties and obligations under God. Quotations and excerpts are an inadequate substitute for the text of the whole statement but some extracts may suffice to give the tone and spirit of the declaration:

"No man can disregard God—and play a man's part in God's world. Unfortunately, however, there are many men—and their number is daily increasing — who in practice live their lives without recognizng that this is God's world: For the most part they do not deny God. On formal occasions they may even mention His name. Not all of them would subscribe to the statement that all moral values derive from merely human conventions. But they fail to bring an awareness of God into their thought and action as individuals and members of society. This, in essence is what we mean by secularism. . .

"Secularism does away with accountability to God as a practical consideration in the life of man and thus takes from him the sense of personal guilt of sin before God. It takes account of no law above man-made law. Expediency, decency, and propriety are, in its code, the norms of human behavior. . .

The "moral regeneration which is recognized as absolutely essential for the building of a better world must begin by bringing the individual back to God and to awareness of his responsibility to God. . .

Responsibility To God

"When disregard of his responsibility to God makes the owner forget his stewardship and the social function of private property, there comes that irrational economic individualism which brings misery to millions. Helpless workers are exploited, cutthroat competition and antisocial marketing practices follow. When men in labor organizations lost the right social perspective, which a sense of responsibility to God gives, they are prone to seek merely the victory of their own group, in disregard of personal and property rights. . .

"Atheistic communism, for a time thrown into alliance with democratic nations through Nazi aggression against Russia, stands out plainly today as the force which, through violence and chicanery, is obstructing the establishment of a right juridical order in the international community. That is plain for all to see. But thoughtful men perceive as well that secularism, which over the years has sapped the divinely laid foundations of the moral law, bears a heavy burden of responsibility for the plight of the world today."

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Great Of Then And Now

B. C. FORBES, who pursues the fish, the golf ball and the poker-chip, and tells fantastic stories of Scottish virtues, also publishes a business magazine. And recently, he broke his Scotch heart—and probably his purse—by inviting a multitude of good friends to a dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria to celebrate the thirtieth year of his publication.

Thirty years ago, Forbes made a survey, by various means, of the 50 foremost business leaders of the day. They were:

John D. Archbold, J. Ogden Armour, George F. Baker, A. C. Bedford, Alexander Graham Bell, Andrew Carnegie, H. P. Davison, Robert Dollar, W. L. Douglas, James B. Duke, T. Coleman DuPont, George Eastman, Thomas A. Edison, James A. Farrell, Henry Ford, James B. Forgan, Henry C. Frick, Elbert H. Gary, William A. Gaston, George W. Goethals, Daniel Guggenheim, John Hays Hammond, August Heckscher, A. Barton Hepburn, Samuel Insull, Otto H. Kahn, Minor C. Keith, Darwin P. Kingsley, Cyrus H. McCormick, J. P. Morgan, William H. Nichols, John H. Patterson, George W. Perkins, George M. Reynolds, John D. Rockefeller, Julius Rosenwald, John D. Ryan, Jacob H. Schiff, Charles M. Schwab, John G. Shedd, E. C. Simmons, James Speyer, James Stillman, Theodore N. Vail, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Frank A. Vanderlip, Paul M. Warburg, John N. Willys, Thomas E. Wilson, F. W. Woolworth.

He did the same this year and the following list was chosen by their colleagues:

Winthrop W. Aldrich, Stanley C. Allyyn, John D. Biggers, Lewis H. Brown, Walter S. Carpenter, Jr., Martin W. Clement, John L. Collyer, C. Donald Dallas, Richard R. Deupree, Donald W. Douglas, Willard H. Dow, Benjamin F. Fairless, Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., Henry Ford II, Clarence Francis, L. M. Giannini, Walter S. Gifford, Bernard F. Gimbel, Samuel Goldwyn, Eugene G. Grace, Paul G. Hoffman, Eugene Holman, Charles R. Hook, Eric Johnston, W. Alton Jones, Henry J. Kaiser, K. T. Keller, James F. Lincoln, Leroy A. Lincoln, Henry R. Luce, Charles Luckman, Glenn L. Martin, Thomas W. Martin, Richard K. Mellon, Charles E. Merrill, Fowler McCormick, Ernest E. Norris, Edgar Monsanto Queeny, James H. Rand, Jr., Gordon S. Rentschler, Edward V. Rickenbacker, Nelson A. Rockefeller, David Sarnoff, Emil Schram, Thomas J. Watson, Charles E. Wilson (G. E.) Charles E. Wilson (G. M). General Robert E. Wood, Robert W. Woodruff, Robert R. Young.

There is a whale of a difference between the two lists which tells a good deal about this country. Most of the men, on the 1917 list, were still pioneers, rugged individualists, who had built the businesses they headed. Most of the men in the 1947 list are managerial bureaucrats who had been chosen to head established organizations.

In 1917, businesses were still run by families or close associates of the original founders; in 1947, even such companies as the DuPonts, J. P. Morgan, Eastman Kodak, Woolworth's, are run by hired management. The family business is disappearing.

In 1917, few of the top men had a college education; most of them seem to have started as store clerks of one kind or another. In the 1947 list, nearly everyone went to college or its equivalent. It is an interesting shift of emphasis.

In the 1917 list, fruit and meat packing are given representation; in tre 1947 list, packaged foods, breakfast cereals and coca-cola come to the top. In 1917, soap does not show. In 1947, it appears twice. Thirty years ago, automobiles are represented by Henry Ford and John N. Willys; this year there is Henry Ford II, Paul G. Hoffman, K. T. Keller, C. E. Wilson G.M.) and aviation produces Donald W. Douglas, Glenn L. Martin, and Eddie Rickenbacker.

Quite a fuss was made at this dinner of the three "rich men's sons" who made the list, Henry Ford II, Harvey Firestone, Jr., and Nelson Rockefeller. It seemed to me senseless. In the history of business, it used to be usual for the son to succeed the father for many generations. It was not startling that a competent father trained a competent son.

Maybe the astonishment that three out of 50 were sons of such fathers reflected the assumption of the passing generation that the one at its heels is not good for much. Maybe it is education that does it.

Today's Talk

If You Are A Fighter—With Spirit

For a dozen years or so I have been taking my car to the Cadillac service station in my town to be oiled and fixed up, from time to time. On my first visit I looked around and chose a medium-sized chap with a smile upon his face to take my case—and I have stuck to him. I liked him, his courtesy and his fine spirit.

It was not until a short time ago, that I learned he had been a soldier in the First World War and that he had been a great Hand Ball player before he entered. I learned the story of Eddie Demarest through an acquaintance, and it ran something like this:

As a member of the 11th Engineers (New York), he faced the music, did his job from day to day, and took things in their stride—no matter what—until one day in the Argonne a seventy-seven millimeter messed him up, shattering both legs. They patched him up and sent him to a Base Hospital. It was a litter case and things looked bad. The M.D.'s shook their heads—but not Demarest! That chap had a fighter's heart. It takes more than a cannon ball to wipe out the spirit of a man—and it didn't faze the spirit of my friend.

He watched his old pals play his favorite game. Little by little he moved about, taking brief exercise at this or that. At first he suffered nothing but torture—but he kept drawing on that spirit of his. Progress was slow, but in six months after returning home he was playing singles, and giving tough competition at that. At the end of the year he was entered with his friend Andy O'Brien against two husky piano movers, Dan McGahan and Patty Ryan, for the Metropolitan Championship! It was a notable contest, with such folks as Bugs Baer, Bob Ripley, Charles Ruggles, and others as spectators.

The contest was on. The two piano movers took the first game, 21—14. Then the second went to Demarest and his pal, to the tune of 20—9. The third game was a hummer, they tell me, with Demarest and O'Brien losing in a close game—but the crowd figured otherwise. It was this chap Eddie Demarest who had won his game. He had demonstrated that when you have spirit and heart you have all. Here is encouragement for thousands of like soldier chaps, who also can take heart—and win their game!

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

Hon. Trygve Lie
Secretary-General
The United Nations
Lake Success, New York
Dear Sir:

In a recent speech, Mr. Bernard Baruch said, "We must succeed in making the United Nations live and grow. We cannot count on a third chance."

Hon. Trygve Lie

Ordinarily I pay no attention to speeches. But when one of the best minds on this plane Earth gets worried, I get a little scared myself. Old Silvertop is warning us that if we start throwing the new weapons at each other, there won't be enough World left over to interest a junkman.

Now here's why I'm writing you. Month after month, the delegates at Lake Success go on gabbing as if this were still a bow-and-arrow world. If we could scare the striped pants off them, maybe they'd pull themselves together and work out a sensible set of ground rules for peace.

I think I know how to knock a little sense into their nubbleheads. It involves reading a book, and I assume most of the delegates can read. It's a book called "Pilgrims Through Space and Time" by J. O. Bailey, and I'm sending you a copy. When you're through with it, hand it to Vishinsky.

* * *

A few years back, college professor Bailey wrote an historical study of science fiction. He set out to prove that practically every modern discovery and invention was predicted many years ago by some penny-a-word hack. In obscure books and pulp magazines, these pseudo-scientific scriveners peeked into the future. According to Bailey, their pipe dreams of long ago have turned out to be the nightmares of today.

Bailey's book scared the bejabbers out of me. If these ink-stained gents have been right for centuries, wouldn't it be a good idea to listen to the prophecies of the gents writing science fiction today?

And let me tell you how right they've been.

In 1641, a geezer named John Wilkins wrote a book called "The Secret and Swift Messenger." In it he described cannon- carrying airplanes, flame-throwers, tanks and land mines. For good measure he threw in a chapter about the phonograph in which he predicted everything but Petrillo.

In Bellamy's "Looking Backward" (1888), there's television and escalators. In Percy Greg's "Across the Zodiac" (same time) you can read about automobiles, dictaphones, plastics and talking pictures.

As for Jules Verne and H. G. Wells—well, the boys called the turn on almost everything from submarines to subways. This pair kicked around the radio before Marconi, relativity before Einstein, and animated billboards before Artcraft-Strauss. Even Edgar Allen Poe took a wack at science fiction and painted word-pictures of passenger dirigibles, transatlantic cables, and transcontinental streamlined choo-choos.

* * *

In the wholesale murder business, the phantasy boys have always been two wars ahead of the military. In a book called "Banzai" published in 1908, Ferdinand Grautoff blueprinted the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. And as for atomic energy, so much had been written about it by 1926 that the pulp magazine editors told their writers to get off the subject and try something else.

Currently, the science fiction fellas are predicting a world which will be "barefooted, skin-robed and fireless." Their stories all seem to end the same way. Someone pushes a button and—bloop!—no world. Crazy talk, you say? Well, I wouldn't be so sure. These guys have a record for being right that gives me goose bumps.

After Mr. Vishinsky has read the book, pass it around to the rest of the delegates—ours included.

One more suggestion, Mr. Lie. The next time all the boys are together, you might tell them the oldie about the two chimpanzees who were the only survivors of World War III. When the lady banged-up world around them and chimp tried to cuddle up, her gentleman friend looked at the then pushed her away.

"Aw no!" he said. "We're not going through that darn thing all over again."

Sincerely,
Billy Rose

Stella Scurlock To Be Guest, Woman's Civic Club

To Discuss Youth-Child Guidance And Training

Miss Stella Scurlock, director of the Youth Conservation Program of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will be the guest of the Woman's Civic Club, tomorrow and Thursday, to co-ordinate the youth services of the community.

Meeting with the youth workers of the community, and Mrs. Arthur C. Bright, president of the Woman's Civic Club, at 2 o'clock, tomorrow at the Public Library, Miss Scurlock will obtain an over-all picture of the youth work in the community, in order to formulate her plans to suggest projects for the Woman's Civic Club, which will not overlap with existing work.

Prior to joining the General Federation, Miss Scurlock served with the Children's Bureau of the United States Civil Service department for two years; for 16 years was on the staff of the National Board of the YWCA, working with student groups; was executive director of the YWCA at Jackson, Mich., and Des Moines, Iowa. A graduate of the University of Arkansas and the University of Chicago, she received her Masters degree at Columbia. During her college summer vacations Miss Scurlock taught in country schools, where a regular teacher could not be afforded.

With the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Miss Scurlock endorses the New York State Youth Commission's "Youth Bill of Rights." in maintaining that "each child regardless of race, color or creed," has the right to the affection and intelligent guidance of understanding parents; a decent home in which he or she is adequately fed, clothed and sheltered; the benefits of religious guidance and training; constructive discipline for the proper development of good character, conduct and habits.

A school program, which in addition to sound academic training, offers maximum opportunity for individual development and preparation for living; security in the community against all influences detrimental to proper and wholesome development; to live in a community where adults practice the belief that the welfare of their children is of primary importance.

The individual selection of free and wholesome recreation; protection against employment hazards, which will adversely affect wholesome development and employment opportunities commensurate with training and experience; to receive good adult example; and the right to early diagnosis and treatment of the physically and mentally handicapped and the socially maladjusted at public expense whenever necessary.

Coordinating her ideas and giving her suggestions Miss Scurlock will meet with particularly interested members of the Woman's Civic Club at 10 Thursday morning, prior to the general meeting at 2 o'clock at Emmanuel Episcopal parish house. At the afternoon meeting Miss Scurlock will talk of guidance and training of children and youth in the home and in the community. Mrs. K. E. Jackson will be hostess for the meeting.

Today Mrs. Bright, Miss Elizabeth Lowndes and Miss Henrietta Schwarzenbach will attend the meeting of the Maryland State Federation of Women's Clubs at the Emerson Hotel, Baltimore. Miss Scurlock will accompany them back to Cumberland tonight.

Stella Scurlock To Be Guest, Woman's Civic Club

To Discuss Youth-Child Guidance And Training

Miss Stella Scurlock, director of the Youth Conservation Program of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will be the guest of the Woman's Civic Club, tomorrow and Thursday, to co-ordinate the youth services of the community.

Meeting with the youth workers of the community, and Mrs. Arthur C. Bright, president of the Woman's Civic Club, at 2 o'clock, tomorrow at the Public Library, Miss Scurlock will obtain an over-all picture of the youth work in the community, in order to formulate her plans to suggest projects for the Woman's Civic Club, which will not overlap with existing work.

Prior to joining the General Federation, Miss Scurlock served with the Children's Bureau of the United States Civil Service department for two years; for 16 years was on the staff of the National Board of the YWCA, working with student groups; was executive director of the YWCA at Jackson, Mich., and Des Moines, Iowa. A graduate of the University of Arkansas and the University of Chicago, she received her Masters degree at Columbia. During her college summer vacations Miss Scurlock taught in country schools, where a regular teacher could not be afforded.

With the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Miss Scurlock endorses the New York State Youth Commission's "Youth Bill of Rights," in maintaining that "each child regardless of race, color or creed," has the right to the affection and intelligent guidance of understanding parents; a decent home in which he or she is adequately fed, clothed and sheltered; the benefits of religious guidance and training; constructive discipline for the proper development of good character, conduct and habits.

A school program, which in addition to sound academic training, offers maximum opportunity for individual development and preparation for living; security in the community against all influences detrimental to proper and wholesome development; to live in a community where adults practice the belief that the welfare of their children is of primary importance.

The individual selection of free and wholesome recreation; protection against employment hazards, which will adversely affect wholesome development and employment opportunities commensurate with training and experience; to receive good adult example; and the right to early diagnosis and treatment of the physically and mentally handicapped and the socially maladjusted at public expense whenever necessary.

Coordinating her ideas and giving her suggestions Miss Scurlock will meet with particularly interested members of the Woman's Civic Club at 10 Thursday morning, prior to the general meeting at 2 o'clock at Emmanuel Episcopal parish house. At the afternoon meeting Miss Scurlock will talk of guidance and training of children and youth in the home and in the community. Mrs. K. E. Jackson will be hostess for the meeting.

Today Mrs. Bright, Miss Elizabeth Lowndes and Miss Henrietta Schwarzenbach will attend the meeting of the Maryland State Federation of Women's Clubs at the Emerson Hotel, Baltimore. Miss Scurlock will accompany them back to Cumberland tonight.

Italy Acts To End Boot Heel Riots

ROME, Nov. 17 (AP)—The Italian government has dispatched "a strong column of motorized carabinieri and public security police" into the southeastern province of Puglia to put down disorders and political "agitation" raging in the heel of the Italian geographical boot, the news agency Ansa said tonight.

Political demonstrators set up roadblocks to bar anyone's leaving or entering the towns of Andria, Minervino, Barletta and Trani, the agency said, and at Corato, in the same vicinity, headquarters of the rightist Uomo Qualunque (Common Man) movement was wrecked. Ansa said.

Invaders also smashed offices of the same party in nearby Dolo, and in Manfredonia, north of Bari, 2,000 demonstrators wrecked offices of the Christian Democratic, Common Man and Liberal Parties. Some of them seized the Common Man headquarters for use of the Chamber of Labor.

An orderly farm strike was reported in progress in the province of Bari.

The government move to crush the boot heel disorders came as Premier Alcide De Gasperi, speaking in Naples, said Italian Communists should cease clamoring in order to assure Italy of American financial aid.

ALL B. AND O. RAILROAD DIRECTORS RE-ELECTED

BALTIMORE, Nov. 17. (AP) — All 12 directors of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company were re-elected today at the 121st annual meeting of the stockholders.

Roy B. White, re-elected president, told the stockholders the B. and O. should spend more than $250,000,000 for major improvements and new equipment during the next five to ten years.

He said present net earnings of the company are too low to attract the capital required for such an outlay.

He said that although rail traffic volume is now at a peacetime peak, the margin between income and outgo of the industry is less than three per cent.

The following directors were re-elected: John D. Biggers, Howard Bruce, J. Hamilton Cheston, Stewart McDonald, Arthur W. Steudel, John C. Traphagen and Howard I. Young.

Executive officers to serve for the next year include: C. W. Van Horn, vice president in charge of operation and maintenance; R. L. Snodgrass, vice president in charge of finance; E. H. Burgess, vice president and general counsel; W. L. Price, vice president, executive representative in Chicago; F. J. Goebel, vice president in charge of personnel; H. E. Simpson, vice president-traffic; C. A. Rausch, secretary, and J. J. Jenkins, treasurer.

$300,000,000 U. S. Loan To Canada Is Promised

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 — (AP) — The government promised a $300,000,000 loan to Canada through its Export-Import Bank tonight shortly after Congress met to consider providing billions in aid to Europe.

The bank agreed to dip into its $900,000,000 in lendable funds to help Canada, the United States' number one foreign customer, continue buying "essential equipment and raw materials" in this country.

CHRISTMAS ADVANCED — Peggy Bennett (above), 5, will celebrate Christmas on Thanksgiving Day at Titusville, N. J., because her parents say they fear she may not see the tree if they wait for the traditional date. The child already is blind in one eye and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bennett say doctors advised them she is rapidly losing her sight in the other as the result of whooping cough she had as a baby.

Waitress Rouses Guests When Hotel Catches Fire

RADFORD, Va., Nov. 17 (AP)—A quick-thinking waitress roused all guests in the Dixie Inn Hotel at the outbreak of a morning fire that destroyed the three-story, 37-room brick building today.

Mrs. Vera Saul rang the rooms of the 24 guests and all but two managed to get out before the rapidly-spreading flames blocked normal exits. The two remaining—a woman not immediately identified and Sherman Reese, a permanent resident — were trapped in their third floor rooms but were brought down fire ladders to safety.

Chevalier Cancels

DETROIT, Nov. 17—(AP)—Maurice Chevalier, French entertainer, was forced to cancel his appearance here tonight after the Detroit Federation of Musicians ordered his pianist, Irving Actman, not to appear at the Shubert-Lafayette Theater, Producer Arthur Lesser announced.

Lamarre testified today that early in 1941 he told Meyers that the Aviation Elevtric Company could build fuse boxes to sell for $11 each. But he said Meyers was "very upset" over the estimate and "he finally fixed the price at $44.58. x x x He instructed me on this."

The contract with Bell went through at this figure, Lamarre said.

Court Sidesteps Labor Act Issue

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 — (AP) — The Supreme Court today paved the way for a lower court to uphold, if it sees fit, a provision of the Taft-Hartley Act separating plant guards and rank and file workers for collective bargaining purposes.

The action, in effect, authorized the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at Cincinnati to take another look to determine whether the new labor law nullified one of the Supreme Court's decisions of last term.

In that decision May 19, the high court ruled that plant guards of the two Otis Works plants of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation in Cleveland could be represented only by a union which does not admit rank and file employes as members.

Jones and Laughlin asked the Supreme Court to recognize this provision and amend its decision. This the court refused to do, but authorized the company "without prejudice" to go back to the court of appeals.

10-Point Program

The President said he is sure Congress will "take the right course" at a time when "the future of the free nations of Europe hangs in the balance" and here at home "we already have an alarming degree of inflation" which is "getting worse."

In short, crisp sentences, he told Congress it is "vital and essential" that it pass laws immediately to:

1. "Authorize price ceilings on products in short supply which basically affect the cost of living or industrial production, and to authorize such wage ceilings as are essential to maintain the necessary price ceilings."
2. "Authorize consumer rationing on products in short supply which basically affect the cost of living."
3. "Extend and strengthen rent control."
4. "Restore consumer credit controls x x ."
5. "Extend and strengthen export controls."
6. "Authorize the regulation of speculative trading on the commodity exchanges."
7. "Authorize allocation and inventory control of scarce commodities x x x."
8. "Extend authority to allocate transportation facilities and equipment."
9. Permit measures to encourage marketing of livestock and poultry in a way to obtain the most efficient use of grain.
10. Enable the Agriculture Department to develop conservation practices here, and allow steps to step up food production abroad.

Former Krupp Directors Enter Innocent Pleas

NUERNBERG, Germany, Nov. 17 (AP) — German's cannon makers — Alfried Krupp Von Bohlen Und Halback and 11 former directors of his $2,500,000,000 munition firm — were arraigned today before a United States military tribunal on war crimes charges.

All of them pleaded innocent. They face a possible death penalty if found guilty.

The defendants tensely followed the arraignment proceedings which lasted only a half hour. The court, presided over by Judge H. C. Anderson, Jackson, Tenn., then recessed until December 8 when the trial will begin.

Taft offered his own formula for holding down prices:

For the government to spend less money and to reduce taxes, to limit exports and hold the Marshall foreign aid recovery program "within a reasonable figure," and to control the growth of private debt.

Stassen Opposes Controls

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 17 (AP) — Harold Stassen, avowed candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, told Arkansas GOP leaders tonight he is unalterably opposed to President Truman's demand for reimposed wage-ceilings and consumer rationing.

Commenting at a meeting of Republican state and county committeemen, the former Minnesota Governor declared he would oppose controls even though adoption momentarily might seem politically expedient.

German Clothing Drive Is Aided By Mrs. Wachtel

A former Oakland resident, Mrs. Margaret S. Wachtel, who is residing in Wiesbaden, Germany, with her husband, Maj. Philip D. Wachtel, an officer with the occupational air forces, took part recently in a clothing drive for teen-aged German children in that community.

The drive was sponsored by the AAF German Youth Activities Branch and the Wiesbaden Post, news weekly of headquarters command, U. S Air Forces in Europe.

As a member of the Officers' Wives Club, Mrs. Wachtel takes part regularly in various social events sponsored as part of the German youth activities program, according to an AAF release from Wiesbaden.

Mrs. Wachtel is the daughter of Dr. B. F. Selby, Oakland, and the late Mrs. Anna Selby. A graduate of Oakland High School, she served on the nursing staff of Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore after her graduation from that hospital's school of nursing. She has been overseas with her husband about a year.

$800 Is Added To Chest Drive Fund

Approximately $800 has been added to Cumberland's recent Community Chest campaign fund with approximately that amount turned in by the classified section, it was announced last night following a meeting of the Chest's executive committee.

The fund now stands at $77,871 as compared to the last report of $77,089.55. The goal was $75,393.51.

Additional gifts reported by the classified section raised that section's total to $27,220 on a goal of $24,400.

Of the total amount of the fund raised, $43,500.26 or 56 per cent of the total, was received in cash and the balance in pledges.

Because the campaign exceeded its goal, the executive committee, following a previous recommendation of the board of directors, allowed the Salvation Army the amount of $1,200 for payment on a furnace at the South Cumberland Outpost.

C. E. Bramble, of Local 453, Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union, was elected to the board of directors replacing Mrs. William M. Somerville, who resigned recently.

until the last minute and then move. I've got to make my plans."

He said he has $27,000 worth of airplanes at the local airport "to get rid of" and $10,000 in equipment.

Bids for operation of the airport were scheduled to be opened November 27, originally scheduled as an Airport Commission meeting date, but Mayor Post said last night the meeting has been changed to December 4 because November 27 is Thanksgiving Day.

Graham, apparently not aware that the date of the commission meeting has been changed, said he would be unable to be in Cumberland for opening of the bids on November 27.

$10,000 Crossing

he did a week ago.

Davidson listed as expenses, $156 hospital; $100 physicians; $636 lost in wages; and $1,100 for his car which was sold for $236 in salvage.

The young veteran explained that he is an apprentice machinist at the B & O but due to his injuries has experienced difficulty using his right arm, especially at overhead work.

Harold C. Carl, photographer, identified photographs including aerial photos of the scene. Court attaches expressed the opinion this was the first time aerial photos had been used in a local Court case.

Lt. James E. Van of the city police testified he arrived at the scene at 7:15 a. m. He described the condition of the weather as cloudy and misty and stated the wrecked car was about 150 yards down the track from the crossing. Detective Edwin R. Lilya testified concerning photographs he took at the scene.

Wanda Schade, her father Otis McKee, Paul Knisley, a carpenter, and Ernest Crites who live or were in the vicinity at the time, testified the train did not sound warning devices and they heard no whistle or bell. Knisley estimated the speed of the train at about 40 miles per hour.

Benjamin Wright, hospital superintendent, identified hospital records, and Dr. D. B. Grove testified as to Davidson's injuries and condition.

Attorneys for the Western Maryland Railway, Paul Parsons, Baltimore, and Walter C. Capper, this city, called the train crew and several other Western Maryland men to the stand.

W. H. Minnich, Hagerstown, engineer, testified he did not see the car but the firemen yelled and he began setting emergency brakes immediately. Minnich said his speed was about 30 miles per hour. He was questioned about the distance required to stop a freight train, and said he did everything he could to stop as quickly as possible. Minnich said the train was mostly empty cars and made sufficient noise to be heard at least 200 yards. Empty cars make much more rattle and rumble than loaded ones, he declared.

C. B. Spies, firemen, R. E. Cullison, brakeman, and T. B. Smith, conductor, all of Hagerstown, told much the same story as the engineer.

P. E. Berlin, railroad employee, Hagerstown, testified as to measurements taken at the scene, and Stewart Roth, a Hagerstown official of the railroad, submitted the engine's speed tape record showing speed of the train along its entire run.

Attorneys clashed over numerous technical points and during Lt. Van's testimony, Attorney Capper questioned the officer about city ordinances regulating train traffic in the city.

Capper had objected to introduction of two city ordinances into the case, claiming they are obsolete. One ordinance would make it mandatory that railroads maintain working warning devices or watchmen at all grade crossings, and the other limits speed of trains through the city to 15 miles per hour.

Capper asked Lt. Van if in his 19 years on the police force he could remember any effort to enforce these ordinances, and Lt. Van said he could not recall any court action in such cases.

Richards declared, "the city ordinances may be termed obsolete, but they are still the law and have never been declared invalid by the courts."

Capper intimated the Court of Appeals has ruled on the validation of the ordinances, and the Court sustained his objections pending arguments on the matter later in the case.

The United Democratic Women's Club will meet at 8 tonight at the home of Miss Mary Jo Schellhaus, 9 North Chase Street.

The Civic Section of the Woman's Civic Club will meet at 2 tomorrow at the library.

Girl, 5, Seriously Scalded By Water

Five-year-old Patsy Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lee, Swanton, was admitted to Memorial Hospital last night suffering from second and third degree burns on the right leg and thigh, after a young sister pulled a pan of scalding water down on her.

Hospital attaches said the child was in "good" condition late last night, and added that the father said the girl was playing near the kitchen stove at home when a sister attempted to tilt the pan to see what was in it.

Elwood Norris, 26, Cresaptown, a Kelly-Springfield Tire Company employe, suffered the loss of his right thumb, which was amputated in Memorial after he was injured at work.

Frank Noonan, an employe of the Southern Hotel, North Mechanic Street, was treated in Allegany Hospital, yesterday, after the tips of the second and third fingers on the right hand were "cut off" in a meat grinder at work, attaches reported. He was not admitted.

City's Tax Levy Is 96 Per Cent Collected

Ninety-six per cent of Cumberland's 1947-48 tax levy was collected as of October 31, according to the monthly report on the condition of the levy submitted by City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson.

Of the $710,400 tax levy, $683,029.33 has been collected. Of the total levy of $889,330, the sum of $822,767.09 was collected.

The report on the condition of appropriations showed only one unusual item and that is that the accident awards appropriation is nearing its limit of $1,500.

Already $1,412.31 has been expended, a great part of that going to City Police Officer J. H. Stitcher who was badly burned several months ago.

A balance of $87.69 remains in that account and it was considered likely the appropriation will be exceeded for the first time in some years, Gibson said.

A former Oakland resident, Mrs. Margaret S. Wachtel, who is residing in Wiesbaden, Germany, with her husband, Maj. Philip D. Wachtel, an officer with the occupational air forces, took part recently in a clothing drive for teen-aged German children in that community.

The drive was sponsored by the AAF German Youth Activities Branch and the Wiesbaden Post, news weekly of headquarters command, U. S. Air Forces in Europe.

As a member of the Officers' Wives Club, Mrs. Wachtel takes part regularly in various social events sponsored as part of the German youth activities program, according to an AAF release from Wiesbaden.

Mrs. Wachtel is the daughter of Dr. B. F. Selby, Oakland, and the late Mrs. Anna Selby. A graduate of Oakland High School, she served on the nursing staff of Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore after her graduation from that hospital's school of nursing. $800 Is Added To Chest Drive Fund

Approximately $800 has been added to Cumberland's recent Community Chest campaign fund with approximately that amount turned in by the classified section, it was announced last night following a meeting of the Chest's executive committee.

The fund now stands at $77,871 as compared to the last report of $77,089.55. The goal was $75,393.51.

Additional gifts reported by the classified section raised that section's total to $27,220 on a goal of $34,400.

Of the total amount of the fund raised, $43,500.26 or 56 per cent of the total, was received in cash and the balance in pledges.

Because the campaign exceeded its goal, the executive committee, following a previous recommendation of the board of directors, allowed the Salvation Army the amount of $1,200 for payment on a furnace at the South Cumberland Outpost.

C. E. Bramble, of Local 453, Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union, was elected to the board of directors replacing Mrs. William M. Somerville, who resigned recently.

"Skeets" Starkey Knocks Out Frazier In PBC Show

Knepp Flattens Johnny Tressler In Third Round

Niland Wins "Duke" Over Pennsy Boxer

Randall "Skeets" Starkey launched his 1947-48 ring campaign by knocking out Bill Frazier, negro middleweight of the Diamond Athletic Club, in one minute and 55 seconds of the second round of their scheduled three-round match which topped the Cumberland Police Boys' Club initial amateur show of the year last night at the armory.

Frazier was a last minute substitute as Starkey's opponent when Homer Boone, of Lewistown, Pa., was forced to cancel his engagement here as a result of an arm injury.

Displaying terrific punching power, especially with his right hand, Starkey floored Frazier twice in the first round and as the gong sounded Bill was flat on his face in midring after resting out a nine count on one knee after the first knockdown. As Frazier went canvasward from a hard right to the jaw in the second round he pulled Starkey with him but "Skeets" managed to get to his feet while his foe stayed down for the full count.

Long Delays Mark Show

The Starkey-Frazier match topped a mediocre card that found Matchmaker John Henry Stitcher in a tough spot and lucky enough to scrape together enough talent to go through with the show. He actually had three bouts lined up at 8 p. m., official starting time for the show, and by 8:30 when the bouts finally got under way he managed to arrange six contests. Long delays between bouts due to the lack of proper equipment such as trunks, protection cups, etc., added to Stitcher's woes.

Eight bouts were finally presented but action in the Joe Niland-Elmer Rothrock, Ed Knepp-Johnny Tressler and Starkey-Frazier bouts prevented the show from being a flop.

Ed Knepp, 210-pounder of the Lewistown, Pa., Athletic Club, and Johnny Tressler, local heavyweight, staged a hard fight for two rounds when the Pennsylvanian inserted a stick of dynamite in one of his rights to the jaw to put Tressler down for the count in 1 minute, 38 seconds of the final stanza. Knepp seemed to have the best of the argument up until the time he flattened the local boy.

Niland Decisions Rothrock

Joe Niland, Legion middleweight, outslugged Elmer Rothrock, Lewistown, Pa., 152-pounder, in the fourth match on the card. This was a good scrap throughout with Niland out in front all the way against the rushing style of the Keystone Stater. Joe scored a three-count knockdown in the opening heat and put Rothrock down again in the second for no count.

In the curtain raiser Louis Brannon, Lewistown featherweight, won all three rounds from Johnny House of the Diamond Athletic Club.

The local Legion sent into action a promising lightweight in Earl Long, who belted out an unanimous decision over Bill Braithwaite, of the Police Boys' Club, while Earl Smith, Legion flyweight, proved too good for Jimmie Deetz, stopping the latter in 1:23 of the second round.

Jones Wallops Pough

Bill Jones walloped Ben Pough in the 7th bout and after the latter had bounced off the canvas for about the 12th time Referee Jim Kelley called it quits and awarded Jones a T.K.O. victory in 55 seconds of the third round. Pough was wild as the proverbial March hare and almost went through the ropes and out of the ring on several occasions.

Howard "Red" Bush and Kelley refereed the matches, Randy Millholland and C. V. Burns were the judges, "Bobby" Cavanaugh, timer, and Nelson W. Russler, announced. A total of 395 persons paid to see the show.

European Champion Loses In New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—Johnny Williams, a young lightweight from Montgomery, Ala., spoiled the American debut of Roberto Proietti of Rome tonight by winning a unanimous ten round decision at the St. Nicholas Arena. Proietti, the European champion, weighed 140 pounds to 138½ for Williams.

It was a close bruising struggle with both judges and Referee Jack Appel voting for Williams.

Judge Sidney Scharlen voted seven rounds to three and both Judge Joe Agnello and the referee made it six and five.

Capt. Carter's Team Wins Amvets' Match

Tonight's match brings together the Air Corps and the Navy at 8 p.

Eagan And Hogan Will Investigate Fox-LaMotta Bout

Purses Of Fighters Ordered Withheld

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—In the wake of extremely adverse newspaper criticism and rumors of a "fix" of the Billy Fox-Jake Lamotta fight in Madison Square Garden last night, District Attorney Frank S. Hogan and State Athletic Commission Chairman Edward Eagan today announced they would investigate the bout.

Shortly after Eagan announced that he had ordered the purses of both fighters withheld and that the commission would investigate "the circumstances," Hogan said that he would summon the February grand jury to probe the fight which Fox, Philadelphia light heavyweight contender, won by stopping LaMotta in 2:26 of the fourth round.

Hogan said, "I have read accounts of the Fox-LaMotta exhibition. The sportswriters, who are experienced observers, are practically unanimous in concluding that it was not on the level. If that is true, a crime has been committed. We shall investigate it unsparingly."

Orders Purses Withheld

Earlier, Eagan said that he had ordered the purses withheld because of "newspaper stories" and that the commission would investigate.

In a statement to the press, Eagan said:

"The New York State Athletic Commission is withholding payment of the purses in the main event at Madison Square Garden on Nov. 14 due to newspaper stories written about the contest between Jake LaMotta and Billy Fox.

"At present there is no legal evidence that the contest was not honestly fought by both boxers to the best of their ability. The commission will investigate the circumstances and make its determination after such an investigation."

At the time of the announcement, Eagan said the investigation would take place as soon as possible and that the hearings would be closed. He had indicated that only the commission would be concerned.

Palermo Defends Fox

In Philadelphit, Frank (Blinky) Palermo, manager of Fox, declared that his fighter's actions Friday "were above criticism."

"So long as there was so much panning of the fight, we're satisfied to see the commission investigate it," Palermo added. "They might find out something about LaMotta's showing that we don't know about, but Billy's showing was above criticism. He fought a smart fight and won on his merits."

LaMotta could not be reached immediately for comment. In his dressing room after the fight Friday, the Bronx Battler exclaimed, "I was lousy, wasn't I."

He added that "I just couldn't get going."

The probe will be the first one involving major boxers since the commission last February revoked golden boy Rocky Graziano's license for failing to report a $100,000 bribe for a fight with Reuben Shank that never came off.

Fans Must Get Tickets For Game Before Friday

Persons who have ordered reserved seats for the Fort Hill-Allegany football game on Thanksgiving Day are requested to call for their tickets at Fort Hill High School before Friday, it was announced yesterday by Victor D. Heisey, principal.

Tickets will not be held after Friday.

The trade highlighted Joe Cronin's first public appearance as general manager of the Boston Americans.

Norman Gerdeman Is Shuffleboard League President

County Circuit Will Start In December

At a meeting held at the Amvets home last night the national shuffleboard league of Allegany County was organized. Norman Gerdeman of the Amvets was elected president. Paul Nose of the K. of C., was elected vice-president, and Robert "Ace" Baker, secretary-treasurer. It was voted that the league would go by the National Shuffleboard Rules. A trophy will be awarded the winning team, also prizes to second place and twelfth place inclusive. A franchise fee of ten dollars ($10) will be posted at the next meeting at which time a schedule will be drawn, and contracts will be given to the players.

It was voted to have a roster of twelve men on a team, six regulars and six subs. The league plans to get under way the first week in December.

Those present were:

American Legion, Amvets, K. of C., Martz Cafe, Redman Club, South End Republican Club, V. F. W., all of Cumberland. American Legion and Cresap Tavern from Cresaptown, Burns Tavern, Westernport, Md., Devon Club, Luke, Md.

RHODE ISLAND STATE RUNNER SETS RECORD IN IC-4A RACE MEET

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—Robert Black of Rhode Island State, finished 60 yards in front of Horace Ashenfelter of Penn State today to win the individual championship of the IC-4A cross country meet in Van Cortlandt Park.

Black was clocked in 25 minutes, 37.1 seconds for the five miles. It will go into the books as a record because the course has been changed from previous years.

The two pace-setters, who ran side by side for the first four miles, were followed by Jack Milne of North Carolina, Jack Dianette of Michigan State and Thomas Strider of Army. Thirty-six colleges sent varsity teams. More than 180 runners started.

Larry Ellis of New York University, won the freshman scramble of three miles. Warren O'Druetzler of Michigan State was second. Ellis' time was 14:39.5.

Placing its first five within the first 30, Manhattan College won the varsity team title with a low total of 86 points. Syracuse was second with 107 followed by Army, 116 and Penn State, 116 each; Michigan State, 174, and Rhode Island, 178.

Manhattan also won the freshmen team crown with 50 points, 40 less than New York University. Seton Hall was third with 101.

Football Player Dies

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17 (AP) — Twenty-year-old Marvin Rosenberg died last night several hours after he engaged in a sandlot football game.

Bosox Purchase Stephens, Kramer From St. Louis

Browns To Get Seven Players Plus Cash

By BILL KING

BOSTON, Nov. 17 (AP) — The acquisition of Shortstop Vern (Junior) Stephens and right handed pitcher Jack Kramer from the St. Louis Browns for seven players plus undisclosed cash, estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000, today highlighted Joe Cronin's first public appearance as general manager of the Boston Red Sox.

Smiling broadly and apparently higher pleased with his new job in owner Tom Yawkey's front office, Cronin told baseball writers that the Browns gain immediate possession of infielder Eddie Pellagrini, catcher Roy Partee, both with the Red Sox last season, and pitchers Jim Wilson, Al Widmar and outfielder Pete Layden, members of the Louisville American Association farm team.

To Join Browns Later

Cronin added that two other Red Sox hirelings will be turned over to the Browns later. He refused to discuss the cash involved but in St. Louis, Bill DeWitt, the Browns' general manager, described it as "a substantial amount."

"Stephens, of course, will be the Red Sox' 1948 third baseman," a writer prompted. "Joe McCarthy will decide that," Cronin countered neatly.

It can be taken for granted, however, that Stephens will be called upon to try to plug the third base gap that existed since the Red Sox sold rawhide Jim Tabor to the Phillies in 1944. He alternated between short and third for the Browns in 1945 and appeared at home in each position.

During the past season, Stephens' batting average dropped from .307 to .279 but during his seven years in the American League he has hit effectively against Fenway Park's short left field target.

Kramer Is "Heady" Pitcher

The strong-armed Kramer, who has a fine assortment of curves, is rated as a "heady" pitcher. He appeared in 33 games for the Browns last season, winning 11 and losing 16, and during his eight years in the majors, all with th Browns, he has gone to the mound 214 times while establishing an all-time 66-81 record.

Pellagrini, a Boston-born product who came up through the Red Sox farm system, opened both the 1946-47 seasons as the parent club's third baseman. His fielding and throwing were of big league calibre but his hitting was inconsistent, as his .211 and .203 records attest.

Partee, also a righthand batter, came to the Red Sox in 1943 and never ranked better than a second-string backstop. He clubbed for .281 as a rookie but hit only .231 last season.

Wilson and Widmar had 4-4 and 8-8 records with Louisville last season when Layden batted .270 for the Colonels.

Lu Gambino Paces Maryland Scorers

Terp Back Also Leads Southern Conference

BALTIMORE, Nov. 17 (AP) — Although he didn't score in the North Carolina game Saturday when the Tar Heels beat Maryland, 19-0, Lu Gambino, Terp halfback, still tops state individual point-makers.

Gambino has 84 points in eight games, compared with 48 for Mort Kalus of Johns Hopkins, in second place.

Gambino also leads Southern Conference scorers, but Jack Cloud of William and Mary is close behind. Cloud tallied four times against Washington and Lee, and now has 78 points.

Maryland leaders:

Name	G	TD	PAT	TP
Gambino, Maryland	8	14	0	84
Kalus, J. Hopkins	7	8	0	48
Hawkins, Navy	8	5	1	31
Gannell, West. Md.	6	5	0	30
Corrado, West. Md.	7	3	9	27
Miller, J. Hopkins	7	2	13	25
Mullinix, J. Hopkins	7	4	0	24

Simler, Maryland; Mitchell, Hopkins; Appell, Hopkins; and Piavis, Western Maryland, each have scored 18 points with three touchdowns each.

Bone Chip Is Removed From DiMaggio's Elbow

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP) — Joe DiMaggio had a small bone-chip removed from his right elbow during an operation at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, General Manager George Weiss of the New York Yankees said today.

Weiss said that Dr. George Bennett, who performed the operation, explained to him that the chip, although small, had worked itself on top of a nerve and that the center fielder "must have suffered a great deal every time he tried to throw."

DiMaggio will remain in the hospital for a week, Weiss said.

Teachers Are Unbeaten

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Nov. 17 (AP) — West Chester State Teachers College put its first undefeated record regular season since 1928 in the football record book today and settled back for a two-day holiday before sharpening up workouts for the post-season Burley Bowl contest against Carson-Newman Thanksgiving Day.

WOLVERINE PACE SETTER . . . . By Jack Sords

The Sportlight by GRANTLAND RICE

(Released by The North American Alliance)

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—If comparative scores mean anything, and that is all we have to go by, Michigan moves into the leadership of the pigskin parade or, at least, into a tie with Notre Dame in the wake of the Notre Dame-Northwestern result.

Both top teams have played Pittsburgh and Northwestern. Michigan's total count against this pair happens to be 118 points against 21—Notre Dame's is 66 to 26. This gives Michigan a big bulge both ways—especially on offense.

The mysterious stranger in any group is Northwestern. Here is a team that has lost 6 out of 8 games. Its two victories came by one point. Yet it has scored 27 points against U. C. L. A., 21 points against Michigan, 21 points against Minnesota and 19 against Notre Dame—a total of 88 points against four of the strong teams of the year. And most of the way with a badly crippled squad.

The greatest football scramble is in the South. There is not an unbeaten team left in Dixie, and only Georgia Tech and Virginia have escaped defeat less than twice. Alabama, Vanderbilt, Mississippi, Miss. State, Kentucky and L. S. U. have been whipped two times each. Duke, normally a strong team, has lost two and tied two. Georgia, last year's champion, has taken the big splash three times.

This is what you might call a pretty kettle of fish as far as the various bowls are concerned. The South has been the main source of supply for bowl games and here we have the greatest snarl and tangle in Dixie history. Just at the moment Alabama seems to be the best team in the South. After a slow, chugging start, the Crimson Tide from Tuscaloosa has beaten Duquesne, Tennessee, Georgia, Kentucky and Georgia Tech, on successive Saturdays. Texas also will be a leading bowl choice in the event that S. M. U. remains unbeaten.

There will be five teams needed for the Sugar, Cotton and Orange bowls and the leading contenders will be Texas, Georgia Tech, Alabama, Mississippi, L. S. U. and Vanderbilt. The season's results to date show how thin the margin is. Right now Georgia Tech or Alabama against Texas is as good a Sugar Bowl pick as anything else in sight. All three will be in one bowl or another, leaving the others to head for Dallas or the trail into Miami.

At this spot most of the bowl selection committees are spinning around like a flock of human tops. You can't blame them, looking over the season's records.

Rose Bowl All Set Now

The Rose Bowl gets a brilliant football squad in Michigan where the other choice is almost sure to be Southern California. Even if U.C.L.A. wins the big game Saturday, the two teams will be conference tied. But U.C.L.A. has already dropped three games, two to outsiders.

Southern California has a chance to reach greatness with U.C.L.A., Notre Dame and Michigan left in the road. The Southern California-Notre Dame party, a 105,000 sellout, can easily be Notre Dame's major test since the Trojans have the manpower to match the Irish line and backs.

In the meanwhile accolades, plus a few sprigs of laurel and olive blossoms are due Penn State, Princeton and Army in the East. Penn State, over heavy turf, proved its unbeaten place by a decisive win over Navy. Princeton won the Big Three title with a team that Charlie Caldwell has brought a long way forward and upward since the season opened. This is now a strong Princeton outfit.

Army, who broke up Pennsylvania's victory march, a stout achievement against a strong Penn team of greater experience, rates its share of salutes. But after the Penn game Red Blaik said, "My troubles have just started. There's still Navy—and don't think Navy won't be ready with her chance to wipe out a bad season by beating us. This has been an unlucky Navy team, which means the luck is about due to break her way." Red still remembers the last five minutes of last fall. Who doesn't, who happened to be one of the 104,000 howling crowd?

Penn State may not have played the hardest schedule in the world—but for that matter neither has Notre Dame—through no fault of either team. But both have remained untied and unbeaten, which is the main answer. Bob Higgins has a first-class squad at work, with only Pittsburgh in the road. His only jolt came from Temple in a game played ankle deep in mud and water, where anything can happen. Penn State has a strong line, headed by Suhey at guard, and a hard hitting set of backs. Higgins rates Suhey the best guard he ever coached.

Down in the usually topsy-turvy Southwest both Southern Methodist and Texas look safe enough the rest of the way. S. M. U., one of the few unbeaten, has only Baylor and T. C. U. barring the way ahead. T. C. U. will supply most of the danger left. Texas should take good care of Texas A. and M. Both Texas and S. M. U., with Layne and Walker, are among the best in the country. The usual Texas upsets haven't taken place to date so it is still too early to start awarding any olive wreaths. I've seen too many Texas underdogs suddenly rise up in the past and turn into maneating tigers. It can happen again in a state where each game is played all out. This is just about as tough a football sector as you'll find—in the Big Nine, or anywhere else.

Stan Hack To Manage Des Moines, Cubs' Farm

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 (INS) —Stan Hack, for 16 years the smiling guardian of third base for the Chicago Cubs, today was appointed manager of the Cubs' Des Moines (Ia.) farm club in the Western League.

Hack's unconditional release as an active player came at the end of the past season, during which he saw relatively little action. His lifetime major league batting average before that was .302, and in four world series he amassed the gaudy batting mark of .348.

Bout Is Cancelled

MONTREAL, Nov. 17 (AP) — The scheduled non-title bout between Johnny Greco of Montreal, Canadian welterweight champion, and Billy Arnold of Philadelphia has been cancelled, officials said today the bout, scheduled for Nov. 24, was called off because Arnold cannot make the stipulated weight of 152 pounds.

PGA Will Offer $550,000 For 38 Links Contests

Committee Will Hear Complaint By Ghezzi

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 (AP)—The Professional Golfers Association, opening its annual meeting confronted by a mess of "family trouble," today announced sponsorship of a 38-tournament program with a total prize list of $550,000 for the 1948 season.

Some 70 officers and delegates sedately pushed into a routine opening session of a three-day meeting with little official comment on Ben Hogan's demand for a showdown on "utterly false" accusations that he was involved in a "poison pen" movement to unseat President Ed Dudley and a charge by Vic Ghezzi that he was muscled off the 1947 Ryder Cup squad.

Dudley and George Schneiter, chairman of the player tournament committee, said Ghezzi's protest would be heard by the executive committee late today. Schneiter last night said Ghezzi's public complaining might result in his expulsion from the PGA for breaking the "code of ethics."

The 1948 card for the play-for-play swingers marked a decrease of two tournaments from last year, but the total swag was $42,000 more than the 1947 prize list of $508,000.

Schneiter explained that this was due to the fact that individual tournament sponsors generally had upped prize lists to a $15,000 minimum. He also pointed out that the 1948 program will end Oct. 3 in deference to the football season and weather hazards.

Schwenk Hangs Up Passing Record

Colts' Star Makes 147th Completion

BALTIMORE, Nov. 17 (AP)—Wilson (Bud) Schwenk, star quarterback of the Baltimore Colts, had hi college pass completion record broken Saturday, so he went out Sunday and set a new professional football completion mark.

Schwenk's final pass of the day for a touchdown against the Brooklyn Dodgers in an All-America Conference game was his 147th completion of the season. Furthermore, it broke the record held by the Colts' coach, Cecil Isbell, who completed 146 with Green Bay of the National League in 1942. Both totals were for 11 games.

Charlie Conerly of Mississippi established a new collegiate mark for pass completions against Chattanooga Saturday. Conerly brought his season's total to 120, six more than the record set by Schwenk at Washington University, St. Louis, in 1941.

Schwenk also set two new All-America Conference records yesterday, with 147 completions in 280 tosses. Glenn Dobbs last year completed 134 of 273 a year ago.

Final Nocturnal Game Scheduled At City Stadium

Pioneers Will Play Twice In Five Days

Kept idle by last Saturday's rain, football teams of Romney and LaSalle high schools will battle it out tonight in the Fort Hill stadium at 8 o'clock.

The Pioneers from Hampshire county, W. Va., come to town with a record of five wins and three losses and the fact that they held Keyser and Moorefield to one touchdown victories is an indication that Coach Dick McElwee's team is worthy of giving the Explorers an interesting battle.

LaSalle's last start was a 12-12 tie with Allegany. That snapped the five-game losing streak of Coach John J. Long's team. The North Center Street School team has won two games, lost five and tied one.

The postponement of Saturday's game to tonight gives Romney two games in five days as the South Branch eleven is slated to wind-up its season with Beall High School in Romney on Saturday afternoon.

LaSalle and Beall will close their season when they meet on Thanksgiving Day in Frostburg.

Last fall LaSalle defeated Romney by the score of 26 to 6 and Romney scored a 21 to 0 decision over Beall.

Terp Harriers Win Conference Title

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 17. (AP)—With two of their men running first and second, the University of Maryland's harriers easily captured the Southern Conference cross-country championship today.

Bob Palmer and Jim Umbarger, both freshmen, finished one-two respectively as the Terrapins placed seven of their eight men among the first 15.

Virginia Tech was second and Duke third.

There were 65 runners entered, making it the biggest cross-country meet in conference history. A crowd of approximately 1,000 turned out to watch the start and finish of the running.

Palmer, in finishing first, set a new conference record as he ran the 4.1 mile course in 21 minutes and 22 seconds. Maryland officials said that Palmer's father died yesterday at Long Island, N. Y.

Team scores for the meet were: Maryland, 24; Virginia Tech 73; Duke 87; North Carolina State 103; Virginia Military 135, Davidson 114; North Carolina 181, William and Mary 200; South Carolina 226.

"Skeets" Starkey Knocks Out Frazier In PBC Show

Knepp Flattens Johnny Tressler In Third Round

Niland Wins "Duke" Over Pennsy Boxer

Randall "Skeets" Starkey launched his 1947-48 ring campaign by knocking out Bill Frazier, negro middleweight of the Diamond Athletic Club, in one minute and 55 seconds of the second round of their scheduled three-round match which topped the Cumberland Police Boys' Club initial amateur show of the year last night at the armory.

Frazier was a last minute substitute as Starkey's opponent when Homer Boone, of Lewistown, Pa., was forced to cancel his engagement here as a result of an arm injury.

Displaying terrific punching power, especially with his right hand, Starkey floored Frazier twice in the first round and as the gong sounded Bill was flat on his face in midring after resting out a nine count on one knee after the first knockdown. As Frazier went canvasward from a hard right to the jaw in the second round he pulled Starkey with him but "Skeets" managed to get to his feet while his foe stayed down for the full count.

Long Delays Mark Show

The Starkey-Frazier match topped a mediocre card that found Matchmaker John Henry Stitcher in a tough spot and lucky enough to scrape together enough talent to go through with the show. He actually had three bouts lined up at 8 p. m., official starting time for the show, and by 8:30 when the bouts finally got under way he managed to arrange six contests. Long delays between bouts due to the lack of proper equipment such as trunks, protection cups, etc., added to Stitcher's woes.

Eight bouts were finally presented but action in the Joe Niland-Elmer Rothrock, Ed Knepp-Johnny Tressler and Starkey-Frazier bouts prevented the show from being a flop.

Ed Knepp, 210-pounder of the Lewistown, Pa., Athletic Club, and Johnny Tressler, local heavyweight, staged a hard fight for two rounds when the Pennsylvanian inserted a stick of dynamite in one of his rights to the jaw to put Tressler down for the count in 1 minute, 38 seconds of the final stanza. Knepp seemed to have the best of the argument up until the time he flattened the local boy.

Niland Decisions Rothrock

Joe Niland, Legion middleweight, outslugged Elmer Rothrock, Lewistown, Pa., 152-pounder, in the fourth match on the card. This was a good scrap throughout with Niland out in front all the way against the rushing style of the Keystone Stater. Joe scored a three-count knockdown in the opening heat and put Rothrock down again in the second for no count.

In the curtain raiser Louis Brannon, Lewistown featherweight, won all three rounds from Johnny House of the Diamond Athletic Club.

The local Legion sent into action a promising lightweight in Earl Long, who belted out an unanimous decision over Bill Braithwaite, of the Police Boys' Club, while Earl Smith, Legion flyweight, proved too good for Jimmie Deetz, stopping the latter in 1:23 of the second round.

Jones Wallops Pough

Bill Jones walloped Ben Pough in the 7th bout and after the latter had bounced off the canvas for about the 12th time Referee Jim Kelley called it quits and awarded Jones a T.K.O. victory in 55 seconds of the third round. Pough was wild as the proverbial March hare and almost went through the ropes and out of the ring on several occasions.

Howard "Red" Bush and Kelley refereed the matches, Randy Millholland and C. V. Burns were the judges, "Bobby" Cavanaugh, timer, and Nelson W. Russler, announced. A total of 395 persons paid to see the show.

European Champion Loses In New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—Johnny Williams, a young lightweight from Montgomery, Ala., spoiled the American debut of Roberto Proietti of Rome tonight by winning a unanimous ten round decision at the St. Nicholas Arena. Proietti, the European champion, weighed 140 pounds to 138¼ for Williams.

It was a close bruising struggle with both judges and Referee Jack Appel voting for Williams.

Judge Sidney Scharlen voted seven rounds to three and both Judge Joe Agnello and the referee made it six and five.

Eagan And Hogan Will Investigate Fox-LaMotta Bout

Purses Of Fighters Ordered Withheld

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—In the wake of extremely adverse newspaper criticism and rumors of a "fix" of the Billy Fox-Jake Lamotta fight in Madison Square Garden last night, District Attorney Frank S. Hogan and State Athletic Commission Chairman Edward Eagan today announced they would investigate the bout.

Shortly after Eagan announced that he had ordered the purses of both fighters withheld and that the commission would investigate "the circumstances," Hogan said that he would summon the February grand jury to probe the fight which Fox, Philadelphia light heavyweight contender, won by stopping LaMotta in 2:26 of the fourth round.

Hogan said, "I have read accounts of the Fox-LaMotta exhibition. The sportswriters, who are experienced observers, are practically unanimous in concluding that it was not on the level. If that is true, a crime has been committed. We shall investigate it unsparingly."

Orders Purses Withheld

Earlier, Eagan said that he had ordered the purses withheld because of "newspaper stories" and that the commission would investigate.

In a statement to the press, Eagan said:

"The New York State Athletic Commission is withholding payment of the purses in the main event at Madison Square Garden on Nov. 14 due to newspaper stories written about the contest between Jake LaMotta and Billy Fox.

"At present there is no legal evidence that the contest was not honestly fought by both boxers to the best of their ability. The commission will investigate the circumstances and make its determination after such an investigation."

At the time of the announcement, Eagan said the investigation would take place as soon as possible and that the hearings would be closed. He had indicated that only the commission would be concerned.

Palermo Defends Fox

In Philadelphia, Frank (Blinky) Palermo, manager of Fox, declared that his fighter's actions Friday "were above criticism."

"So long as there was so much panning of the fight, we're satisfied to see the commission investigate it," Palermo added. "They might find out something about LaMotta's showing that we don't know about, but Billy's showing was above criticism. He fought a smart fight and won on his merits."

LaMotta could not be reached immediately for comment. In his dressing room after the fight Friday, the Bronx Battler exclaimed, "I was lousy, wasn't I."

He added that "I just couldn't get going."

The probe will be the first one involving major boxers since the commission last February revoked golden boy Rocky Graziano's license for failing to report a $100,000 bribe for a fight with Reuben Shank that never came off.

Norman Gerdeman Is Shuffleboard League President

At a meeting held at the Amvets home last night the national shuffleboard league of Allegany County was organized. Norman Gerdeman of the Amvets was elected president. It was voted to have a roster of twelve men on a team, six regulars and six subs. The league plans to get under way the first week in December.

Those present were:

American Legion, Amvets, K. of C., Martz Cafe, Redman Club, South End Republican Club, V. F. W., all of Cumberland. American Legion and Cresap Tavern from Cresaptown, Burns Tavern, Westernport, Md., Devon Club, Luke, Md.

RHODE ISLAND STATE RUNNER SETS RECORD IN IC-4A RACE MEET

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—Robert Black of Rhode Island State, finished 60 yards in front of Horace Ashenfelter of Penn State today to win the individual championship of the IC-4A cross country meet in Van Cortlandt Park.

Black was clocked in 25 minutes, 37.1 seconds for the five miles. It will go into the books as a record because the course has been changed from previous years.

The two pace-setters, who ran side by side for the first four miles, were followed by Jack Milne of North Carolina, Jack Dianette of Michigan State and Thomas Strider of Army. Thirty-six colleges sent varsity teams. More than 180 runners started.

Larry Ellis of New York University, won the freshman scramble of three miles. Warren O'Druetzler of Michigan State was second. Ellis' time was 14:39.5.

Placing its first five within the first 30, Manhattan College won the varsity team title with a low total of 86 points. Syracuse was second with 107 followed by Army, 116 and Penn State, 116 each; Michigan State, 174, and Rhode Island, 178.

Manhattan also won the freshmen team crown with 50 points, 40 less than New York University. Seton Hall was third with 101.

His parents stated he was able to walk off the field himself but took a turn for the worse.

Bosox Purchase Stephens, Kramer From St. Louis

By BILL KING

BOSTON, Nov. 17 (AP) — The acquisition of Shortstop Vern (Junior) Stephens and right handed pitcher Jack Kramer from the St. Louis Browns for seven players plus undisclosed cash, estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000, today highlighted Joe Cronin's first public appearance as general manage. of the Boston Red Sox.

Smiling broadly and apparently higher pleased with his new job in owner Tom Yawkey's front office, Cronin told baseball writers that the Browns gain immediate possession of infielder Eddie Pellagrini, catcher Roy Partee, both with the Red Sox last season, and pitchers Jim Wilson, Al Widmar and outfielder Pete Layden, members of the Louisville American Association farm team.

To Join Browns Later

Cronin added that two other Red Sox hirelings will be turned over to the Browns later. He refused to discuss the cash involved but in St. Louis, Bill DeWitt, the Browns' general manager, described it as "a substantial amount."

"Stephens, of course, will be the Red Sox' 1948 third baseman," a writer prompted. "Joe McCarthy will decide that," Cronin countered neatly.

It can be taken for granted, however, that Stephens will be called upon to try to plug the third base gap that existed since the Red Sox sold rawhide Jim Tabor to the Phillies in 1944. He alternated between short and third for the Browns in 1945 and appeared at home in each position.

During the past season, Stephens' batting average dropped from .307 to .279 but during his seven years in the American League he has hit effectively against Fenway Park's short left field target.

Kramer Is "Heady" Pitcher

The strong-armed Kramer, who has a fine assortment of curves, is rated as a "heady" pitcher. He appeared in 33 games for the Browns last season, winning 11 and losing 16, and during his eight years in the majors, all with th Browns, he has gone to the mound 214 times while establishing an all-time 66-81 record.

Pellagrini, a Boston-born product who came up through the Red Sox farm system, opened both the 1946-47 seasons as the parent club's third baseman. His fielding and throwing were of big league calibre but his hitting was inconsistent, as his .211 and .203 records attest.

Partee, also a righthand batter, came to the Red Sox in 1943 and never ranked better than a second-string backstop. He clubbed for .281 as a rookie but hit only .231 last season.

Wilson and Widmar had 4-4 and 8-8 records with Louisville last season when Layden batted .270 for the Colonels.

Lu Gambino Paces Maryland Scorers

Terp Back Also Leads Southern Conference

BALTIMORE, Nov. 17 (AP) — Although he didn't score in the North Carolina game Saturday when the Tar Heels beat Maryland, 19-0, Lu Gambino, Terp halfback, still tops state individual point-makers.

Gambino has 84 points in eight games, compared with 48 for Mort Kalus of Johns Hopkins, in second place.

Gambino also leads Southern Conference scorers, but Jack Cloud of William and Mary is close behind. Cloud tallied four times against Washington and Lee, and now has 78 points.

Kalus, J. Hopkins	7	8	0	48

Corrado, West. Md.	7	3	9	27
Miller, J. Hopkins	7	2	13	25

Simler, Maryland; Mitchell, Hopkins; Appell, Hopkins; and Piavis, Western Maryland, each have scored 18 points with three touchdowns each.

Bone Chip Is Removed From DiMaggio's Elbow

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP) — Joe DiMaggio had a small bone-chip removed from his right elbow during an operation at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, General Manager George Weiss of the New York Yankees said today.

Weiss said that Dr. George Bennett, who performed the operation, explained to him that the chip, although small, had worked itself on top of a nerve and that the center fielder "must have suffered a great deal every time he tried to throw."

DiMaggio will remain in the hospital for a week, Weiss said.

COACH FRITZ CRISLER RATES BOB IN A CLASS WITH MICHIGAN'S IMMORTAL PASSER, BENNY FRIEDMAN

The Sportlight by GRANTLAND RICE

(Released by The North American Alliance)

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—If comparative scores mean anything, and that is all we have to go by, Michigan moves into the leadership of the pigskin parade or, at least, into a tie with Notre Dame in the wake of the Notre Dame-Northwestern result.

Both top teams have played Pittsburgh and Northwestern. Michigan's total count against this pair happens to be 118 points against 21—Notre Dame's is 66 to 26. This gives Michigan a big bulge both ways—especially on offense.

The mysterious stranger in any group is Northwestern. Here is a team that has lost 6 out of 8 games. Its two victories came by one point. Yet it has scored 27 points against U. C. L. A., 21 points against Michigan, 21 points against Minnesota and 19 against Notre Dame—a total of 88 points against four of the strong teams of the year. And most of the way with a badly crippled squad.

The greatest football scramble is in the South. There is not an unbeaten team left in Dixie, and only Georgia Tech and Virginia have escaped defeat less than twice. Alabama, Vanderbilt, Mississippi, Miss. State, Kentucky and L. S. U. have been whipped two times each. Duke, normally a strong team, has lost two and tied two. Georgia, last year's champion, has taken the big splash three times.

This is what you might call a pretty kettle of fish as far as the various bowls are concerned. The South has been the main source of supply for bowl games and here we have the greatest snarl and tangle in Dixie history. Just at the moment Alabama seems to be the best team in the South. After a slow, chugging start, the Crimson Tide from Tuscaloosa has beaten Duquesne, Tennessee, Georgia, Kentucky and Georgia Tech, on successive Saturdays. Texas also will be a leading bowl choice in the event that S. M. U. remains unbeaten.

There will be five teams needed for the Sugar, Cotton and Orange bowls and the leading contenders will be Texas, Georgia Tech, Alabama, Mississippi, L. S. U. and Vanderbilt. The season's results to date show how thin the margin is. Right now Georgia Tech or Alabama against Texas is as good a Sugar Bowl pick as anything else in sight. All three will be in one bowl or another, leaving the others to head for Dallas or the trail into Miami.

At this spot most of the bowl selection committees are spinning around like a flock of human tops. You can't blame them, looking over the season's records.

Rose Bowl All Set Now

The Rose Bowl gets a brilliant football squad in Michigan where the other choice is almost sure to be Southern California. Even if U.C.L.A. wins the big game Saturday, the two teams will be conference tied. But U.C.L.A. has already dropped three games, two to outsiders.

Southern California has a chance to reach greatness with U.C.L.A., Notre Dame and Michigan left in the road. The Southern California-Notre Dame party, a 105,000 sellout, can easily be Notre Dame's major test since the Trojans have the manpower to match the Irish line and backs.

In the meanwhile accolades, plus a few sprigs of laurel and olive blossoms are due Penn State, Princeton and Army in the East. Penn State, over heavy turf, proved its unbeaten place by a decisive win over Navy. Princeton won the Big Three title with a team that Charlie Caldwell has brought a long way forward and upward since the season opened. This is now a strong Princeton outfit.

Army, who broke up Pennsylvania's victory march, a stout achievement against a strong Penn team of greater experience, rates its share of salutes. But after the Penn game Red Blaik said, "My troubles have just started. There's still Navy—and don't think Navy won't be ready with her chance to wipe out a bad season by beating us. This has been an unlucky Navy team, which means the luck is about due to break her way." Red still remembers the last five minutes of last fall. Who doesn't, who happened to be one of the 104,000 howling crowd?

Penn State may not have played the hardest schedule in the world—but for that matter neither has Notre Dame—through no fault of either team. But both have remained untied and unbeaten, which is the main answer. Bob Higgins has a first-class squad at work, with only Pittsburgh in the road. His only jolt came from Temple in a game played ankle deep in mud and water, where anything can happen. Penn State has a strong line, headed by Suhey at guard, and a hard hitting set of backs. Higgins rates Suhey the best guard he ever coached.

Down in the usually topsy-turvy Southwest both Southern Methodist and Texas look safe enough the rest of the way. S. M. U., one of the few unbeaten, has only Baylor and T. C. U. barring the way ahead. T. C. U. will supply most of the danger left. Texas should take good care of Texas A. and M. Both Texas and S. M. U., with Layne and Walker, are among the best in the country. The usual Texas upsets haven't taken place to date so it is still too early to start awarding any olive wreaths. I've seen too many Texas underdogs suddenly rise up in the past and turn into maneating tigers. It can happen again in a state where each game is played all out. This is just about as tough a football sector as you'll find—in the Big Nine, or anywhere else.

Stan Hack To Manage Des Moines, Cubs' Farm

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 (INS) —Stan Hack, for 16 years the smiling guardian of third base for the Chicago Cubs, today was appointed manager of the Cubs' Des Moines (Ia.) farm club in the Western League.

Hack's unconditional release as an active player came at the end of the past season, during which he saw relatively little action. His lifetime major league batting average before that was .302, and in four world series he amassed the gaudy batting mark of .348.

PGA Will Offer $550,000 For 38 Links Contests

Committee Will Hear Complaint By Ghezzi

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 (AP)—The Professional Golfers Association, opening its annual meeting confronted by a mess of "family trouble," today announced sponsorship of a 38-tournament program with a total prize list of $550,000 for the 1948 season.

Some 70 officers and delegates sedately pushed into a routine opening session of a three-day meeting with little official comment on Ben Hogan's demand for a showdown on "utterly false" accusations that he was involved in a "poison pen" movement to unseat President Ed Dudley and a charge by Vic Ghezzi that he was muscled off the 1947 Ryder Cup squad.

Dudley and George Schneiter, chairman of the player tournament committee, said Ghezzi's protest would be heard by the executive committee late today. Schneiter last night said Ghezzi's public complaining might result in his expulsion from the PGA for breaking the "code of ethics."

The 1948 card for the play-for-play swingers marked a decrease of two tournaments from last year, but the total swag was $42,000 more than the 1947 prize list of $508,000.

Schneiter explained that this was due to the fact that individual tournament sponsors generally had upped prize lists to a $15,000 minimum. He also pointed out that the 1948 program will end Oct. 3 in deference to the football season and weather hazards.

Schwenk Hangs Up Passing Record

Colts' Star Makes 147th Completion

BALTIMORE, Nov. 17 (AP)—Wilson (Bud) Schwenk, star quarterback of the Baltimore Colts, had hi college pass completion record broken Saturday, so he went out Sunday and set a new professional football completion mark.

Schwenk's final pass of the day for a touchdown against the Brooklyn Dodgers in an All-America Conference game was his 147th completion of the season. Furthermore, it broke the record held by the Colts' coach, Cecil Isbell, who completed 146 with Green Bay of the National League in 1942. Both totals were for 11 games.

Charlie Conerly of Mississippi established a new collegiate mark for pass completions against Chattanooga Saturday. Conerly brought his season's total to 120, six more than the record set by Schwenk at Washington University, St. Louis, in 1941.

Schwenk also set two new All-America Conference records yesterday, with 147 completions in 280 tosses. Glenn Dobbs last year completed 134 of 273 a year ago.

Final Nocturnal Game Scheduled At City Stadium

Pioneers Will Play Twice In Five Days

Kept idle by last Saturday's rain, football teams of Romney and LaSalle high schools will battle it out tonight in the Fort Hill stadium at 8 o'clock.

The Pioneers from Hampshire county, W. Va., come to town with a record of five wins and three losses and the fact that they held Keyser and Moorefield to one touchdown victories is an indication that Coach Dick McElwee's team is worthy of giving the Explorers an interesting battle.

LaSalle's last start was a 12-12 tie with Allegany. That snapped the five-game losing streak of Coach John J. Long's team. The North Center Street School team has won two games, lost five and tied one.

The postponement of Saturday's game to tonight gives Romney two games in five days as the South Branch eleven is slated to wind-up its season with Beall High School in Romney on Saturday afternoon.

LaSalle and Beall will close their season when they meet on Thanksgiving Day in Frostburg.

Last fall LaSalle defeated Romney by the score of 26 to 6 and Romney scored a 21 to 0 decision over Beall.

McDermott Is Awarded To Sheboygan Quintet

CHICAGO, Nov. 17—(AP)—The National Basketball League today refused to grant a Chicago franchise to the American Gears of the defunct Professional Basketball League of America and instead distributed Gears players, among them George Mikan and Bobby McDermott, to National loop members.

Mikan, reportedly the highest salaried player in professional basketball history, was assigned to the Minneapolis Club, and McDermott, a player-coach and one of the National League's greatest performers before the Gears jumped from that circuit to the ill-fated P.B.L.A., was awarded to Sheboygan, Wis.

Paul Walk of Indianapolis, National League president, said the league next season would reconsider the question of granting a Chicago franchise and that the Gear players would be re-assigned to that city if a charter was awarded.

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 17 (AP)—Selections of teams for the 1948 Orange Bowl classic has narrowed down to five colleges — Alabama, Georgia Tech, Texas, North Carolina and Virginia—the Orange Bowl committee said today.

Two teams under consideration were eliminated Saturday in upsets when Oklahoma knocked out Missouri and ISU defeated Mississippi State.

Pacific Coast Pilots Retained For 1948

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—(AP)—All Pacific Coast League baseball managers of the past season have been retained as pilots for 1948. Frank (Lefty) O'Doul will be starting his 14th year as manager of San Francisco.

The other managers are Joe White, Seattle; Casey Stengel, Oakland; Jimmy Dykes, Hollywood; Jim Turner, Portland; Jimmy (Rip) Collins, San Diego; Dick Bartell, Sacramento and Bill Kelly, Los Angeles. Kelly led Los Angeles to the 1947 pennant and Governor's Cup playoff crown.

More Foul Play

NEW YORK—(AP)—Players in the Basketball Association of America will be allowed a total of six fouls per game this season before being ejected. The eight teams in the Association play 48 minute games as contrasted with 40 minute contests among colleges, where only five fouls are allowed. BAA officials used this measuring basis of one foul for every eight minutes of play in changing the rule this year.

Berlin Seeks Games

Berlin (Pa.) High School has the following basketball dates open: December 19, 23 and 30; January 2, 16 and 30, and February 27. Junior varsity games as preliminaries also are desired.

Schools interested are requested to contact Coach John Lichvar at Berlin-Brothers Valley High School immediately.

McDermott Is Awarded To Sheboygan Quintet

CHICAGO, Nov. 17—(AP)—The National Basketball League today refused to grant a Chicago franchise to the American Gears of the defunct Professional Basketball League of America and instead distributed Gears players, among them George Mikan and Bobby McDermott, to National loop members.

Mikan, reportedly the highest salaried player in professional basketball history, was assigned to the Minneapolis Club, and McDermott, a player-coach and one of the National League's greatest performers before the Gears jumped from that circuit to the ill-fated P.B.L.A., was awarded to Sheboygan, Wis.

Paul Walk of Indianapolis, National League president, said the league next season would reconsider the question of granting a Chicago franchise and that the Gear players would be re-assigned to that city if a charter was awarded.

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 17 (AP)—Selections of teams for the 1948 Orange Bowl classic has narrowed down to five colleges — Alabama, Georgia Tech, Texas, North Carolina and Virginia—the Orange Bowl committee said today.

Two teams under consideration were eliminated Saturday in upsets when Oklahoma knocked out Missouri and ISU defeated Mississippi State.

Six other American players will be invited to join the American team.

Pacific Coast Pilots Retained For 1948

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—(AP)—All Pacific Coast League baseball managers of the past season have been retained as pilots for 1948. Frank (Lefty) O'Doul will be starting his 14th year as manager of San Francisco.

More Foul Play

NEW YORK—(AP)—Players in the Basketball Association of America will be allowed a total of six fouls per game this season before being ejected. The eight teams in the Association play 48 minute games as contrasted with 40 minute contests among colleges, where only five fouls are allowed. BAA officials used this measuring basis of one foul for every eight minutes of play in changing the rule this year.

Berlin Seeks Games

Berlin (Pa.) High School has the following basketball dates open: December 19, 23 and 30; January 2, 16 and 30, and February 27. Junior varsity games as preliminaries also are desired.

Schools interested are requested to contact Coach John Lichvar at Berlin-Brothers Valley High School immediately.

PARSONS, W. Va.—Andrew J. Diamond, superintendent of the Davis Coal and Coke of Thomas in partnership with C. O. Gallaher, a mechanic and electrician for 35 years in the coal industry, have opened a new drift mine in Thomas.

Mr. Diamond stated that the land has been leased from the Davis Coal and Coke and at present 29 men are employed with Thomas Ford as superintendent. The mine is in the Bunker Hill section of Thomas and is known as the Bakertown stream, containing the highest grade of coal in this vicinity. The men are taking the coal that could not be mined underground while Mine No. 23 was in operation.

At the present time, Diamond said the men were mining about 100 tons of coal per day and is trucking it to a railroad siding for shipment. He said more men would be hired as the work necessitated and they did not know how long it would take to mine the coal near the top of the surface there.

Toy Radio Fills Bill When Big Sets Fail

WEST PALM BEACH, FLA. — (AP)—A toy she bought for her grandson turned out to be the only source of contact Mrs. William E. Wilmer had with the outside world when all forms of communication went dead during a recent hurricane.

The toy was a wrist radio operating without batteries, tubes or electricity. It received broadcasts when there was no electricity to power the house-radios and Mrs. Wilmer says it enabled her to keep in contact with warnings and the progress and course of the storm.

New Drift Mine Opened At Thomas

Diamond And Gallaher Employ 29 Workers

By HELEN COLLETT

PARSONS, W. Va.—Andrew J. Diamond, superintendent of the Davis Coal and Coke of Thomas in partnership with C. O. Gallaher, a mechanic and electrician for 35 years in the coal industry, have opened a new drift mine in Thomas.

Mr. Diamond stated that the land has been leased from the Davis Coal and Coke and at present 29 men are employed with Thomas Ford as superintendent. The mine is in the Bunker Hill section of Thomas and is known as the Bakertown stream, containing the highest grade of coal in this vicinity. The men are taking the coal that could not be mined underground while Mine No. 23 was in operation.

At the present time, Diamond said the men were mining about 100 tons of coal per day and is trucking it to a railroad siding for shipment. He said more men would be hired as the work necessitated and they did not know how long it would take to mine the coal near the top of the surface there.

Toy Radio Fills Bill When Big Sets Fail

WEST PALM BEACH, FLA. —(AP)—A toy she bought for her grandson turned out to be the only source of contact Mrs. William E. Wilmer had with the outside world when all forms of communication went dead during a recent hurricane.

The toy was a wrist radio operating without batteries, tubes or electricity. It received broadcasts when there was no electricity to power the house-radios and Mrs. Wilmer says it enabled her to keep in contact with warnings and the progress and course of the storm.

Council Considers Parking Area And Opening Canal St.

Opening of Canal Street through to Mechanic or Wineow Street and acquisition of downtown land for development of a parking area were considered yesterday by the Mayor and Council.

The parking area plan was looked upon favorably but action was delayed due to financial considerations.

City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer, who proposed three plans for connecting Canal Street with Mechanic Street, was authorized to make a further study and estimates of cost.

One of Rizer's plans would cut a road through Western Maryland Railway property to reach Mechanic in the vicinity of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company store, but this was ruled out as being undesirable.

The other two plans provide for a connection to be made with Howard Street and then with Mechanic. One of these was discarded on the grounds of being too costly, but Rizer was authorized to pursue the third plan further, to ascertain ownership and posible cost of property which would have to be acquired. The engineer presented no proposal for connecting with Wineow Street.

Another step in getting flood control for Cumberland and Ridgeley was taken when the council approved a resolution pledging to meet the local financial cost. The Board of Allegany County Commissioners and the Town of Ridgeley will be asked to pass similar resolutions. The action was taken at the request of Col. Donald G. White, district engineer of the Army Engineers.

The Council agreed to purchase 210 four-way street markers from the Lyle Sign Company, Minneapolis, Minn., at a cost of $1,775.12. Bids were received last week and a formal acceptance order is scheduled to be passed next Monday.

Purchase of four acres of land in the vicinity of the Fort Hill reservoir from the Holzshu Realty Company was authorized. The land will be added to Constitution Park.

Commissioner William V. Keegan was authorized to advertise for bids for 40 new Colt official police revolvers.

City's Restaurants Will Be Surveyed For Grading Soon

A survey of all eating and drinking establishments in the city during the next month in order to grade them starting January 1, 1948, is planned by the Cumberland Health Department, according to Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city health officer.

The survey will be under the direct supervision of J. Byron Dowling, state sanitarian, who will grade restaurants following the survey.

A city ordinance providing for periodical checks of eating places and grading of restaurants was passed in 1945, but full provisions of the law were held in abeyance until the places could make necessary changes and repairs to meet regulations.

Grade A ratings were awarded 18 restaurants in the city about a year ago, but penalties under the ordinance were not put into effect.

The city ordinance on eating places provides several ratings and the lower ones can be in force only for short periods, during which changes must be made to meet requirements. If necessary changes are not made the restaurant can be closed by the Health Department.

At intervals, the Health Department has conducted courses for waitresses and restaurant managers with lectures and pictures showing the best methods of handling foods in a sanitary manner.

Dowling said more than $200,000 has been spent by various restaurants, and that most of the money was used for new equipment, such as sanitary facilities, washing devices and replacement of obsolete equipment.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Widower Enjoys "Single-Blessedness" But Has Woman, 40, Confused

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I have been deeply in love with a man for nine years. When I first got acquainted with him, he was married and had no children. He told me he loved me very much, but I did not bother with him except for talking with him when I met him going to and from my work, but if anything ever happened to his wife he would want to marry me.

Well, his wife did pass away over two years ago now, and I have been keeping company with him since then. He says now that he loves only me but that he doesn't want to get married. He goes with no one else. I am 40 years old and single.

"CONFUSED WOMAN"

Dear "Confused":

It sounds to me as though this man, having had a taste of bachelor life, is in no hurry to take on the responsibility of a wife again. It is not at all unusual to find a man who is quite satisfied with the single life, particularly if he has a woman friend who is content to be a "platonic companion" to him. A woman like yourself, however, is hardly likely to be content with such a role indefinitely, unless it comes under the heading of the familiar saying: "Half a loaf is better than no bread." In other words, if you prefer such male companionship to doing without any at all, then you are going to have to accept its limitations as philosophically as possible.

There is always the chance, of course, that if this man gets the idea he may lose you entirely, unless he changes his ideas, it may start him thinking more favorably of a second marriage. You might consider the possibility of declining some of his invitations for a companionable evening and see how he reacts.

Credit Arranged

The Celanese Corporation of America has arranged a $25,000,000 two-year stand-by credit with a group of banking institutions headed by the Bank of the Manhattan Company, it was announced in New York yesterday.

The credit, if used during the two-year period, will be repayable to the extent of 70 per cent over the increasing five years and balance of 30 per cent on Nov. 15, 1954.

A three-ton slab of steel (30 inches wide, 150 inches long and 5 inches thick) can be rolled into a 750-foot length of sheet steel (30 inches wide and 0.080 inch thick) in 90 seconds in a recently constructed continuous hot strip mill.

Dairymen Urged To Aid Grain Saving Program

Dairymen in this area are being urged to participate in the national program to save grain, and according to Ralph F. McHenry, county farm agent, it is suggested that dairymen carefully cull low producers from their herds.

McHenry said, "in view of the shortage of milk, this is a hard thing to do, but nevertheless unprofitable cows should be culled, even when high markets prevail."

It is true that there is less grain on farms where there is an abundance of good legume hay this time of the year, and more rigid methods of culling might be carried out next spring when pastures come in, McHenry explained.

The farm agent also suggested that other practices which might help the grain situation should include feeding grain according to a cow's milk production, breeding artificially and feeding the bull's food to a good milk cow, grinding cow feed, not exposing herds to bad weather, planning a pasture program which will meet the needs of the coming year, and applying phosphates and lime to larger pasture acreage.

Navajo bridge in northern Arizona is the only highway bridge crossing the turbulent Colorado River for approximately 1,000 miles—from Boulder Dam to Moab, Utah.

Moslem or Muslim is a common designation in the west for Mohammedan. It comes from the Arabic "muslim," a derivation of "salima," to be safe, which is often used by Mohammed in the sense of self-resigned, "submissive."

In 1844, John A. Roebling used wire rope in the first suspension viaduct built at Pittsburgh. It proved quite successful, and Roebling contracted to build similar ones over the Delaware and Hudson canal and the Niagara river.

Council Considers Parking Area And Opening Canal St.

Opening of Canal Street through to Mechanic or Wineow Street and acquisition of downtown land for development of a parking area were considered yesterday by the Mayor and Council.

The parking area plan was looked upon favorably but action was delayed due to financial considerations.

City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer, who proposed three plans for connecting Canal Street with Mechanic Street, was authorized to make a further study and estimates of cost.

One of Rizer's plans would cut a road through Western Maryland Railway property to reach Mechanic in the vicinity of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company store, but this was ruled out as being undesirable.

The other two plans provide for a connection to be made with Howard Street and then with Mechanic. One of these was discarded on the grounds of being too costly, but Rizer was authorized to pursue the third plan further, to ascertain ownership and posible cost of property which would have to be acquired. The engineer presented no proposal for connecting with Wineow Street.

Another step in getting flood control for Cumberland and Ridgeley was taken when the council approved a resolution pledging to meet the local financial cost. The Board of Allegany County Commissioners and the Town of Ridgeley will be asked to pass similar resolutions. The action was taken at the request of Col. Donald G. The Council agreed to purchase 210 four-way street markers from the Lyle Sign Company, Minneapolis, Minn., at a cost of $1,775.12. Bids were received last week and a formal acceptance order is scheduled to be passed next Monday.

City's Restaurants Will Be Surveyed For Grading Soon

A survey of all eating and drinking establishments in the city during the next month in order to grade them starting January 1, 1948, is planned by the Cumberland Health Department, according to Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city health officer.

The survey will be under the direct supervision of J. Byron Dowling, state sanitarian, who will grade restaurants following the survey.

A city ordinance providing for periodical checks of eating places and grading of restaurants was passed in 1945, but full provisions of the law were held in abeyance until the places could make necessary changes and repairs to meet regulations.

Grade A ratings were awarded 18 restaurants in the city about a year ago, but penalties under the ordinance were not put into effect.

The city ordinance on eating places provides several ratings and the lower ones can be in force only for short periods, during which changes must be made to meet requirements. If necessary changes are not made the restaurant can be closed by the Health Department.

At intervals, the Health Department has conducted courses for waitresses and restaurant managers with lectures and pictures showing the best methods of handling foods in a sanitary manner.

Dowling said more than $200,000 has been spent by various restaurants, and that most of the money was used for new equipment, such as sanitary facilities, washing devices and replacement of obsolete equipment.

Rent Rise Must Figure Out To Last Penny

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—A rent increase of 15 percent means just that and not two cents more.

J. A. M. Wilson, New Orleans real estate man, told the National Association of Real Estate Boards that he had all papers returned by the local rent director because the rent was listed at $48.90 instead of $48.88.

He argued that rents were set at the nearest amount to avoid handling pennies and that this often resulted in tenants getting a two-cent bonus, but he was overruled.

The leases had to be redrawn and resubmitted and the rent now stands at $48.88.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (INS) — Gene Tierney got a hurried call from Hollywood to star in "Behind the Iron Curtain," and anti-Communist picture, in which Gene will play a Communist.

Louella Parsons

Gene went to the coast to make arrangements for her picture. All the time she was in New York this last trip she was under suspension for refusing to accept a part in "Walls of Jericho."

When she and 20th parted, the Studio said they would have nothing for her until Jan. 1.

John Carradine can't go to Hollywood to make pictures because his ex-wife is suing him for back alimony there. So John has been off the screen for quite sometime.

He's solved that problem very conveniently by signing to appear in "Close Up," the picture I told you Harry Brandt, of the Independent theatre owners, was making in New York.

Alan Baxter and Philip Huston are also in the cast, and shooting started yesterday with Jack Donohue directing. A five story Mansion has been rented here for the interior scenes. The firm is called Marathon Pictures and Frank Satenstein is producer.

The following letter is from one Mr. Samuel Cummins and the bracket comments are mine. He writes:

"In reference to your column comment regarding Hedy Lemarr threatening to stop the showing of 'Ecstacy,' please be advised that on the advice of counsel we are proceeding with plans to release 'Ecstacy' throughout the entire world in its original form. I feel that Hedy Lemarr has no cause for complaint. (Is that so?)

"Had it not been for the skillful exploitation of this film when it was first shown in this country, Hedy Lemarr would not have been a star and probably would have been in some concentration camp up to now." (Can you prove that large claim?).

"We believe 'Ecstacy' is a beautiful artistic film production and should be seen by everyone." (Everybody to his own artistic taste, sir.)

"We are prepared to meet this legal issue and are going ahead with distribution of the film." (How about the sensor issue?)

I was talking to Nancy Carroll and her pretty daughter Patricia Kirkland between acts of "The Druid Circle" when who should come up but Dewitt Bodeen.

"Your play is wonderful," said Nancy, "and I am so happy that Pat is going to do it."

"I tried to get you on the telephone," Dewitt said to me, "to say my play, 'Harvest Of Years,' will probably open December 11 at the Cort Theatre."

And Pat is the first one signed. Dewitt is one of the young writers of whom Hollywood is most proud. He did the screen adaptation of "I Remember Mama" and many of RKO's most important pictures. His play, which had a tryout in Hollywood is excellent.

Snapshots of Hollywood and New York collected at random:

Jose Dorelis is in Hollywood with an anti-Commie book he's written, "Under The Whip," and several major studios are interested. He's Dolly O'Brien's ex, y' know.

The Theatre Guild has Ina Claire for Sam Behrman's new play, "Jane," the romance of a dowdy woman and a handsome young man. Since when was Ina ever dowdy? She'll do this after the run of "Fatal Weakness."

Casey Robinson is calling off "Rain Before Seven"—fascinating to read in book form, but hard to screen. He had Henry Fonda tied up for this but I suppose he'll switch him to some other story now.

Bing Crosby, who does things for charity he can't bestir his bosses to do for other events, will sing with Xavier Cugat's band at the Winter Ball benefit for St. John's Hospital Nov. 22 at the Beverly Hills hotel.

Bob Sterling, who still dates his wife, Ann Sothern, was with Virginia Wells at the Biltmore Bowl last night.

Hedy Lemarr's new interest is Jacques Francois, the young French actor.

CARELESS DRIVING CHARGE DISMISSED

Clarence E. Wolfe, 306 Beall Street, yesterday was acquitted of a careless driving charge in Police Court by Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., after a motorcycle-car collision Sunday was termed unavoidable.

The motor count was placed against Wolfe after the motorcycle operated by Clarence C. Meyers, Route 4, Oldtown Road, crashed against Wolfe's car. Meyers suffered bruises on the forehead and hands.

Careless driving charges against Robert D. Twigg, Route 3, and Leroy Breighner, 137 Elder Street, were also dismissed. Cars operated by the men collided at the intersection of Harrison and Park Streets Sunday morning.

Clement D. Oyre, Brunswick, who posted $10 bond after being arrested for disorderly conduct Saturday night forfeited bond. Glen Winters, Cresaptown, a soldier on leave, received a suspended sentence on a drunk charge. Frank Corrick this city, was given a sentence of five days in the City Jail in default of $5 fine after being convicted of loitering.

Two Men Enlist In Marine Reserve Unit

Two men have been accepted in Company D, Marine Corps Reserve, and three men have made application for service with the unit, according to Lt. Edward H. Walker, inspector-instructor.

Huntley J. S. Fertig, Jr., 36 Laing Avenue, and Daryl R. Mangus, 15 Fifth SEtreet, enisted in the company. James H. Shaffer, Corriganville, and Charles Walter Leslie, Route 5, Fairgo, applied for enlistment, and Jack R. Miller, Corriganville, applied for inactive reserve service.

RAILWAY BREAKS REVENUE RECORD

Operating receipts for the month of October give indications that the Western Maryland Railway broke all monthly records in gross revenues for that month.

An increase of approximately 27 per cent over the same month last year was realized when operating revenues for the month were estimated by the company at about $3,730,000 as compared to $2,949,933 for last year.

The best previous mark for October was $3,023,187 in 1944.

The local railroad was benefited by a continued heavy movement of coal for export from Baltimore.

Coal and coke freight revenues for last month were around $1,820,000, up 32 per cent from a year earlier. Other freight receipts, estimated at $1,765,000, rose 22 per cent.

For the first ten months of 1947, gross was in the neighborhood of $34,600,000, compared with $26,555,986 for the like period a year earlier, an increase of 30 per cent.

Largest gain for the ten months was in coal freight revenues, which rose about 36 per cent to an estimated total of around $16,700,000. Other freight revenues increased 27 per cent to approximately $16,300,000.

Indications are that coal traffic continued at a relatively high level early in November, with revenues from that source rising about 29 per cent over last year in the first week. Other freight receipts, up about eight per cent for the November period, did not maintain the rate of gain over preceding weeks.

The company had the benefit of the interim freight rate increase since the middle of October.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

The Royal Wedding On the Air

The notable ceremony which takes takes place in Westminster Abbey on Thursday will be covered—well, that's hardly the word—it'll be blanketed and possibly suffocated by radio and television. The marriage of Lt. Philip Mountbatten and Princess Elizabeth is one of those events which broadcasters plunge into with magnificent technical competence and a sort of wide-eyed editorial innocence. The only detail of both procession and ceremonw which won't be projected into our homes is the smell of the flowers.

The broadcast, of the the wedding, which the Royal family inconsiderately scheduled for 6 to 8 p. m. E. S. T., will be a pool affair carried over the four networks. Frederick Opper, of ABC., will describe the procession from Buckingham Palace; Howard K. Smith, London correspondent for C. B. S., will pick up the story at Admiralty Arch; Merrill Mueller, N. B. C.'s London news manager. will be stationed just outside the Abbey, where he will describe the procession of the Princess and her bridesmaids.

Only two American radio reporters will be allowed inside the Abbey—Edward R. Murrow, of C. B. S., who will have a happier though not necessarily easier assignment than the London blitz, and Arthur Mann, of Mutual. They will describe the ceremony.

A former British subject, Bob Hope, will be somewhere in the Abbey looking on. His emotional reaction will be expressed, presumably wittily, on the Louella Parsons program over A. B. C. next Sunday.

* * *

These are only the American plans. The international coverage will be far more elaborate. The thickest mass of microphones will be stationed opposite the west door of the Abbey, where twelve commentators, assisted by twenty-two observers, will describe the procession in seven languages—all talking at once. A special control room has been built in the Abbey to handlue the twelve simultaneous commentaries. In addition to being the object of all this international description, Philip and Elizabeth will be on the air personally during the ceremony. Their responses will be picked up by twenty-one microphones, subdued or amplified as the need may be, and then propelled around the world by the magic of radio. Philip had better get it right.

The seven languages, incidentally are French, Dutch, Norwegian, Danish, Italian, Greek and, of course, English. You'll notice there are no Russian, no Bulgarian voices in there to confuse this essentially simple issue with political interpretation. However, there will be a woman (Audrey Russell) to present the woman's point of view which, on the subject of weddings, is international.

* * *

Invitations have been extended to eleven royal houses of Europe—Greece, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Belgium, the Netherlands, Yugoslavia, Romania, Spain, Italy and Luxembourg. No American royalty has been invited but we'll have one royal though uninvited representative on hand—Queen for a Day.

This particular Queen for a Day, Mrs. Rita Benham, of Philadelphia, was selected on the curious radio program of the same name at a gathering of some 14,000 potential Queens at Convention Hall in Philadelphia. Her husband burst into tears. She remained calm. She was hustled to Washington for a passport and sent hurtling across the Atlantic by Clipper, "Queen For a Day" will be stationed somewhere along the line of march where she will deliver a breathless and probably incoherent description of the parade. At least once during this breadcast, she will exclaim: "My feet hurt," and several times she will undoubtedly declare: "I can't see a thing." There will be an attempt to get her into Westminister Abbey. It will fail.

Incidentally, Queen for a Day will take along a wedding gift, a diamond-studded platinum wrist watch, which will take its place alongside all those other wedding gifts—the blue lace garter from Mrs. Ella Wehage, of Somerville, Mass., the ship's decanter filled with water from the "Fountain of Youth," presented by the Florida State Senate, and the ninety-eight blood red rubies from the state of Burma.

The scene outside Westminster Abbey will be televised by the B. B. C. Also, motion pictures of the event will be flown across the Atlantic and will be broadcast over N. B. C.'s television station in New York.

As I see it, all but one small phase is left uncovered. Philip and Elizabeth will not appear on "Honeymoon in New York" to tell us how wonderful it all is.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and Father, John L. Fogle, who passed away five years ago, Nov. 18, 1942.

Memories and treasures none can steal,
Death leaves a heartache none can heal,
Some have forgotten you now that you're gone,
But we will remember you no matter how long.
Flowers we place upon your grave
Will wither and decay,
But love for the one who sleeps beneath
Will never fade away.

Sadly missed by his Mother and Son.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank friends, neighbors and relatives who were so kind to us during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved husband and father, Charles L. McCormick. We also wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and donated cars for the funeral.
MRS. CHARLES L. McCORMICK & CHILDREN.

We wish to thank our friends and relatives who were so kind and helpful to us during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved Mother, Mrs. Annie E. Malloy, Mt. Savage. We also wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and those who loaned cars for the funeral.
THE SONS AND DAUGHTERS.

We wish to take this means to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives who gathered with us to share the sorrow for the reburial of our dear husband and Father, Sgt. Loring M. Cain. We also thank those who sent floral tributes and donated cars for the funeral.
HIS WIFE AND DAUGHTER.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and Father, John L. Fogle, who passed away five years ago, Nov. 18, 1942.

Memories and treasures none can steal,
Death leaves a heartache none can heal,
Some have forgotten you now that you're gone,
But we will remember you no matter how long.
Flowers we place upon your grave
Will wither and decay,
But love for the one who sleeps beneath
Will never fade away.

Sadly missed by his Mother and Son.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank friends, neighbors and relatives who were so kind to us during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved husband and father, Charles L. McCormick. We also wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and donated cars for the funeral.

MRS. CHARLES L. McCORMICK & CHILDREN.

We wish to thank our friends and relatives who were so kind and helpful to us during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved Mother, Mrs. Annie E. Malloy, Mt. Savage. We also wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and those who loaned cars for the funeral.

THE SONS AND DAUGHTERS.

We wish to take this means to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives who gathered with us to share the sorrow for the reburial of our dear husband and Father, Sgt. Loring M. Cain. We also thank those who sent floral tributes and donated cars for the funeral.

HIS WIFE AND DAUGHTER.

Market Responds To President's Message With Mild Irregularity

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—The stock market desponded to the President's message today with mild irregularity and relatively slow dealings.

Activity was lacking from the start as Wall Street awaited the recommendations of the White House regarding European relief and anti-inflation steps.

A certain amount of bidding still was based on the idea that four declining weeks called for a technical rally.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was unchanged at 64.5. Of 929 issues registering, narrowest since September 26, losers numbered 382 and gainers 307.

Alleghany Corporation prior preferred added 1½ at 76 and the preferred 1¼ at 42 on talk of refinancing the former issue. A pleasing year-end disbursement lifted du Pont one at 188.

Modest improvement was retained by United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, American Water Works, Johns-Manville, J. C. Penney, Santa Fe, Southern Railway and Warren Foundry.

New 1947 lows were touched by Consolidated Edison which finished off one-half at 21¼, Eversharp seven-eighths at 10⅞ and Bohn Aluminum one at 29½.

Corporate issues generally continued last week's downward trend in the bond market today, but changes for the most part were limited to fractions.

Heaviest losers in the railroad section included Chesapeake and Ohio 3½s of '96 off one at 102⅝, New Haven income 4½s off 1¼ at 26¾, Northern Pacific 4½s of 2047 off two at 90, Pennsylvania Railroad 3¼s off 1⅛ at 95½.

In other sections of the list American Telephone 2⅜s of '57 advanced one-eighth on heavy sales, Bethlehem Steel 2¾s of '70 were off five-eighths, Pennsylvania Central Airlines 3½s up one-half and Texas Corporation 3s off three-eighths.

World Bank 3s advanced 2-32 to 98 26-32 and the 2 1-4s were up 2-32 at 98 12-32 on the stock exchange. United States governments ranged from 1-32 lower to 2-32 higher in over-the-counter dealings. The Victory Loan 2½s of December 1867-72 were up 2-32 at 101 1-32 bid.

Market Responds To President's Message With Mild Irregularity

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—The stock market desponded to the President's message today with mild irregularity and relatively slow dealings.

Activity was lacking from the start as Wall Street awaited the recommendations of the White House regarding European relief and anti-inflation steps.

A certain amount of bidding still was based on the idea that four declining weeks called for a technical rally.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was unchanged at 64.5. Of 929 issues registering, narrowest since September 26, losers numbered 382 and gainers 307.

Alleghany Corporation prior preferred added 1½ at 76 and the preferred 1¼ at 42 on talk of refinancing the former issue. A pleasing year-end disbursement lifted du Pont one at 188.

Modest improvement was retained by United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, American Water Works, Johns-Manville, J. C. Penney, Santa Fe, Southern Railway and Warren Foundry.

New 1947 lows were touched by Consolidated Edison which finished off one-half at 21¼, Eversharp seven-eighths at 10⅞ and Bohn Aluminum one at 29½.

Corporate issues generally continued last week's downward trend in the bond market today, but changes for the most part were limited to fractions.

Heaviest losers in the railroad section included Chesapeake and Ohio 3½s of '96 off one at 102⅝, New Haven income 4½s off 1¼ at 26¾, Northern Pacific 4½s of 2047 off two at 90, Pennsylvania Railroad 3¼s off 1¼ at 95½.

In other sections of the list American Telephone 2⅜s of '57 advanced one-eighth on heavy sales, Bethlehem Steel 2¾s of '70 were off five-eighths, Pennsylvania Central Airlines 3½s up one-half and Texas Corporation 3s off three-eighths.

World Bank 3s advanced 2-32 to 98 26-32 and the 2 1-4s were up 2-32 at 98 12-32 on the stock exchange. United States governments ranged from 1-32 lower to 2-32 higher in over-the-counter dealings. The Victory Loan 2½s of December 1867-72 were up 2-32 at 101 1-32 bid.

Graham Does Not Expect To Operate Cumberland's Airport Next Year

Leaves Way Open, However, For His Return Here; John Chapman Resigns As Manager

William J. Graham, Pittsburgh, president of Cumberland Airways, Inc., said last night he does not expect his firm to operate the Cumberland Municipal Airport in 1948.

Graham, however, left the way open for his return here with the statement that "he can't be positive" because of factors that may develop by the time his present contract to operate the airport expires December 31.

The Airport Commission, which has had some differences with Graham since he began operation of the field, has advertised for bids for operation of the port, the bids to be opened December 4.

First indication that Graham was closing out his local operation came last night when an advertisement was prepared for publication in this morning's Cumberland News. This advertisement offers 12 airplanes for sale and announces that Cumberland Airways is going out of business.

Chapman Resigns

Meanwhile, John A. Chapman, manager of the local airport for Cumberland Airways, said last night that he has resigned from Graham's business, effective with the expiration of the airport lease, and intends to go to Orangeburg, S. C., to locate with Beverly Howard, nationally known stunt flier and flying school operator in the South.

Chapman, who has been here almost two years, said that in the event he does not associate with Howard he will get out of the aviation business after 14 years and enter another business.

Graham told him a little more than a week ago, Chapman said, that he did not intend to submit another proposal to the local Airport Commission for operation of the airport.

Graham confirmed that last night when he said he does not intend to submit another proposal for "many, many reasons." He added that Cumberland is the only one of his "four or five" other operations that he is planning to close.

Asked if he had submitted a new proposal to the Airport Commission, Graham replied that he had and added that it was not accepted.

Queried as to the terms of the proposal, Graham said he submitted "several" proposals but did not divulge their contents.

The commission considered them, Graham stated, adding that he believes the commission afterward advertised for bids.

Assumed Offer Rejected

Graham acknowledged that he received no communication from the commission rejecting his offer, but said he assumed it was rejected in view of the advertisement for bids.

Informed of Graham's going-out-of-business advertisement, Mayor Thomas S. Post said last night, "As far as I know we didn't receive any bids from him. We advertised for bids because we had none from him."

Thomas Lohr Richards, a member of the Airport Commission, said, "He has given us no proposal at all that has been communicated to the commission."

Ghaham, who said he expects to maintain the local airport up to the last day of the contract—December 31—would not state if differences between himself and the commission, which he said has done a "good job," had anything to do with his decision to leave Cumberland, saying there is "no use stirring up ill feeling or ill will."

Neither did he say flatly that he did not intend to continue operation of the airport next year.

"At the present time I don't expect to be back," he said, qualifying that statement, however, by saying he "can't be positive because of what might develop. I don't believe so now."

Asked if he would accept if he were offered a contract to operate the airport next year, Graham replied, "There are a lot of ifs, ands and buts to be answered before I could answer that."

He said he "no doubt" will meet with the Airport Commission sometime before termination of the present lease.

Graham explained the present status by saying, "We've got to prepare to liquidate. We can't wait

MEXICAN REFUGEES—Benjamin Zareta, 21, (left) and Joseph Martiez, 28, (right), are being held in the County Jail here for federal authorities charged with illegal entry into the United States. The two men surrendered to Westernport police last Saturday, when they could no longer stand the rigors of hunger and cold. They told officers they swam the Rio Grande the night of last October 24, and were attempting to get to New York where they thought they could obtain work. Officials said they will probably be deported.

$10,000 Crossing Damage Suit Will Be Argued Today

Charles Davidson Sues Western Md.

Aerial photographs, weather reports, tapeline measurements, hospital reports, city ordinances and medical testimony were features of an all-day civil suit tried in Circuit Court here yesterday, in which Charles Davidson, 22-year-old veteran of World War II, is seeking $10,000 damages from the Western Maryland Railway Company, as the result of a grade crossing mishap, October 20, 1946.

Testimony was completed in the case, with both the plaintiff and defendant presenting an array of witnesses and shortly before 5 p. m., Associate Judge George Henderson excused the jury until 9:15 a. m. today. Attorneys will begin arguments on prayers before Chief Judge William A. Huster and Judge Henderson. The case will then be argued before the jury, it was indicated.

Davidson, represented by Thomas Lohr Richards and William H. Geppert, testified that his auto was struck by a westbound Western Maryland freight train at 6:30 a. m. October 20, 1946, on the Virginia Avenue crossing.

Heard No Signals

The plaintiff told the jury he did not hear the train's bell or whistle, and that it was a misty, rainy morning and visibility was not good as light of day was just dawning. He said there are no warning devices on the crossing and there was no watchman present.

Davidson who was driving northward toward the city, said he stopped and looked before attempting to cross the tracks, and the train hit the right side of his machine. He said he remembered nothing after the impact and was unconscious in Memorial Hospital for three days, as the result of head injuries. He remained a patient there, he said until November 6, 1946.

The effect of head injuries, the young man said, has caused him to have "fading out spells," and he suffers from loss of memory. He declared when he is working and leaves a job and comes back to it a short time later, he can't remember where he left off. He claimed he cannot remember what

B. & O.'s Freight Handling Facilities Being Enlarged

Cost Is Estimated At About $50,000

Construction of new freight handling facilities at the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's Cumberland freight house on North George Street to expedite less-than-carload merchandise from other points as well as that shipped over the local platform is underway, according to Luther B. Cross, local freight agent for the B. and O.

Cost of the work, started about three weeks ago and expected to be completed around the first of the year, will be in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Present facilities now accommodate 55 cars with scheduled loading of 49 cars. Upon completion of the new facilities, capacity will be increased to about 85 cars with an increase in possible scheduled loading to 60 or 65 cars.

The project is expected to make Cumberland's freight handling facilities equal to some of the larger transfer points on the B. and O.

In addition to some track changes, the work entails construction of a covered platform or island 16 feet wide and 10 car lengths or 440 feet long.

When completed, more freight loaded at various stations in the east and west is expected to be forwarded to Cumberland for consolidation into cars moving to other transfers to the nearest destination, both on the B. and O. and on other lines.

Completion also will mean that local freight forces will be in a position to expedite westbound movement of LCL freight handled over the local platform in Diesel westbound train No. 97, scheduled to leave here at 4:10 p. m. daily for Chicago and other western points.

Handling of westbound merchandise, Cross explained, can be speeded up because handling at several intermediate transfers can be eliminated.

Cumberland is geographically located on the Y of the B. and O. for distribution to the northwest and southwest, Cross said, adding that freight shipped from points in the east and northeast will arrive in the local freight house the second morning after shipment, will be handled the day of arrival and dispatched at 4:10 p. m. the same day, arriving at Chicago the second morning after leaving Cumberland.

Paper Workers Are Praised For Safety Record

Banquet Attended By 75 Persons

Praising the safety record set by the 125 employes of the pulp mill division of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company plant at Luke, Magnus Work said last night that the group "must not rest on its laurels" but must continue its efforts to prevent accidents.

Work, who is safety director at the Celanese plant, was the guest speaker at a banquet given by Albert M. Kaiser, manager of the Luke plant, at Bruce High School in honor of the division, which was the only production unit in the plant to complete the fiscal year ending October 31 without a single lost-time accident.

Paul Bowman, Luke, superintendent of the pulp mill division, said that teamwork was the deciding factor in establishing the record, stating the employes are "fortunate" to have a management that is safety-conscious.

Last night's banquet was attended by 75 persons. A similar dinner and speaking program will be held at the same time and place next Monday evening for the benefit of pulp mill division employes who were unable to attend the first event. John J. Long, safety director, was toastmaster.

Guests included C. N. Dawson, chairman of the division's safety committee; John Clabaugh, superintendent of the paper division; Horace Richards, chairman of the chemical division; Bowman's assistants, Roy Walker, William Phelps, William Seaber and William Stultz; Floyd Davis, superintendent of the power division.

Hugh O'Rourke, personnel director; Dan Staley, training director; Wayne Ritchie, president of Local 676, United Paper Workers of America; Roy Cave, vice president of the local; and Peter Ross, safety inspector.

Allegany County Farm Bureau To Elect Friday

Annual Meeting At LaVale Fire Hall

The annual meeting of the Allegany County Farm Bureau will be held Friday at 7:30 p. m. in the LaVale Fire Hall, J. William Loar, Rawlings, president said last night.

A program of addresses, entertainment, refreshments and the annual election of officers is being arranged, Loar said, with Dr. R. B. Corbett, assistant dean of the College of Agriculture, University of Maryland, as guest speaker. Dr. Corbett is a former secretary of the American Farm Bureau.

The entertainment program will include a ministrel production by Planning Group No. 2 of Eckhart, and group singing will be led by Mrs. Harry J. Barton. The refreshment committee is in charge of Mrs. Lloyd V. Shaw, of Barton.

Loar said reports of Bureau activities for the year will be given, including a report on the first annual Horse Show, and a report on the power spraying program inaugurated this year. Both of these projects were outstanding activities, he stated, and many farmers and dairymen benefited especially from the power spray program. The sprayer was used to combat flies, Japanese beetles and other insects.

At the annual election, a president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer and two directors will be elected. The present vice-president is W. H. Johnson, Willow Brook Road, and secretary-treasurer is Roy Shyrock, Oldtown.

I Speak For Democracy

By DONALD McCOY
Fort Hill High School

This is the first of four prize winning orations in the "I Speak For Democracy" competition, sponsored by the Junior Association of Commerce and the National Association of Broadcasters. This oration, prepared and delivered by Donald McCoy, 937 Pennsylvania Avenue, Fort Hill High School senior, was chosen as the winning oration in county-wide competition:

"I am the Youth of America—and I speak for Democracy. Why does Democracy mean so much to me? Well, maybe it's because I've been brought up under the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. Or maybe—it's because I want to be able to look into the future and see happiness and security. When you say Democracy most people think of laws and government and I suppose they're right—but to me democracy means something more. To me, Democracy is reading the books I want to read and thinking the thoughts I want to think.

"It's a mother's love and ambition for her son; it's the little boy kneeling in church giving thanks for the God-given goodness of the world he sees around him; it's a mind without fear, a faith in fundamental human rights and the dignity and worth of the human person; it's the equal rights of men and women and of nations—large and small; it's social progress and better standards of life in greater freedom; it's the practice of understanding and living together as good neighbors. Democracy is humanity echoing the words of the inspired Walt Whitman:

Comrade, I give you my hand,
I give you my love, more precious than money;
I give you myself before preaching or law;

"I find democracy in many places. I find it in the tune the paper boy whistles as he tosses the paper on the porch. I find it in the little girl on the corner chewing bubble gum and in the clear call of the schoolbell; in the inquiring mind of youth; in the cheering football stadium; in the roar of the printing press; and the conviction of the radio commentator. I find it in the voice of the ballot, in the factory whistle, in the contribution of the scientist and artist, the dreamer and the scholar. I find democracy in the inspiration I get when I stand and sing the Star Spangled Banner.

"Yes I speak for democracy—that noble heritage won with a sword of courage, stained with the blood of our patriots and cleansed with the tears of their loved ones. I'd like to pass this heritage on to the next generation not tarnished but made brighter with careful use; not diminished but made ever greater by its extension to all people everywhere, for democracy is the hope of the world.

"I must be careful how I use my democracy. I must guard against it's abuse and be ever alert lest some force try to snatch my democratic way of life from me. My best guarantee is to see always that I preserve for you and me and all men everywhere — human rights; that I perform my obligations; that I share and build and understand and live in such a way that brotherhood is a living reality.

"Oh they can try me with other ideologies; they can eulogize communism and glorify fascism, but I'll stand firm. They can have their monarchies and their socialism and all the other "isms," but when they say democracy, I'll lift up my head and say—that's my way of life you're talking about—that's for me.

"Always I'll keep alive in my heart that great symbol of democracy the tall lady who stands in New York Harbor, holds high a torch and proclaims to the world the shining generosity of a democratic nation with the words:

"'Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses Yearning to breathe free; The wretched refuse of your teeming shore. Send these the homeless, tempest tossed to me.

I lift my lamp beside the golden door.'

"And so I shall, with my coun-

Liquor Dealers Are Bound By Relatives' Written Requests

Allegany County liquor dispensers who continue to sell alcoholic beverages to intemperate drinkers, after they have been requested not to by relatives, ar subject to a fine of $1,000 or two years in the House of Correction or both, according to the Maryland Acts of 1947.

The law which applies to five counties, but makes Allegany County penalties more severe, decrees that "no licensee shall knowingly give, barter, furnish or sell to a drunkard or to any person whose parents, guardian, husband, wife, son, brother or sister shall have given notice in writing that such person is of intemperate habits and requests such licensee not to furnish or give any intoxicating beverages to him or her."

In the other four counties—Carrol, Charles, Harford and Washington—the maximum fine for the first offense is $50 and for each succeeding offense $100 and 30 days imprisonment.

The regulation is one of a number of liquor laws that applies only in certain counties and requires the seller and consumer to be on guard as they move about from one county to another.

The relative's letter simply has to state to the proprietor that the person involved is a drunkard or of intemperate habits, and the liquor dispenser is legally barred from selling intoxicants to that person.

Dr. Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, and Edgar A. Dashiell, president of the Board of Education, are ex-officio members of the board.

Eugene Williams, Romney Native, To Become W. Md. Railway Head

Veteran To Succeed Brown On January 1

BALTIMORE, Tuesday, Nov. 18 (AP) — Eugene S. Williams, for the last 12 years vice-president and general counsel of the Western Maryland Railway, will become president and chairman of the company's Board of Directors on January 1, the company announced today.

He will succeed Charles W. Brown, whose resignation, to become effective December 31, was accepted yesterday by the Board of Directors. Brown is completing his 13th year as president of the company.

Williams is 54 and a native of Romney, W. Va. He joined the Western Maryland's law department in 1923 as commerce counsel, and became head of the law department in 1934.

He is a veteran of World Wars I and II. A graduate of the University of Virginia, he is president of the institution's alumni board of managers.

Brown, a railroader since 1898, has been associated with the Western Maryland for 17 years. He is 67 and a native of Fort Gaines, Ga.

Garrett Timber Owners Protesting Against Forest Conservancy Law

Public Meeting Is Scheduled Friday

Owners of farms and timberlands in Garrett County have been invited to attend a public meeting to be held Friday, November 21, at 7:30 p. m. in the school auditorium at Accident for discussion of the Forest Conservatory Law, according to Clifford Friend, Accident, chairman of the newly organibed Garrett County Land and Timber Owners' Protective Association.

Friend said handbills protesting the law have been distributed throughout the county, urging timber and land owners to join the association, which was formed about a month ago to fight enforcement of the measure.

The law, passed in 1943 but not yet put into effect, limits timber cutting practices and provides that no desirable species of timber shall be cut that is less than 12 inches in diameter, measured one foot above the average ground level, unless prior approval is obtained from the local forestry board.

Friend declared that the reason Garrett County timber owners are cutting timber to smaller sizes than elsewhere is due to the fact that "we are located close to a market that uses small timber and it is profitable to us to supply what that market uses."

Members of the Garrett County forestry board are Joseph Fahey, Grantsville, chairman; William zy, Crellin; Virgil Storer, and Blain

Graham Does Not Expect To Operate Cumberland's Airport Next Year

Leaves Way Open, However, For His Return Here; John Chapman Resigns As Manager

William J. Graham, Pittsburgh, president of Cumberland Airways, Inc., said last night he does not expect his firm to operate the Cumberland Municipal Airport in 1948.

Graham, however, left the way open for his return here with the statement that "he can't be positive" because of factors that may develop by the time his present contract to operate the airport expires December 31.

The Airport Commission, which has had some differences with Graham since he began operation of the field, has advertised for bids for operation of the port, the bids to be opened December 4.

First indication that Graham was closing out his local operation came last night when an advertisement was prepared for publication in this morning's Cumberland News. This advertisement offers 12 airplanes for sale and announces that Cumberland Airways is going out of business.

Chapman Resigns

Meanwhile, John A. Chapman, manager of the local airport for Cumberland Airways, said last night that he has resigned from Graham's business, effective with the expiration of the airport lease, and intends to go to Orangeburg, S. C., to locate with Beverly Howard, nationally known stunt flier and flying school operator in the South.

Chapman, who has been here almost two years, said that in the event he does not associate with Howard he will get out of the aviation business after 14 years and enter another business.

Graham told him a little more than a week ago, Chapman said, that he did not intend to submit another proposal to the local Airport Commission for operation of the airport.

Graham confirmed that last night when he said he does not intend to submit another proposal for "many, many reasons." He added that Cumberland is the only one of his "four or five" other operations that he is planning to close.

Asked if he had submitted a new proposal to the Airport Commission, Graham replied that he had and added that it was not accepted.

Queried as to the terms of the proposal, Graham said he submitted "several" proposals but did not divulge their contents.

The commission considered them, Graham stated, adding that he believes the commission afterward advertised for bids.

Assumed Offer Rejected

Graham acknowledged that he received no communication from the commission rejecting his offer, but said he assumed it was rejected in view of the advertisement for bids.

Informed of Graham's going-out-of-business advertisement, Mayor Thomas S. Post said last night, "As far as I know we didn't receive any bids from him. We advertised for bids because we had none from him."

Thomas Lohr Richards, a member of the Airport Commission, said, "He has given us no proposal at all that has been communicated to the commission."

Ghaham, who said he expects to maintain the local airport up to the last day of the contract—December 31—would not state if differences between himself and the commission, which he said has done a "good job," had anything to do with his decision to leave Cumberland, saying there is "no use stirring up ill feeling or ill will."

Neither did he say flatly that he did not intend to continue operation of the airport next year.

"At the present time I don't expect to be back," he said, qualifying that statement, however, by saying he "can't be positive because of what might develop. I don't believe so now."

Asked if he would accept if he were offered a contract to operate the airport next year, Graham replied, "There are a lot of ifs, ands and buts to be answered before I could answer that."

He said he "no doubt" will meet with the Airport Commission sometime before termination of the present lease.

Graham explained the present status by saying, "We've got to prepare to liquidate. We can't wait

$10,000 Crossing Damage Suit Will Be Argued Today

Charles Davidson Sues Western Md.

Aerial photographs, weather reports, tapeline measurements, hospital reports, city ordinances and medical testimony were features of an all-day civil suit tried in Circuit Court here yesterday, in which Charles Davidson, 22-year-old veteran of World War II, is seeking $10,000 damages from the Western Maryland Railway Company, as the result of a grade crossing mishap, October 20, 1946.

Testimony was completed in the case, with both the plaintiff and defendant presenting an array of witnesses and shortly before 5 p. m., Associate Judge George Henderson excused the jury until 9:15 a. m. today. Attorneys will begin arguments on prayers before Chief Judge William A. Huster and Judge Henderson. The case will then be argued before the jury, it was indicated.

Davidson, represented by Thomas Lohr Richards and William H. Geppert, testified that his auto was struck by a westbound Western Maryland freight train at 6:30 a. m. October 20, 1946, on the Virginia Avenue crossing.

Heard No Signals

The plaintiff told the jury he did not hear the train's bell or whistle, and that it was a misty, rainy morning and visibility was not good as light of day was just dawning. He said there are no warning devices on the crossing and there was no watchman present.

Davidson who was driving northward toward the city, said he stopped and looked before attempting to cross the tracks, and the train hit the right side of his machine. He said he remembered nothing after the impact and was unconscious in Memorial Hospital for three days, as the result of head injuries. He remained a patient there, he said until November 6, 1946.

The effect of head injuries, the young man said, has caused him to have "fading out spells," and he suffers from loss of memory. He declared when he is working and leaves a job and comes back to it a short time later, he can't remember where he left off. He claimed he cannot remember what

Cost Is Estimated At About $50,000

Construction of new freight handling facilities at the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's Cumberland freight house on North George Street to expedite less-than-carload merchandise from other points as well as that shipped over the local platform is underway, according to Luther B. Cross, local freight agent for the B. and O.

Cost of the work, started about three weeks ago and expected to be completed around the first of the year, will be in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Present facilities now accommodate 55 cars with scheduled loading of 49 cars. Upon completion of the new facilities, capacity will be increased to about 85 cars with an increase in possible scheduled loading to 60 or 65 cars.

The project is expected to make Cumberland's freight handling facilities equal to some of the larger transfer points on the B. and O.

In addition to some track changes, the work entails construction of a covered platform or island 16 feet wide and 10 car lengths or 440 feet long.

When completed, more freight loaded at various stations in the east and west is expected to be forwarded to Cumberland for consolidation into cars moving to other transfers to the nearest destination, both on the B. and O. and on other lines.

Completion also will mean that local freight forces will be in a position to expedite westbound movement of LCL freight handled over the local platform in Diesel westbound train No. 97, scheduled to leave here at 4:10 p. m. daily for Chicago and other western points.

Handling of westbound merchandise, Cross explained, can be speeded up because handling at several intermediate transfers can be eliminated.

Cumberland is geographically located on the Y of the B. and O. for distribution to the northwest and southwest, Cross said, adding that freight shipped from points in the east and northeast will arrive in the local freight house the second morning after shipment, will be handled the day of arrival and dispatched at 4:10 p. m. the same day, arriving at Chicago the second morning after leaving Cumberland.

Paper Workers Are Praised For Safety Record

Banquet Attended By 75 Persons

Praising the safety record set by the 125 employes of the pulp mill division of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company plant at Luke, Magnus Work said last night that the group "must not rest on its laurels" but must continue its efforts to prevent accidents.

Work, who is safety director at the Celanese plant, was the guest speaker at a banquet given by Albert M. Kaiser, manager of the Luke plant, at Bruce High School in honor of the division, which was the only production unit in the plant to complete the fiscal year ending October 31 without a single lost-time accident.

Paul Bowman, Luke, superintendent of the pulp mill division, said that teamwork was the deciding factor in establishing the record, stating the employes are "fortunate" to have a management that is safety-conscious.

Last night's banquet was attended by 75 persons. A similar dinner and speaking program will be held at the same time and place next Monday evening for the benefit of pulp mill division employes who were unable to attend the first event. John J. Long, safety director, was toastmaster.

Guests included C. N. Dawson, chairman of the division's safety committee; John Clabaugh, superintendent of the paper division; Horace Richards, chairman of the chemical division; Bowman's assistants, Roy Walker, William Phelps, William Seaber and William Stultz; Floyd Davis, superintendent of the power division.

Hugh O'Rourke, personnel director; Dan Staley, training director; Wayne Ritchie, president of Local 676, United Paper Workers of America; Roy Cave, vice president of the local; and Peter Ross, safety inspector.

I Speak For Democracy

By DONALD McCOY
Fort Hill High School

This is the first of four prize winning orations in the "I Speak For Democracy" competition, sponsored by the Junior Association of Commerce and the National Association of Broadcasters. This oration, prepared and delivered by Donald McCoy, 127 Pennsylvania Avenue, Fort Hill High School senior, was chosen as the winning oration in county-wide competition:

"I am the Youth of America—and I speak for Democracy. Why does Democracy mean so much to me? Well, maybe it's because I've been brought up under the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. Or maybe—it's because I want to be able to look into the future and see happiness and security. When you say Democracy most people think of laws and government and I suppose they're right—but to me democracy means something more. To me, Democracy is reading the books I want to read and thinking the thoughts I want to think.

"It's a mother's love and ambition for her son; it's the little boy kneeling in church giving thanks for the God-given goodness of the world he sees around him; it's a mind without fear, a faith in fundamental human rights and the dignity and worth of the human person; it's the equal rights of men and women and of nations—large and small; it's social progress and better standards of life in greater freedom; it's the practice of understanding and living together as good neighbors. Democracy is humanity echoing the words of the inspired Walt Whitman:

Comrade, I give you my hand,
I give you my love, more precious than money;
I give you myself before preaching or law;

"I find democracy in many places. I find it in the tune the paper boy whistles as he tosses the paper on the porch. I find it in the little girl on the corner chewing bubble gum and in the clear call of the schoolbell; in the inquiring mind of youth; in the cheering football stadium; in the roar of the printing press; and the conviction of the radio commentator. I find it in the voice of the ballot, in the factory whistle, in the contribution of the scientist and artist, the dreamer and the scholar. I find democracy in the mingling of all races, in the deliberation of the lawmaker and at the table of the United Nations. I find democracy in the inspiration I get when I stand and sing the Star Spangled Banner.

"Yes I speak for democracy—that noble heritage won with a sword of courage, stained with the blood of our patriots and cleansed with the tears of their loved ones. I'd like to pass this heritage on to the next generation not tarnished but made brighter with careful use; not diminished but made ever greater by its extension to all people everywhere, for democracy is the hope of the world.

"I must be careful how I use my democracy. I must guard against it's abuse and be ever alert lest some force try to snatch my democratic way of life from me. My best guarantee is to see always that I preserve for you and me and all men everywhere — human rights; that I perform my obligations; that I share and build and understand and live in such a way that brotherhood is a living reality.

"Oh they can try me with other ideologies; they can eulogize communism and glorify fascism, but I'll stand firm. They can have their monarchies and their socialism and all the other "isms," but when they say democracy, I'll lift up my head and say—that's my way of life you're talking about—that's for me.

"Always I'll keep alive in my heart that great symbol of democracy the tall lady who stands in New York Harbor, holds high a torch and proclaims to the world the shining generosity of a democratic nation with the words:

"'Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses Yearning to breathe free; The wretched refuse of your teeming shore. Send these the homeless, tempest tossed to me.

I lift my lamp beside the golden door.'

"And so I shall, with my coun-

Liquor Dealers Are Bound By Relatives' Written Requests

Allegany County liquor dispensers who continue to sell alcoholic beverages to intemperate drinkers, after they have been requested not to by relatives, ar subject to a fine of $1,000 or two years in the House of Correction or both, according to the Maryland Acts of 1947.

The law which applies to five counties, but makes Allegany County penalties more severe, decrees that "no licensee shall knowingly give, barter, furnish or sell to a drunkard or to any person whose parents, guardian, husband, wife, son, brother or sister shall have given notice in writing that such person is of intemperate habits and requests such licensee not to furnish or give any intoxicating beverages to him or her."

In the other four counties—Carrol, Charles, Harford and Washington—the maximum fine for the first offense is $50 and for each succeeding offense $100 and 30 days imprisonment.

The regulation is one of a number of liquor laws that applies only in certain counties and requires the seller and consumer to be on guard as they move about from one county to another.

The relative's letter simply has to state to the proprietor that the person involved is a drunkard or of intemperate habits, and the liquor dispenser is legally barred from selling intoxicants to that person.

Garrett Timber Owners Protesting Against Forest Conservancy Law

Public Meeting Is Scheduled Friday

Owners of farms and timberlands in Garrett County have been invited to attend a public meeting to be held Friday, November 21, at 7:30 p. m. in the school auditorium at Accident for discussion of the Forest Conservatory Law, according to Clifford Friend, Accident, chairman of the newly organibed Garrett County Land and Timber Owners' Protective Association.

Friend said handbills protesting the law have been distributed throughout the county, urging timber and land owners to join the association, which was formed about a month ago to fight enforcement of the measure.

The law, passed in 1943 but not yet put into effect, limits timber cutting practices and provides that no desirable species of timber shall be cut that is less than 12 inches in diameter, measured one foot above the average ground level, unless prior approval is obtained from the local forestry board.

Friend declared that the reason Garrett County timber owners are cutting timber to smaller sizes than elsewhere is due to the fact that "we are located close to a market that uses small timber and it is profitable to us to supply what that market uses."

Members of the Garrett County forestry board are Joseph Fahey, Grantsville, chairman; William zy, Crellin; Virgil Storer, and Blain
